BOARD TO RULE FOR GEORGE V

SIBERT REPORT JOLTS BOULDER DAM SPONSORS

Finds Many Flaws in Proposals.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The Boulder dam project was severely jolted today by the report of the Sibert engineering board. The full text of the report, following the lines of the summary first disclosed in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was transmitted to congress by Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West.

Its publication caused elation among opponents of the project and jarred the confidence of its sponsors who a few weeks ago expected smooth sailing at this session.

As congress convened at noon today the Boulder dam bill was the unfinished business on the senate calendar, but adjournment was taken after swearing in new members and without attempting to proceed to consideration of legislation.

Smoot Finds Confirmation.

Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], who made the principal attack upon the original engineering plans in the last session, asserted that the report sustains and confirms each of his main criticisms. He said that there must now be further study of the entire problem of Colorado river development before congress can take action.

"The board suggests a new plan of construction, under which the diversion of water at the dam site would be doubled, the pressure on the dam foundations reduced by one-fourth and a new plan of cofferdam construction followed," Senator Smoot said. "It, of course, has never been contended that a dam could not be built at this site at some cost and in some manner. Given time and money enough, engineering skill in the United States can achieve all but the impossible.

"I am gratified, however, to find that, as a result of an investigation and study which I advocated, the United States government is to avoid an engineering experiment which might have resulted in one of the greatest man-made disasters in history. Had congress authorized this project under the old plan, and had it been proceeded with, the destruction of life and property might have been appalling.

Economic Plan Infeasible.

"Not only does the board sustain and confirm the criticisms of this project which I made from the engineering standpoint, but they also find, as I contended, that the economic plan on which the legislation is based is infeasible and impossible of accomplishment.

"The proponents of this measure have for years vigorously contended that it would be self-supporting and financially solvent and 'would not cost the government one cent.' The board finds, however, that without the elimination of the cost of the all-American canal, an item of $49,000,000, and the reduction of 'all or a part of the cost properly chargeable to flood protection, it will be impossible to meet operation, maintenance, interest and sufficient sinking fund to retire the cost of the project within a 50 year period.'

Sees It as Only Experiment.

"This, of course, means that the basic argument for the construction of the enormous dam proposed, which argument has been that the dam was necessary in order to secure the power with which to pay for the project, has been found to be untrue.

"If the construction of the dam is to be justified now, it must be justified, as I have contended, simply and wholly as an experiment in the construction by the government of the greatest power dam ever conceived. Power, instead of being, as heretofore represented, the 'burden bearer' of the project, is now found to be able to bear no more than the burden of its own cost, and that only conditionally.

"The cost of the project as authorized in the bill which passed the house is found to be $51,000,000 greater than the estimate. The old plan of construction proposed is found unsafe and infeasible. The economic performance of the project, as planned and represented, is found infeasible and impossible."

Trouble Over Irrigation Rights.

Senator Smoot said that the finding of the board that the estimates of the flow of the Colorado river are exceedingly uncertain and probably too high raises a serious question as to the protection of the irrigation rights of the interested states. This question, as well as the matter of an agreement with Mexico and other phases

13,000 Teachers Go Payless Today

SCHOOL CHECKS MUST AWAIT ACTION BY CITY

Aldermen to Act on Loan Tomorrow.

Thirteen thousand Chicago public school teachers will not receive their customary pay checks today. H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board, announced last night that the board will be unable to meet its $3,500,000 pay roll.

"No matter what happens, the schools will stay open," Mr. Caldwell asserted, "but the teachers will have to wait a day or two for their two weeks' pay. We cannot pay them until the city council acts and that will not be until Wednesday, I am informed. We are making every effort to secure speedy action."

The situation was viewed with gloom at the school board offices last night. With the Christmas shopping season already here, it was pointed out, a delay of even two or three days on their salaries will be a hardship to many teachers. In addition to the delay in paying the teachers, the school board also will continue to hold up the payment of $250,000 in bills due for electricity, fuel, and other items.

City May Refuse Aid.

There was also concern among the school officials over reports from the city hall that favorable action by the council tomorrow is by no means certain. Ald. John Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee, said the city will want "positive assurance" that its money will be secure. He said the city's street car fund must be safeguarded in any event. The street car fund is one of the city's resources from which it is proposed to lend the school board $6,000,000 in tax warrants.

The financial plight of the school board first came to public attention a week ago when it was announced that the banks had refused to accept further 1928 school tax warrants because of the uncertainties in tax collection this year, although legally the board may borrow $12,000,000 more on warrants. Several conferences of city and school officials followed and a plan was devised whereby the city would buy $6,000,000 worth of the additional warrants, providing enough money to meet December expenses. Corporation Counsel Ettelson, in an opinion, held that the city could buy the warrants. He further held, however, that the council must pass an ordinance authorizing the city treasurer to purchase them.

Mr. Ettelson's opinion was rendered Saturday, but the council does not meet until tomorrow. The teachers' pay day is today.

Who's to Blame for Delay?

School board officials last night were inclined to blame the city officials for failure to act in time to avert the pay roll delay. They pointed out that Mr. Caldwell, at a conference Friday, demanded a special meeting of the city council yesterday, but that the representatives of the city law department told him that it was not necessary and that the warrants could be purchased without council action. Then, in his written opinion the next day, they said, Mr. Ettelson held that council action is necessary.

The city officials, on the contrary, blamed the school authorities for waiting until the last minute before making their predicament known.

"I don't know what was said between Mr. Ettelson and Mr. Caldwell," Ald. Clark asserted, "but I do know this: There has been no authoritative request from anybody for a special council meeting. In fact, there is nothing before us even for the meeting Wednesday. I have been and am still waiting for a request from somebody. It seems to me the initiative should come from the school trustees."

Four Steps Necessary.

Four steps must be taken, Ald. Clark pointed out, before the cash needed for the teachers' pay rolls can be actually placed in the school board treasury. The city controller must issue the $6,000,000 worth of warrants, the council must authorize the treasurer to buy them and designate the funds to be used, Mayor Thompson must sign the council's ordinance, and the treasurer must buy the warrants.

BLACKHAND NOTE SUSPECT CAUGHT BY DECOY TIN CAN

Early in November Mrs. Lucy Glos and Mrs. S. C. Day, wealthy widows living in Elmhurst, received crudely written notes decorated with the symbol of the Black Hand and informing them that unless they paid $25,000 their homes would be bombed.

Mrs. Day left for Florida a little later. Mrs. Glos remained. A few days ago she received a second note, informing her that it was her last chance. She was to put the sum demanded in a can and hide the receptacle in a lot at Church street and Kenilworth avenue.

The police were notified of the new threat and Chief John Martens stuffed a can with paper, placed it as ordered and then put a guard at the scene. Last night a man slipped into the lot and took the decoy tin. He was arrested. A test of his hand writing showed, the chief said, that he was the author of the notes. He is William Humar, 20 years old, 485 West 2d avenue, Elmhurst. A hearing was held before Magistrate George W. Clark and Humar was held to the Du Page county grand jury in bonds of $20,000.

Girl Sues Cop; His Love Notes Tell of Graft

A $50,000 breach of promise suit was filed in the Superior court yesterday by Miss Ruth Broderick, a cabaret entertainer, against Howard L. Cleveland, a policeman recently transferred from the office of Deputy Commissioner James L. Mooney to the West Chicago avenue station. Love letters purporting to have been written by the defendant to the plaintiff were filed with the suit.

A letter dated Sept. 9, last, and made a part of the pleading, reads in part: "Well, baby, there isn't anything new here. I sat in the captain's office all yesterday listening to the Cubs' ball game over the radio and last night, after I was through work, my old partner, Buck, and myself went over in the Des Plaines street district and got a still. But, as usual, it belongs to the mob that we get a monthly consideration from, $10. It seems as though everything I run into belongs to a syndicate. Well, the old saying is keep on trying; I may connect with a good thing some day."

Writes "Things Look Better."

Another letter, dated Sept. 7, after four paragraphs protesting an ardent love, reads:

"Well, Honey, things are beginning to look a little better in Chicago. It looks like things may open up a little since the mayor got back. I got connected with one of the big bosses of the gambling outfit on the northwest side and was made some promises, if things open up a little. We haven't been quite so active as we have been."

An epistle bearing the date of Aug. 24 reads in part:

"You remember me telling you that I would soon have a job where I would be making good money and everything would be roses for you and me. Well, I now have that job and have had it for a week. I am working out of Deputy Commissioner Mooney's office on vice and gambling.

New Chief "Tightens Up."

"No, I did not go to see the Malone fight. I don't get a chance to go any place right now. We have a new chief of police and he is tightening up on everything, so it is up to us to close everything before the squads from his office do."

The "new chief of police," presumably, is William Russell, who succeeded Michael Hughes as commissioner.

Miss Broderick said she met Policeman Cleveland on June 28, 1924, when she was a witness in a murder case. She was singing in a west side cabaret at the time. On the following Sept. 23, according to the pleading as drawn by Attorney Harry X. Cole, the policeman proposed marriage.

14 DIE AS PLANE FALLS 300 FEET TO BAY NEAR RIO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 3.—While flying over Guanabara bay, the Condor syndicate passenger plane Santos-Dumont, with fourteen people, most of them socially and politically prominent Brazilians, fell from a height of 300 feet near Cobras island. As the huge plane hit the water an explosion was heard and the machine sank. Except for one mechanic, who died later, all the victims went down with the plane. The machine was picked up this afternoon by a dredger but only five bodies have been recovered. Six are still missing. The dead:

Prof. Tobias Moscoso, director of Rio Polytechnic school for engineers; Ferdinano Labouriau and Antonio Amoroso, professors in the same school; Paulo Castro Maia, newspaper man; Deputy Amaury de Medeiros; Pilots Pachen and Anel and Mechanics Haschaft and Butzhe; Senhor Auth, newspaper man; Agel Araujo, an official of the syndicate, and his wife; Enrico Coutinho, newspaperman; and Maj. Eduardo Vallo, a member of the Austrian mission of instruction in the geographic service of the Brazilian army. During the search for the bodies a Brazilian diver, whose air line was cut while he was at the bottom, was killed.

The plane was en route to meet the noted Brazilian aviator, Aldeberto Santos-Dumont, who was returning home on the steamship Cap Ancona. He arrived at Santos at noon but the reception for him was simple. He agreed to suspend all the festivities owing to the disaster.

PREDICTED COLD SNAP DWINDLES ON WAY HERE

Clouded skies will prevail in Chicago today and snow will fall before night, according to the official weather forecast, but temperatures will be only moderately now. An earlier forecast had indicated that the mercury might fall to 15 above zero, but later reports showed an expectation of a mark only a few degrees below freezing.

In the northwest yesterday severe cold was registered, the low at Bismark, N. D., being 8 below zero. The cold overspread many parts of the middle west, but in modified form. Considerable falls of snow were reported in southern Minnesota and South Dakota.

Swanson Takes Office; Board 'Gets Religion'

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

John A. Swanson became state's attorney of Cook county yesterday. Immediately thereafter the board of county commissioners held a long and exciting session, climaxed by the appropriation of $225,000 to pay expenses of the special grand jury investigation.

None was more eager to vote the new prosecutor financial aid than the commissioners who blocked the voting of $150,000 for the special grand jury last May. John W. Gibson, who then was a most bitter opponent of the grand jury investigation, hastened yesterday to suggest that the amount of $200,000 named in the resolution be raised to $225,000. John W. Jaranowski, Andrew C. Metzger, Frank Kriz and Maurice F. Kavanagh, who thought the appropriation was "illegal" last May, sputtered in their anxiety to second Mr. Gibson's motion.

Get Religion Overnight.

Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst was moved to sarcasm at this spectacle. "I'll raise the ante to $250,000 as long as we're all getting in under the wire," he remarked. "I notice Gibson has got religion overnight. It's unusual that that should happen today of all days."

Mr. Gibson retorted wrathfully while the other commissioners, including President Anton J. Cermak, who had voted in behalf of the appropriation last summer, enjoyed the argument. The $225,000 appropriation was passed unanimously.

The usual crowd of minor politicians and hangers-on watched the commissioners, first at a meeting of the finance committee and then at the regular board meeting. They noted the apparent solicitude shown by Commissioners Gibson and others that county funds be not spent unwisely.

Order Quiz of Pay Rolls.

An investigation of pay rolls in the county clerk's and assessors' offices was ordered. There was much indignation evinced at the submission of a bill by five architects for $100 a day for inspection of the new county jail and Criminal courts building. It was voted not to spend the usual $18,000 this year in sending Christmas baskets to the poor because, it was revealed, many families had been getting three and more baskets.

A contract for lighting fixtures in the new courts building, which has held up completion of the project since last summer, mainly, it was charged, because of political bidding for the job, was awarded.

Mrs. Salomea Jaranowski, retiring recorder and wife of Commissioner Jaranowski, sent in a check for $612 to the board, explaining that it was interest received on trust funds which she might keep legally, but wished to return to the county.

Erickson Sends In Interest.

A few minutes later a letter was read from Samuel E. Erickson, retiring Superior court clerk, which announced the return of $1,912 interest on moneys kept in his possession. Mr. Erickson had never done this before, and the board voted him a letter of thanks.

President Cermak read his annual message, citing achievements of the year. He declared that Cook county built twice as many miles of new and wider pavement in 1928 than was ever built before in any year. Whereupon the commissioners, with expanded chests, adjourned after three hours of steady work.

State's Attorney Swanson and his first assistant, Frank J. Loesch, appeared before the finance committee when it was considering the grand jury appropriations. They were welcomed warmly.

Will It Be Enough?

"The committee is 100 per cent with you on this resolution calling for $200,000," said Commissioner Harry Newby, chairman of the finance com

COUNCIL OF 4 TO HANDLE ALL CROWN DUTIES

Doctors Say King Is Slightly Better.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The king's physicians, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, issued this official bulletin today: "The king has passed a quieter night. Though anxiety concerning his heart must continue, the improvement noted last evening is so far satisfactorily maintained."

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A privy council was held at Buckingham palace this morning. It was presumed the council had been called in connection with the appointment of a commission, which, it is understood, it has been decided to name to act for the king in signing state papers.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The Daily Mail says decision has been reached to appoint a commission to act for the king, as was done when his majesty was absent from England after his illness in March, 1925. Discussion of the commission began several days ago, the paper adds, and decision was based on the present serious character of the sovereign's illness.

This procedure is based on precedents which enable the use of the royal sign manual to be dispensed with when the sovereign, owing to illness, is unable to affix his signature.

When circumstances make it necessary thus to "put the crown in commission" the sovereign, if able, attends a meeting of the privy council and formally authorizes the act. Since King George now is obviously unable to do this, advantage will be taken of provision for other procedure.

Will Have Royal Powers.

This provision lays down that such a commission may be appointed by letters patent whereto the great seal of the kingdom has been affixed. The lord chancellor is ex-officio the custodian of the great seal.

Such a commission possesses all the powers necessary for carrying on the administration in the name of the king. The commissioners bear the title "counsellors of state" and their appointment is announced by proclamation. Although employing most of the powers possessed by the sovereign, they are specifically debarred from some, notably that of dissolving parliament, and are unable to grant any rank, title or dignity.

It is understood the commission would comprise the Lord Chancellor, the Premier, the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Duke of York.

Difficulties are said already to have arisen during the King's illness regarding the signing of state papers, scores of which go to the king for approval and signature in the ordinary course of every week.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The next forty-eight hours probably will decide the fate of King George. After an anxious week-end, during which the doctors for the first time reported a weakening action of the British king's heart, today's bulletins record a slight but definite improvement. The spirits of the monarch's subjects have risen again tonight and high hopes are once more held for his recovery.

Tonight's bulletin from the Buckingham palace reads as follows:

"A slight improvement in his majesty's condition, noted this morning, has been maintained. His temperature is near normal, but it is necessary to emphasize that the anxiety concerning his heart still persists." The report was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, Sir Humphrey Rolleston, and Lord Dawson of Penn.

Consultation Lasts Two Hours.

Sir Humphrey and Sir Farquhar left the palace shortly after the bulletin was issued, but Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson stayed on some time longer. The consultation lasted two hours.

It is stated in well informed circles tonight the pleurisy has disappeared and the king's constitution is making a stern fight against weakness.

Despite the new hopefulness, there is no concealing the fact, however, that all depends on the strength of the king's heart, and it will be touch and go for a couple of days.

During last night the doctors were constantly in attendance and small quantities of oxygen and digitalis were administered. This, they were careful to explain, is the ordinary treatment of such cases and does not indicate the king is in extreme danger.

Queen Mary and Princess Mary remained up all night awaiting news of any change in the husband and father's condition. The queen also omitted her usual auto ride this afternoon and remained near her husband's bedside.

5,000 Cheer Better News.

A crowd of more than 5,000 people were waiting at the palace this morning when the first bulletin was posted, and a cheer was raised when it was seen that it was more favorable. The bulletin read as follows:

"The king has had three hours of quieter sleep since the issuing of the last bulletin. His temperature is now 99.8 and there is a slight improvement in his general condition." The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn.

First news of the improvement was communicated to the queen, who was anxiously awaiting news, and a distinct air of relief was apparent among all the palace officials.

One of the first visitors this morning was Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who waited to hear the result of the doctor's examination and went away smiling. The duke and duchess of York postponed the visit they were to have made to Birmingham tomorrow, until Thursday and will remain in town.

More Confidence at Palace.

Sir William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary, speaking before the Constitutional club today said:

"News of the king today is that he is slightly better. I don't want for one moment to deceive any of you, and say his illness is over. Things were serious last night, but I was at the palace this morning and there is undoubtedly a feeling in the air, so to speak, that the king is better today than yesterday. I can only hope even this slight improvement will continue and that his constitution will enable him to pull through the weakness which must ensue from an illness of this kind."

Prince's Race Home Dramatic.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—All England has been profoundly stirred by the drama of the dash of the prince of Wales, and his brother, the duke of Gloucester, to the bedside of King George where the nation is keeping an anxious vigil as his majesty is making a gallant fight for life.

The king's "boys," as he lovingly calls them, tonight were speeding from the far off hunting fields of Africa to reach his side. Somewhere along the eastern coast of the dark continent north of Dar-es-Salaam, the fast British war ship Enterprise was ploughing homeward at full speed with his majesty's eldest son and heir aboard.

Will Reach Home Dec. 13.

Although the prince is speeding home as rapidly as possible it probably will not be before Dec. 12 or 13 that he will reach London. Throughout the long trip he will be in constant touch with his mother, Queen Mary, and the royal family by radio.

Far ahead at Alexandria, Egypt, another cruiser was waiting to meet him and even a flying boat has been prepared in the event that it should be advisable for him to complete the latter part of his journey by air.

Duke Uses Canoe and Train.

In the meanwhile news of the king's grave illness was brought by runners to the duke of Gloucester down in the Bangweulu swamps of northern Rhodesia where he was hunting. It was typical that the young duke should immediately make a break for rail communication by means of a canoe which was the fastest transport available.

The duke's race will be fraught with difficulties, but like his brother, the prince of Wales, he never gives ground at obstacles.

England can scarce remember such another tragic drama and it has stirred her to the depths.

Drinks Health from Bottle.

BWANA NKABWA, Rhodesia, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The duke of Gloucester passed through here today on a train bound for Victoria falls. He seemed in good spirits.

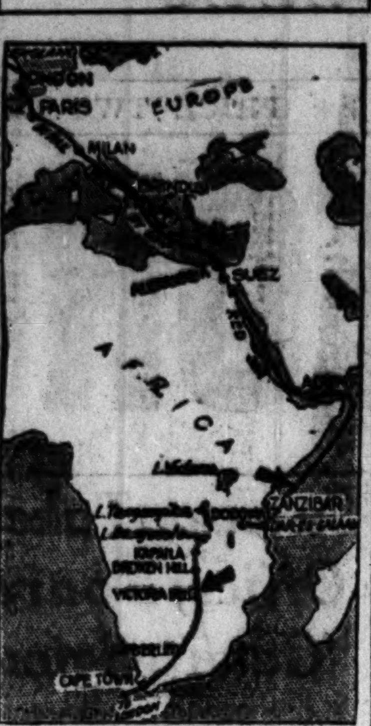
The duke was taking a bath as the train pulled into the station. When he greeted the local reception committee, he was garbed in a dressing gown and was briskly rubbing the moisture from his face and hands.

Drinking the health of the duke being in order, he smilingly tipped a bottle to his lips and passed it to members of the committee who were unanimous in declaring him a jolly good fellow.

Will Enthrone Archbishop.

CANTERBURY, England, Dec. 3.—(AP)—After the issuance of the more encouraging bulletin on the condition of King George tonight, it was decided to hold the ceremony of enthronement of the new archbishop of Canterbury tomorrow as arranged. During the day it had been feared that the illness of his majesty might cause a postponement.

SPEED TO KING



The prince of Wales and his brother, the duke of Gloucester, are making dramatic races home from the heart of Africa to the bedside of King George. The prince is aboard the fast cruiser Enterprise, somewhere in the Indian ocean, speeding north from Dar-es-Salaam, East Africa, to Suez. He will join another cruiser at Alexandria and sail to Brindisi, Italy, where he will take a train or flying boat for England.

The duke was hunting in the Bangweulu swamps of northern Rhodesia when runners reached him with news of the serious turn in the king's illness. He reached a railway by canoe and is on his way to Victoria Falls for transfer to a train to Cape Town, from where he will take a fast mail boat or a cruiser.

Shows Handicap of King's Doctors

Dean D. J. Davis of the University of Illinois college of medicine, a prominent authority on bacteriology, issued a statement yesterday, which points out the reasons for the inability of physicians to cope with the present condition of King George of England.

"Severe respiratory diseases are still the cause of much sickness and many deaths," he said. "The most important of these is pneumonia. It results commonly from colds, bronchitis, and influenza.

"Pneumonias are of several kinds and caused by a number of different germs. The pneumococcus is the most frequent cause. There are four kinds or groups of them. Some are very highly fatal; others less so.

"Some progress has been made with an antitoxin for the first group. Little or no progress has been made for the other varieties. Certain kinds of streptococci also not infrequently cause pneumonia, and especially pleurisy. A great field is open here for investigation and study as to the predisposing factors in causing pneumonia and into the treatment of this disease.

"The king of England has been suffering for some time with it. In his case, the course of the disease has gone on apparently quite unaffected by any procedure tried.' The infection in his case is, no doubt, due to one of the varieties of the pneumococcus above referred to, or possibly to the streptococcus.

"If we had a successful serum or antitoxin, such a case should lend itself readily to treatment. It would be comparable to treating a case of diphtheria with antitoxin. But thus far, success has not been obtained with these particular germs.

"It illustrates, too, what might be done by experimentation, especially upon control animals. Most of the progress in this field has been made by the discovery and production of antitoxins. Guinea pigs, rabbits, mice and horses particularly, lend themselves to experimental work whereby we may hope in the future to discover antitoxins effective in such cases as that of the king. It is called to our attention particularly when we see the lives of great men endangered or destroyed by diseases which would appear to lend themselves to successful treatment, if only these diseases had been intensively studied and suitable experiments made.

Man Charged with Robbing Girl Is Granted Jury Trial

George Michaels, 21 years old, who was arrested by Police Lieut. James Kerr on a Madison street car and charged with the robbery of Miss Nellie Frichtor, 1065 West Monroe street, was granted a jury trial yesterday when he was arraigned in the Des Plaines street court.

Parole Board Hears Pleas of Two Bank Embezzlers

The cases of Peter Hein and John F. O'Connell, sentenced last spring for stealing $250,000 from The South Side Trust and Savings bank, where they were employed, were before the parole board in Joliet yesterday. A representative of the bank stated no objection would be made.

3 SAND BOATS CAUSE HALF OF BRIDGE DELAYS

Found Responsible for 947 of 1,994 Openings.

Three sandboats—the Gilbert, the Sandmaster, and the American—were found yesterday to be responsible for nearly half of the bridge openings on the main branch of the Chicago river, causing loss of time and money and inconvenience to the street traveling public.

The Gilbert is owned by the Lake Sand corporation, the Sandmaster by the Construction Materials company, and the American by the American Sand and Gravel company.

An investigation of records in the office of Harbor Master Charles Agnew disclosed that from Dec. 1, 1927, to Dec. 1, 1928, these three sandboats alone forced the opening of the Michigan avenue link bridge 947 times. The total number of openings of the span during the twelve months period was 1,994. The inquiry further revealed that sandboats, derricks, dredges, pile drivers, and yachts, all small craft, caused 1,371 openings, while the openings for steamers were comparatively negligible.

Aldermen Seek Remedy.

The statistics were prepared for Ald. John Toman [23d], sponsor of an ordinance intended to keep all bridges on the main river closed from 6 a. m. until midnight. The ordinance is now pending before Ald. Guy Guernsey's committee on harbors, wharves and bridges.

By far the worst offender on the river, the survey showed, is the sandboat Gilbert, which during the year forced the Michigan avenue bridge up 497 times, or an average of more than once a day the year round, Sundays and holidays included. Some days the Gilbert tooted up and down the river four or five times, bearing a cargo of sand one way and returning empty. The time records showed that the Gilbert kept the link bridge open 330 hours, or about a day and a half, while automobiles jammed for blocks in each direction awaiting its passage.

The Construction Materials company craft, the Sandmaster, ranked second with 256 openings of the bridge during the year and the American third with 188 openings.

Other Bridges Also Opened.

The figures were compiled only for the Michigan avenue bridge. On each one of their trips the sandboats also forced up the spans at State, Dearborn, Clark, and Wells streets and five to ten other bridges on the north or south branch of the river. The total forfeit made by the public because of street traffic delays during the year was estimated by Ald. Toman at millions of dollars or many times the worth of the boats or the profits made by their owners.

Next to the sandboats, the worst offender was the car ferry operated by the Erie railroad, which, prior to April 1, averaged two trips through the main river bridges a day, a total of 134 trips between Dec. 1 and April 1. On the latter date the Erie road, yielding to public indignation, took the ferry out of service.

Other Craft Cause Delay.

Openings caused by other minor craft during the year were as follows:

Derricks	123
Pile Drivers	48
Dredges	30
Scows	15

The statistics demonstrated clearly that, were the sandboats and other craft listed above removed from the river, the bridge problem would be virtually solved. Miscellaneous craft, including steamers, opened the Michigan avenue bridge only 597 times during the year. This is less than 30 per cent of the total. The sandboats, derricks and so on were responsible for the other 70 per cent.

It was further shown that during the three winter months use of the river by steamers ceases almost entirely while the minor boats keep up their trips. In December eighty-seven small craft and six steamers went through the Michigan avenue bridge; in January seventy-four minor craft and four steamers; in February sixty-seven minor craft and one steamer. In other words, during the entire three months only seven trips through the bridge were made by boats bearing lake going cargoes.

Wants Winter Closings.

"There is no reason whatever why all bridges cannot be fixed for the winter," asserted Ald. Toman. "Nobody would be hurt but the owners of the little, two by four boats. None of the big steamship lines would object."

Ald. Toman pointed out that a fixed bridge policy in winter not only would prevent traffic jams and save the public's time and money but also would be a considerable saving to the city. The cost of operating swing bridges is approximately $750,000 a year. This expense would be reduced by one-fourth if the bridges were kept down during December, January, and February.

List Steamers Causing Delay.

Among the steamers who contributed to the open bridge nuisance during the year were:

..The Budd, Sargent, Conners, Milwaukee, Chicago, and Utica, all owned by the Great Lakes Transit corporation of Buffalo.

The Kearsage, Orr, and Dalwarnic, owned by the Canada, Atlantic Transit company of Montreal.

The T. S. Christie, owned by the Interlake Steamship company of Cleveland.

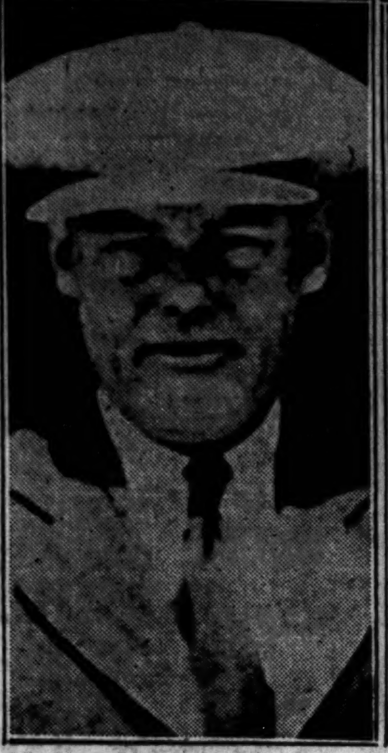
Each of these vessels passed through the Michigan avenue bridge from 10 to 100 times each during the year.

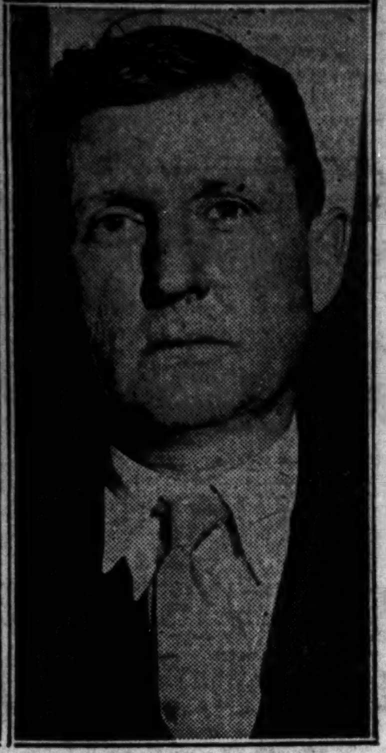
Owners of all the vessels of all types will be invited to the hearings of the harbors, wharves, and bridges committee, Ald. Guernsey has announced. They will be asked to explain what cargoes they carry, the value of the cargoes, and give other explanation to show why they should be allowed to levy a daily tax upon thousands of persons using the traffic arteries in and out of the loop.

BOY SHOT TRYING HIS FIRST HOLDUP WITH PHONEY GUN

YOUTH SHOT IN FIRST HOLDUP



NORMAN CLARK.



WILLIAM L. WHALEY.

Makes Debut as Robber Near Own Home.

A 19 year old youth, critically wounded in his first attempted holdup, last night lay on a cot in the Bridewell hospital, moaning for his mother. His father had spurned the boy and his mother did not go to his bedside.

The wounded youth is Norman Clark. After supper last night he stepped out the back door of his parents' home at 2653 Mildred avenue, got a short length pipe from the woodshed, and hid behind a telephone post in the alley, ready for his first try for easy money.

"Victim" Is Armed.

Down the alley came William L. Whaley, chief electrician for the Continental National bank, a citizen who takes no chances with robbers. Whaley was on his way from his home at 920 Marianna street to his garage in the alley to drain the radiator of his car. In his right hand, he carried a blue steel pistol with the trigger cocked.

The gun was invisible in the shadows as young Clark stepped from behind the post with his pretended pistol in hand. Clark shoved out the pipe and shouted "Stick 'em up." Whaley fired, his bullet entering the amateur robber's right arm and through his shoulder, where it was deflected by a bone and lodged an inch from his spine.

Parents Hear Shot.

Inside the house, the boy's parents were discussing the mysterious disappearance the night before of $10 from behind the clock on the mantel, when they heard the report of the shot. The father, William Clark, rushed out to find his son lying in the alley while his intended victim bent over him, trying to stanch the blood with a handkerchief.

Ten minutes later, in the emergency room of the Chicago General hospital, the boy turned painfully on his side and begged forgiveness of his father.

"Boy, you've disgraced your mother and me, who have tried to do everything for you," the father said. "You stole the last $10 your mother had last night and now you want forgiveness. You got what you deserved."

Norman was removed to the Bridewell hospital, where the physicians said he had a slim chance for life. Towards midnight the elder Clark relented enough to telephone the hospital for news.

"I don't wish the boy's death; I want him to live," Clark said. "If he lives this may be a lesson to him."

MASSMEETING FLAYS CORRUPT SERVICE, WASTE

Resolutions protesting against waste of public funds by the city, sanitary district, and other local governmental bodies were passed last night at a taxpayers' meeting in Trianon ballroom called by the Associated Woodlawn clubs.

George O. Fairweather, business manager of the University of Chicago and chairman of the joint commission on real estate valuation, opened the meeting with an address in which he called on State's Attorney John A. Swanson to wipe out corruption in public office. He declared that "unclean politics is the cause of unfair tax bills." Continuing, he said:

"Many years ago a band of crooked officials was sent to Joliet and the town took a moral bracer in decent administration that lasted for years. I would like to have Mr. Swanson charged by you to start a trek down the drainage canal of these unfaithful servants whose accountability cannot stand the test of public inquiry."

The resolutions urged that the local governments be compelled to grant inspection of records to the press and civic organizations and that no tax increases be granted until assessment has been placed on a legal, uniform basis.

London Night Club Queen Held on 'Corruption' Charge

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Kate Merrick, "night club queen" and mother-in-law of two young members of the British nobility, was arraigned in Bow street police court today along with Police Sergeant Goddard and Luigi Chille Ribuffi, proprietor of an all-night restaurant. The three were charged with violating the prevention of corruption act. Goddard is accused of receiving bribes from night clubs and other resorts. He was said to have had three safety deposit boxes, one of which was found to contain $60,000 in banknotes, some of which were traced to Ribuffi and others to Mrs. Merrick. Mrs. Merrick was released from prison on Nov. 22 after serving a six months' sentence for violation of the license law.

Report Bulgarian King Plans Trip to Get Wife

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Dec. 3.—King Boris is leaving this month for a trip abroad. It is reported in government court circles that the bachelor monarch again is seeking a bride, in order to give the nation a queen and heir. Princess Giovania of Italy is again mentioned in this connection.

FATHER TRIES TO ENTER HOME; IS SHOT BY SON

William Giersch, 46 years old, 3430 McLean avenue, was shot in the left side and left wrist last night by his son, Norman, 19 years old, while attempting to break into a house at 2023 Pierce street where the Giersch family had sought refuge three days ago. The father was taken to the county hospital where his wounds were pronounced not serious. At the West North avenue police station the son declared that he, his mother and younger sister, left their home last Saturday to escape their father's continued abuse of his wife.

Agree on $600,000,000 First National Bank Merger

BY O. A. MATHER.

Consolidation of the First National bank and its subsidiary, the First Trust & Savings bank, with the Union Trust company has been agreed on. Details of deal, which joins two of Chicago's oldest and largest institutions, have been practically completed. A formal announcement is expected today or tomorrow.

The merger will give Chicago two of the largest banks in the United States. Total assets of the First National-Union Trust combination will approach $600,000,000, total deposits will be nearly $500,000,000 and capitalization will be about $70,000,000. It will be second only to the recently announced Continental-Illinois Merchants merger.

Negotiate for Year.

The First National-Union Trust merger brings to a successful conclusion negotiations that have extended over a year. They have been based on the rapid growth of Chicago and its present place of the middle west capital of trade and finance. This growth has made larger aggregations of banking capital desirable and necessary.

The merged institutions will occupy the present building occupied by the First National banking group, which front on Dearborn, Monroe and Clark streets. The banking quarters have been enlarged and remodeled in the last year into one of the most pretentious bank floors in the country.

Rawson May Be Chairman.

Officials of both banks were reticent in discussing the terms of the consolidation last night, pending the final signing of papers and completion of last minute details. It was reported in La Salle street that Frederick H. Rawson, now chairman of the Union Trust, will become chairman of the First National; that Frank O. Wetmore, now chairman of the First National, will become chairman of the executive committee, and that Melvin A. Traylor, now president of the First National, will retain that position.

The merger will be accomplished by an exchange of stock of the First National bank for that of the Union Trust. While the exact terms could not be learned, it is understood that the exchange of stock will be on an even basis, after some adjustment of the First National bank's assets.

Price of Shares Advances.

The shares of both banks have advanced sharply since the merger became a possibility. First National shares sold yesterday around $1,300 and Union Trust around $1,000. The book value of First National stock is $386 and that of Union Trust is $288. The First National dividend rate is 22 per cent and that of Union Trust is 16 per cent.

With the First National-Union Trust merger arranged, still another consolidation loomed yesterday. This is a combination of the State Bank of Chicago and the Chicago Trust company. Negotiations had been in progress for some time. If the deal goes through, it is likely Oscar H. Haugan, now vice chairman, will become chairman and that Lucius Teter, now president of the Chicago Trust, will retain that position. The merged institutions would represent total resources of $120,161,138; total deposits, $97,442,108, and total capitalization, $18,340,975.

OFFICIAL REPORT ADMITS FAILURE OF PROHIBITION

Mrs. Willebrandt Says Smuggling Increases.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Frank admission that the government has failed completely to curb liquor smuggling across the Canadian border and has made only the most indifferent progress in its fight against foreign rum running ships on the Atlantic seaboard is the sensational feature of the annual report of Attorney General Sargent, which was submitted to congress today.

That section of the report prepared by Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition, reveals that, in addition to the tremendous quantity of booze bootlegged past both Canadian and American authorities, nearly $25,000,000 worth of liquor was regularly cleared through Canadian customs for export to the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, last.

"Traffic from North" Increases.

"The problems of the liquor smuggling traffic directly from Canada into the United States across the international boundary line continue to be unsolved," declared Mrs. Willebrandt, adding, "indeed . . . such traffic across the international boundary on the north is increasing."

Most of the Canadian border smugglers are operating in the great lakes area and the vast proportion of their traffic, in spite of a veritable army of federal agents, as well as flotillas of coast guard patrol boats, is graphically shown in official statistics supplied to Mrs. Willebrandt by the Canadian department of trade and commerce.

These tables, included by Mrs. Willebrandt in the report, show merely the quantity and value of the whisky regularly cleared through Canadian customs by bootleggers who boasted in their manifests that it was intended for exportation into the dry United States.

Pass Canadian Customs.

The figures are as follows:

EXPORTS OF WHISKY FROM CANADA TO THE UNITED STATES.

Year.	Amount in gallons.	Canadian value.
1926	983,152	15,475,270
1927	1,053,213	17,171,484
1928	1,169,002	18,883,541

"The figures thus given cover the exportations of whisky only," it is asserted in the report, "and the same records show that the total value of all alcoholic beverages exported to the United States from Canada during the year ending June 30, 1928, amounted to $24,397,958. . . . Based on the figures supplied by the Canadian department of trade and commerce, it will be noted that in the course of three years the volume of this traffic has increased more than 75 per cent. In so far as the United States is concerned, it is 100 per cent illegal."

"In practice," the report asserts, "the liquor runner clears his cargo regularly through the Canadian customs before proceeding to evade the United States customs in making delivery. No one would contend that all the liquor smuggled across the northern boundary passes regularly through the Canadian customs. The volume is probably much greater than those records will show. However, available data which are taken from statistical bulletins issued by the department of trade and commerce indicate that this traffic is immense and is increasing."

Gasoline Tank Car Blows Up in Yards at Joliet

A tank car of gasoline blew up yesterday in the yards of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad company, south of Joliet. The explosion of the 10,000 gallons of gas hurled the tank car more than 100 feet and shattered windows for blocks around. No one was injured.

CALL 71 WITHOUT GETTING A JUROR IN KIDNAP TRIAL

Not a single juror was selected from the seventy-one veniremen called into the jury box in Judge Robert E. Gentzel's Criminal court yeserday, where an effort is being made to select a jury to determine the fate of Angelo Petitti, Andrew Cappellano, and his 16 year old son, Tony. The death penalty is being asked by Assistant State's Attorneys Samuel Hoffman and Charles Mueller for the men, who are charged with being responsible for the kidnaping of 10 year old Billy Ranieri.

The jury selection task has been going on for nearly a week and so far the first panel of four jurors is unfilled. Most of the men called into the jury box manage to get excused either because of scruples against infliction of the death penalty or a fixed opinion.

Judge Gentzel interrupted the proceedings several times yesterday to ask veniremen if they were really honest in their answers or were making them to evade service.

WOMAN IN PERIL OF MICHIGAN 'LIFE FOR A PINT' LAW

Charged with 4th Liquor Act Infraction.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, Lansing housewife, charged with her fourth offense against the state prohibition laws and subject to mandatory life sentence under the habitual criminal act if convicted, pleaded not guilty when arraigned here in Circuit court today.

Mrs. Miller's trial will probably start Thursday. The prosecution has announced that if convicted by a jury Mrs. Miller will be arraigned as an habitual criminal. Information regarding her three former offenses is in the state's hands.

Mrs. Miller will be the first woman to receive the maximum penalty as an habitual criminal, although several other women now have charges pending against them which would bring them the same sentence in event of their conviction.

Mrs. Miller is charged, this time, with the sale of intoxicants to John Haynes and Emmett Clark on the night of Oct. 3. Police detectives arrested her after, they claim, they watched the transaction. They gave chase to the car containing the two men and picked up a bottle partly full of moonshine which was said to have been tossed from the machine.

Mrs. Miller served her first term for prohibition law infraction in the fall of 1924 when she was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. Since then she has served two short terms in the Detroit house of correction.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and five severely injured in accidents during the automobile race at Mar del Plata today. Another car smashed through the guard rail and injured four spectators.

RESTAURANT MEN HONOR NATIONAL HEAD AT DINNER

Wielding a carving knife dexterously, John P. Harding, a millionaire restaurant owner, carved corned beef for fifty guests at a dinner given last night in honor of Harry Hackney of Atlantic City, president of the National Restaurant association, and members of the board of directors of the association.

The dinner climaxed the convention of the restaurant owners at the Hotel Sherman. The members voted to campaign against disreputable restaurants and stage jokes about restaurants and food. They agreed also to petition President Elect Hoover to establish a government institute or food study laboratory to guide them in standardizing and improving foods served in public eating places.

Night clubs should also be prevented from assuming the name of restaurant, the delegates agreed.

RAID MANGANO GAMBLING HOUSE; 158 ARE ARRESTED

Lawrence Mangano's Minerva Athletic club at 522 South Halsted street, long known to the police as a gambling resort, was raided last night by a squad of detectives from the office of Deputy Police Commissioner Ira J. McDowell. A roulette wheel, card and dice tables were seized and 158 men were arrested after the doors had been battered in with axes.

About a year ago Mangano obtained from Judge David an injunction restraining the police from entering his place. Preceding yesterday's raid, to insure the legality of it, Police Sergeant Thomas Hamilton obtained from Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court a search warrant.

Two of the men arrested were booked as keepers of a gambling house and the others as inmates. Mangano, accompanied by a bondsman, went to the Des Plaines street station and furnished bail for all the men.

4 JURORS PICKED FOR DYNAMITE SLAYING TRIAL

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Paul Reed, 34 year old draftsman charged with murdering Vernon Plager on July 19 by placing a bomb in his automobile so that he might carry on an affair with Iva Plager, the victim's wife, sat unperturbed in court today while the attorneys questioned prospective jurors.

When court adjourned for the day four men had been accepted and sworn. They are Henry Graham, Cherry Valley, a grain dealer; John Henry, Rockton, farmer; W. H. Poulton, Cherry Valley, a carpenter, and V. F. Asprooth, a painter of Rockford.

State's Attorney William D. Knight made it plain that he intends to obtain a death jury if possible. The state excused six veniremen, most of them for having scruples against capital punishment.

A crowd filled the courtroom, eager for a sight of Mrs. Plager, who has turned upon her former admirer, with whom she once eloped, and will be the chief witness for the prosecution.

ENGINEERS' REPORT TO CONGRESS IS SEVERE JOLT TO BOULDER DAM PROJECT

FINDS ECONOMIC PLAN INFEASIBLE; URGES CHANGES

Smoot Declares Foes of Bill Are Sustained.

LOS ANGELES MAYOR ACCEPTS $10,000 GIFT FOR BOULDER LOBBY

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Mayor George Cryer today approved the city council's tender of $10,000 of municipal bonds for Boulder dam lobbying in Washington, D. C. In approving the council's resolution authorizing the fund the mayor asserted that speedy legislative action is necessary in the case of Boulder dam in order to finish the preliminary steps needed for Los Angeles to transport city water here from the Colorado river.

William B. Mathews, of the Los Angeles water and power bureau, already is in Washington in charge of the Boulder lobby for the third consecutive year. Charles L. Childers, counsel for the Imperial Valley Irrigation district, is also in Washington to aid the propaganda. So is Mark Rose, commissioner of the Imperial irrigation district.

of the situation, must be given further consideration, he said.

It was unfortunate, he continued, that the board did not have authority to examine alternative plans of development which would provide flood control, river regulation, and storage of water for all governmental purposes at a fraction of the cost, in a much shorter time and without the enormous risks of the pending project.

The report of the board was unanimous, being signed by all of its five members, Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, U. S. A., retired, chairman; Robert Ridgeway of New York City, and Prof. D. W. Mead of the University of Wisconsin, engineers, and Prof. Charles P. Berkey of Columbia university, and Prof. W. J. Mead of the University of Wisconsin, geologists. The board was appointed by former Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work last summer, as authorized by a congressional resolution.

Main Features of Report.

Essential features of the report are the following:

ENGINEERING FEASIBILITY—The board holds that it is feasible from an engineering standpoint to build a dam across the Colorado river at Black canyon 550 feet high. Various proposals in the original plans for the dam, cofferdams and diversion channels, however, are held not to be feasible and changes to provide greater safety are suggested. Original plans for the all-American canal are disapproved, concrete linings being held to be necessary through the sand dune region.

COST—Estimates by the engineers of the reclamation service are held to be at least $40,000,000 too low. The total cost is estimated at 165 millions instead of 125 millions, and if eleven millions additional is provided for an extension of the proposed all-American canal to the Coachella valley the cost will be 176 millions.

U. S. Repayment Impossible.

REIMBURSEMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT—It is held that it will not be possible to reimburse the government for the entire cost of the project within a period of 50 years as provided under the bill. The board suggests that if the cost of the all-American canal is segregated, if all or a part of the cost of the dam properly chargeable to flood protection is also deducted and if income from storage of water is increased it would be possible to amortize the remaining cost of the dam and power plant with revenues from power.

POWER PRODUCTION—The board finds that the growing demand for power in southern California will be sufficient to absorb the probable power output but that recent reductions in costs of power generated by steam have reduced the margin of profit above the probable cost of hydro-electric power generated at the proposed plant.

Mexican Owners to Benefit.

MEXICAN SITUATION—Land owners in Mexico will receive the benefit of a greater flow of water down the Colorado river which the board holds will permanently prevent a corresponding amount of American land from being irrigated unless an agreement is reached with Mexico. It is urged that an agreement limiting the amount of water which may be permanently used by Mexico should be made prior to the completion of the Boulder dam project.

The Black canyon site is the one which has been contemplated by the sponsors of the present legislation. The project was given the name of Boulder canyon when that site, which is 20 miles above the Black canyon site, was regarded as the probable choice. The complete plans of the engineers of the reclamation service apply to Black canyon, or Lower Boulder, rather than upper Boulder canyon.

Proposed Dam Adequate.

Regarding the adequacy of such a dam as proposed to accomplish the purposes which its sponsors have in mind, the board says:

"A dam of 550 feet above low water, across the Colorado river at Black canyon, impounding 26,000,000 acre feet of water, will be adequate, in the opinion of the board, to so regulate the flow of the Lower Colorado as to control ordinary floods, to improve the present navigation possibilities and to store and deliver the available water for reclamation of public lands and for other beneficial uses within the United States."

In estimating construction costs, all of the figures of the reclamation service engineers are shown to be too low. Detailed estimates of the board are as follows:

Dam and reservoir [26,000,000 acre feet capacity]...	$ 70,000,000
1,000,000 horse power development	38,200,000
The all-American canal....	38,500,000
Interest during construction on above	17,700,000
Total	$165,000,000

Should the canal to Coachella valley be considered a part of the main canal, the above estimates would be increased by the sum of $11,000,000.

Makes Cost 176 Millions.

This would make the total estimated cost for all items 176 millions. These estimates are based on a construction period of seven years. The original estimate of 125 million dollars included $41,500,000 for the dam, $31,500,000 for the power plant, $31,000,000 for the all-American canal and $21,000,000 for interest during the period of construction.

In dealing with the economic feasibility of the project, the board says:

"In considering the economics of this project the board recognizes the importance, among others, of the following factors:

"1. While much land has already been brought under irrigation on the Colorado river delta in Mexico, it is evident that such development has been retarded by the lack of water available from the river during low water periods. The storage of flood water in the Black canyon reservoir and its release during low water seasons will make more water available in Mexico and will invite immediate expansion in irrigated acreage in that country.

Urges Agreement with Mexico.

"With the limited water supply available from the Colorado river, every acre permanently irrigated in Mexico will mean that an acre in the United States cannot be irrigated. Such a limitation on lands would result in a corresponding limitation on possible income. It is the opinion of the board that it is of much economic importance in this project that an agreement limiting the amount of water assignable to Mexico should be made prior to the completion of the Boulder canyon project.

"2. The board believes that the growing demand for power in southern California, when considered on a conservative basis, will be sufficient to absorb the probable power output of the proposed hydro electric project.

"3. As a sound basis for estimating the probable power output of a stream, it is necessary to know the flow of stream for a long term of years covering periods of low and high flow of sufficient duration to furnish the low, average, and high flows for which the plant must be designed. Any less complete data throw doubt on the estimates, which becomes serious in proportion to the uncertainties in the data and the magnitude of the investment.

"When this project was first proposed the cost of steam power in southern California was such as to leave a reasonable margin of profit above the probable cost of hydro-electric power generated at the proposed power plant. With the reduction in costs of power generated by steam, this margin has been greatly reduced.

"The operation, maintenance, interest, and sinking fund for the Boulder Canyon project must be paid from the sale of power and of storage services, which latter has been estimated at $1,500,000 per annum by the secretary of the interior.

"Based on the foregoing and the shortage of power which will occur at low flow, the board is of the opinion that if the Boulder Canyon project is completed and put in operation, carrying as it does the costs of flood protection works and the all-American canal, it will be impossible to meet operation, maintenance, interest, and a sufficient sinking fund to retire the cost of the project within a 50 year period.

Points Out a Way.

"4. It is obvious that the power which can be generated from Boulder dam is a valuable resource. If the income from storage can be reasonably increased and the capital investment reduced by the cost of the all-American canal together with a reduction for all or a part of the cost properly chargeable to flood protection, it would be possible to amortize the remaining cost with the income from power."

In giving preference to the Black canyon site the board says:

"In general, geologic conditions at Black canyon are superior to those at Boulder canyon. The Black canyon site is more accessible, the canyon is narrower, the gorge is shallower below water level, the walls are steeper, and a dam of the same height here would cost less and would have a somewhat greater reservoir capacity.

"The rock formation is less jointed, stands up in sheer cliffs better, exhibits fewer open fractures, is better healed where formerly broken, and is less pervious in mass than is the rock of the other site. The Black canyon rock is not so hard to drill as that of the Boulder canyon, and it will stand better in large tunnel excavation, with less danger to the workmen.

"The board is of the opinion that the Black canyon site is suitable for the proposed dam and is preferable to that of the Boulder canyon.

Thinks Quakes Have Ceased.

"In former geologic times this district was subjected repeatedly to volcanism and deformation. These events must have been accompanied by earthquakes. Such evidence as there is, both to be observed in the field and to be gathered from records, indicates that these geologic activities ceased long ago, and that the region has been virtually undisturbed for a very long time. The district is recognized as having comparative freedom from present day earth movements, and the conclusion is that danger from local earthquakes of enough violence to threaten a properly constructed dam in Black canyon is negligible."

In discussing the engineering feasibility of the construction of the dam the report says:

"The board is of the opinion that it is feasible from an engineering standpoint to build a dam across the Colorado river at Black canyon that will safely impound water to an elevation of 550 feet above low water. The cost, however, will be greater than that contemplated in the project authorized by house resolution 5773.

Approves Type Proposed.

"The dam proposed by the bureau of reclamation and assumed to be the one referred to in house resolution 5773 is of the gravity type, curved in plan, with allowable stresses as high as 40 tons per square foot.

"It is the opinion of the board that a dam of the gravity type is suitable for the site in question and that such a dam built across Black cañon would be safe, provided the maximum stresses allowed do not exceed those adopted in standard practice.

"The proposed dam would be by far the highest yet constructed and would impound 26,000,000 acre feet of water. If it should fail, the flood created would probably destroy Needles, Topock, Parker, Blythe, and Yuma, and permanently destroy the levees of the Imperial district, creating a channel into Salton sea which would probably be so deep that it would be impracticable to reëstablish the Colorado river in its normal course. To avoid such possibilities, the proposed dam should be constructed on conservative, if not ultra-conservative, lines.

"Maximum foundation and structural stresses have until late years been limited, in the best practice, to about 20 tons per square foot. Until perhaps 20 years ago, this practice was regarded as standard. The demand for high dams at reasonable expense has, however, induced more economical designs and such stresses have been increased to 30 tons per square foot in numerous structures which have been in use a sufficient period to cause this practice to be considered conservative.

"Stresses in excess of 30 tons cannot be considered conservative in a structure of this unprecedented magnitude and importance, failure of which would result in such an overwhelming disaster.

Will Add to Costs.

"In consideration of these facts and possibilities, it is the judgment of the board that the dam should be designed for maximum calculated stresses not exceeding 30 tons per square foot. This will add materially to the cost of the dam, which increase will be included in the estimates.

"To control the flow of the river during construction, the proposed plans contemplate the diversion of 100,000 second feet of water around the dam site by means of tunnels through the canyon walls. The upper coffer-dam height was planned to be such that water could rise against it until sufficient head was created to force this amount of water through three tunnels 35 feet in diameter.

"The proposed work in this connection comprised:

"The building of two rock-fill coffer-dams, one upstream 79 feet high, the other downstream 29 feet high, above low water level, involving the placing of 164,000 cubic yards of earth, the quarrying and placing of 757,000 cubic yards of rock; the making and unwatering of open excavations in the river bed above 125 feet below low water, involving 531,000 cubic yards of material [sand, gravel and boulders], with an uncertain amount of water; the preparing of foundations and placing of 235,000 cubic yards of concrete in the heel and toe of the dam in such a way as to form permanent coffer-dams to protect the remainder of the work—all of the foregoing operations to be accomplished in one low water season of less than nine months.

Finds Proposal Not Feasible.

"The board is of the opinion that it is not feasible, without undue risk to the men working in the excavations and on the dam and to the inhabitants of the valley below, to carry out the plan as proposed. It is further of the opinion that the proposed diversion is inadequate and that provision should be made for diverting around the dam site, through tunnels, a flow of at least 200,000 second feet.

"It is also the opinion of the board that the height of the water against the upper coffer-dam should be ordinarily limited so as not to impound a volume which, if added to the flood waters, would, in the event of failure of the coffer-dam, endanger life and property down the valley. This would limit the elevation of the water surface against the upper coffer-dam to about 55 feet above low water or 700 feet above sea level.

"These modifications would not only add essential elements of safety but also would enable operations to proceed continuously through a normal flood season.

Permanent Spillway Needed.

"The spillway capacity planned in connection with the proposed dam was about 110,000 second feet without overtopping the dam. Floods reaching a maximum flow of 380,000 second feet have been reported, and old high water marks are said to indicate a possible flood flow of as much as 500,000 second feet. The board is of the opinion that water in quantity should not be permitted to flow over a dam of this height.

"A permanent spillway utilizing the increased capacity of the diversion tunnels provided in the revised plans will make it practicable to prevent any expected flood from overtopping the dam."

In dealing with the proposed all-American canal, the board says:

"The bill provides for the construction of a canal connecting the Laguna dam with the Imperial and Coachella valleys, whereas the original estimate of $31,000,000 applies only to a canal reaching the distribution system of the Imperial valley. The revised estimate will include the cost of constructing that portion of the canal leading to the Coachella valley.

Canal Over Fifty Feet Deep.

"Between the Colorado river and Imperial valley the canal location, for a length of ten miles, crosses a region of sand dunes, some of which reach a height of about 150 feet above the canal bed. For much of this distance the canal cut will be over fifty feet deep. The grade of this section of the canal is such that the water surface will be below the mesa level, and hence below the bases of the sand dunes. Winds above a velocity of ten miles an hour cause a movement of surface sand, which increases with the velocity of the wind, and special provision should be made to prevent undue silting of the canal by the 'blow sand,' as well as for the removal of the sand that will drift into the canal prism. In order to observe conditions the board visited the sand dunes belt several times, once during a sandstorm.

"Although it is clear that difficulties are presented by the drifting sand, it is the opinion of the board that it is feasible to construct, maintain, and successfully operate the canal. The overcoming of these difficulties will affect the cost, which has been allowed for in the estimates.

"The board believes that the canal should be lined with concrete through the sand dune region and should be given a slope sufficient to carry the in-blown sand to a suitable place for deposit and removal."

Accurate Data Lacking.

The report contains a lengthy statement relative to the volume of water flowing in the Colorado river, its conclusions being as follows:

"The estimated future flow of the Colorado river must be based on the flows of the past with the justifiable assumption that they will recur. Unfortunately, there are no actual measurements of the flows of the river for a longer period than twenty-six years, and these were made at Yuma. The use of these measurements for estimating the flow at Boulder Dam involves the necessity of considering various intervening gains and losses of water, the amounts of which are based on insufficient data, and result in final estimates which are unsatsifactory.

"The board, however, realizes that in determining the economic feasibility of this project its estimates should be on the safe side and it has consequently adopted the following figures for the flows at Black Canyon, without further depletion:

"Average low flow for a period of 15—20 years—10,000,000 acre feet.

"Average high flow for a similar period—14,500,000 acre feet.

"Average of high and low periods—12,250,000 acre feet.

Present Flow Depleted.

"It is estimated that the present flow is depleted by water taken for irrigation in the upper basin by approximately 2,750,000 acre feet, which amount, if added to the above estimated average flow, would increase it to about 15,000,000 acre feet. This is the amount apportioned by the seven states compact for division at Lee's Ferry."

The board says that the water in the Colorado river, which under the project is intended for drinking water for the people of Los Angeles and other cities of southern California, is not ideal for this purpose. On this point, the report says:

"The waters of the Colorado are nominally high in dissolved mineral salt, chiefly carbonates, sulphates and chlorides of calcium, magnesium, sodium and potassium. The amount is well within the limits of accepted practice for irrigation purpose.

Salt Content Is High.

"For domestic use the salt content is high, several times as high as it is in the water supply of Chicago, Boston or New York. It is not an ideal water for such purposes, but the fact that it is usable is demonstrated by its use in the cities of the Imperial valley and in Yuma and in other communities along the lower Colorado.

"The waters impounded in the Black canyon reservoir will overflow, to a limited extent, lands in the Virgin Valley that contain beds of soluble salts, chiefly sodium chloride, sodium sulphate and calcium sulphate. These salt beds will be dissolved at their outcrops, where submerged, and this will add appreciably at first to the salt content of the lower Colorado river waters."

The huge reservoir to be formed by Boulder Dam will be entirely filled up with silt within a period of 190 years, according to the board.

Power Production Discussed.

Discussing power production, the report says:

"Based on the foregoing estimates of the variation of the flow of the Colorado river, it is believed that under present conditions of irrigation a continuous output of 550,000 horse power, or 1,000,000 horse power on a 55 per cent load factor, could be maintained even during the years of normal low flow.

"A fairly rapid irrigation development is, however, to be expected in the entire Colorado river basin, provided the seven states' compact is consummated, and, if the Boulder canyon project is undertaken, preparations for such development may be expected in both the upper and lower basins during the construction of such project.

"As the use of water for irrigation increases, the amount of water available for power will decrease and a time will arrive when, during periods of low water, the full estimated amount of power cannot be maintained. Within a 30 or 40 year period, even with a reregulating reservoir, the power output may be reduced to five-tenths or six-tenths of the capacity of the proposed plant during a long dry period.

Complicated by Several Factors.

"This whole matter is further complicated by the proposed seven states compact. It is quite probable that the compact attempts to apportion more water than the actual average undepleted flow of the river. The situation is still further complicated by the fact that the upper states are authorized to take more than an equitable proportion of the flow of the river for any one or more of a series of dry years, provided they permit a total of 75,000,000 acre feet to flow down the river in a period of ten consecutive years.

"In any event, the upper basin has by virtue of its location, first call on the water of the river. The withdrawal of the allotted share of the annual flow during any series of years of low flow may make it impossible to carry out the terms of the compact during the latter part of a low ten year period.

Power Output Affected.

"If the low flow continued for a considerable term of years, the proposed storage at Boulder dam would be inadequate to provide sufficient water for the lower valley through such a period. The power output would also be seriously affected and might be reduced below the estimated minimum previously stated.

"A one million horse power hydro-electric plant fully loaded and operated continuously on a 55 per cent load factor would generate annually [illegible] 000,000 kilowatt hours of current. In actual practice, this theoretical output might be reduced by approximately 10 per cent.

"With the uncertainties of the flow at Boulder dam it is impossible to estimate closely the average annual output of power which would obtain during a 50 year period."

PRIVILEGE ROOT OF CRIME, SAYS G. E. Q. JOHNSON

"Take Easy Money Out," His Solution of Evil.

"The Plain Truth About the Crime Situation," was the subject of an address last night by George E. Q. Johnson, United States district attorney, before the Illinois society, Sons of the American Revolution, meeting at the La Salle hotel.

The district attorney, who is now expected to join with his friend and political associate, State's Attorney John A. Swanson, in a new and concentrated attack upon the strongholds of organized crime, voiced definite views of the causes of crime, and the nature of the remedies to be applied. Crime must be attacked at its source if it is to be beaten down in Chicago, Mr. Johnson said.

Privilege Root of Situation.

"Privilege—immunity to violate the law sold to criminals by public officials—is the root of our crime situation," he declared. And the seed of privilege, he added, is money, the millions of dollars which are the profits of crime, and which go to buy prosecutors and policemen and witnesses, breaking down justice.

Mr. Johnson did not indicate any program to be followed out by himself or by other prosecuting agencies, but he left no doubt that, in his opinion, the only means by which the alliance between politicians and beer and vice and gambling lords is to be broken down is to send the politicians and the beer and vice and gambling lords—instead of their hirelings—to the penitentiary.

Organized criminals, he pointed out, do not commit burglaries, thefts, robberies and such crimes. The chief income of these gangs is gained, he declared, through privilege. Immunity is purchased by the criminals from some law enforcement officials who deal in protection, he explained.

Four Branches of Crime.

The district attorney said there were four branches of crime in which privilege led to rich profits. "Named in the order of their importance," as he put it, they are:

1. Violation of the national prohibition act. 2. Racketeering. 3. Gambling. 4. Vice.

Among the direct results of this traffic, Mr. Johnson named:

1. Murder. 2. Extortion. 3. Corruption. 4. Direct interference with the administration of justice. 5. Money to influence crooked elections.

"The cost of fighting crime in the United States is one billion dollars a month," Mr. Johnson went on. "This is almost as much as we spent directly during the time we were engaged in fighting the great world's war.

Must Attack Resources.

"In war we attack the resources of the enemy, trying to dry them up. If it is good strategy in war, it should be even more effective in a war against crime. The resources of crime, the steady, continous source of revenue, come from the four forms of privilege I have referred to. This is the money that provides the sinews of war for the organized outlaw, and the gunmen who enforce their decrees. This is the money that goes to organized bands to terrorize witnesses, and if a witness has the courage to defy their decrees, to 'take him for a ride.'

"This is the source from which money comes for the purpose of corrupting law enforcement officers, city, state and federal. This is the money that attracts men into crime because of their desire for easy money. These profits are not thousands of dollars, but many millions.

"This seems to point to the obvious conclusion that the point of attack should be directed at the sources from which crime thrives.

"I for one do not believe that my fellow citizens of Chicago are so prejudiced against any law that they are not willing to see their public officials attack the resources of crime no matter what their origin may be.

Take "Easy Money" Out.

"As for the sporadic crimes, such as robbery and burglary, they present the problem of a larger police force, better organized, which in my judgment should have as a part of it men of exceptional training and intelligence, organized into a special intelligence unit for the more intensive and more exhaustive investigations.

"We are seeking today to find a remedy for a criminal situation which has aroused the indignation of all citizens and has shaped itself into a crystallized public opinion. To make attacks upon the individuals in these various organizations is, of course, effective, but it is not the cure. Obviously, the answer to all of this is to take the 'easy money' out of it."

SWANSON ON JOB; COUNTY BOARD IS EAGER TO PLEASE

Votes $225,000 for Juries; Orders Pay Quiz.

mittee, to Judge Swanson and Mr. Loesch. "Now we want to know if that will be enough?"

Mr. Loesch replied that expenses of the investigation already totaled $215,000. Commissioner Gibson was quick with his suggestion that the resolution be amended to make the appropriation $225,000.

After the Gibson-Nettelhorst argument, State's Attorney Swanson, in a brief statement, said every penny of the money spent in the investigation would be accounted for and that services would be rendered "100 cents on the dollar."

Then came presentation of a bill for $4,448 by the citizens' committee appointed to investigate the new county jail and criminal courts building. There was immediately evident the new spirit among the commissioners.

"I thought those five engineers were to do the work gratis," said Commissioner Gibson. "If we're going to pay citizens' committees for their purely honorary duties, it's time to stop appointing citizens' committees."

Other commissioners also expressed indignation and a committee composed of President Cermak, Commissioners William Busse and Metzger, was appointed to investigate.

Next offered for attention were pay rolls of extra employés in the assessors' and county clerk's offices. County Efficiency Expert J. L. Jacobs caused a sensation by asserting that these pay rolls, instead of being approved as in ordinary procedure, should be sent to the new state's attorney for investigation.

Wants Rolls Investigated.

"I believe evidence of a criminal nature can be uncovered in these pay rolls," he asserted. "We've checked them and have been unable to find that many of those on the lists actually exist. Here's the name John Carroll and beneath it J. Carroll, both receiving salaries. I'm sure that is one man receiving pay from two jobs."

"Why are all these things coming out today for the first time?" queried Commissioner Francis L. Boutell. No one answered him.

A committee composed of Commissioners Whealan, Boutell and Oscar W. Schmidt was appointed to consider the pay roll matter.

Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county bureau of public welfare, appeared before the commissioners to recommend that the distribution of Christmas baskets at a cost of more than $18,000 be stopped. The commissioners leaped at this opportunity to save more public funds and Mr. Moss' recommendation was approved.

Award Lighting Contract.

Then came consideration of a $58,000 contract for lighting fixtures in the new courts building. For months, this matter had been pending before the commissioners. Contracts had been awarded and then rescinded while there was much jockeying for the profitable job. Another delay was imminent when Commissioner Newby arose and declared:

"Let's get into action on this matter. It's delaying the whole courts and jail project. Are we going to delay opening the new buildings because of this matter being kicked around like a football?"

Looking at the matter in this light, the commissioners decided to award the contract subject to the approval of a committee. This decision meant that the last obstacle to full completion of the new buildings was removed.

Notables Attend Induction.

State's Attorney Swanson's induction into office in the morning was attended by many notables. The new prosecutor announced the appointment of John Elliott Byrne and John E. Northup as assistant state's attorneys and issued a formal statement.

'I shall encourage the coöperation of all law enforcing offices and agencies," he said. "And in this plan many of my fellow citizens can be very helpful. I intend the policy of the state's attorney shall be vigorous and fearless in the investigation and prosecution of all crime of whatever character. This does not mean indiscriminate indictments."

Flowers and flowery speeches accompanied other ceremonies attendant upon the inauguration of Sheriff John E. Traeger, County Recorder Clayton F. Smith, Coroner Herman N. Bundesen, Circuit Court Clerk Thomas O. Wallace, and Superior Court Clerk Menc S. Szymczak. County Surveyor William Kramer and Lieut. William Collins, the new chief of the highway police, also took office.

New Judges Take Office.

Four new municipal judges were also inducted into office in the respective courts to which they were assigned by Chief Justice Harry Olson. They were Alfred O. Erickson, James Fardy, Frederick W. Elliott and Donald S. McKinlay.

State's Attorney Swanson will make his first public appearance since his installation tomorrow when he addresses the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle. It was this organization that raised the original $150,000 to finance the work of the special grand juries. Unusual interest is being exhibited in the talk in view of the new prosecutor's refusal to divulge the nature of his address.

FIND GIRL SHOT TO DEATH IN RICH BACHELOR'S FLAT

De Soto, Mo., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Mystery surrounded the death of Miss Pearl Potoskey, 24, St. Louis beauty shop proprietor, whose body, with a bullet hole above the right ear, a fracture of the skull and a bruised left eye, was found late yesterday in the bachelor apartment of Sol Hohenthal, wealthy retired merchant.

Relatives expressed belief she had not committed suicide, as asserted by Hohenthal. They said the couple was engaged to be married. Hohenthal expressed the opinion she had shot herself with his revolver while he was asleep. The coroner said indications were Miss Potoskey was to become a mother.

214 FLU-PNEUMONIA DEATHS IN CALIFORNIA; 4,082 CASES IN MONTH

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Statistics on the influenza epidemic at the city health commissioner's offices indicate 4,082 cases officially reported in November and 74 deaths ascribed to flu. Dr. George Parrish, health commissioner, reported that many deaths resulted from complications aggravated by flu. The month's roster shows 140 deaths ascribed to pneumonia.

Four hundred new cases of the disease were reported in the last 24 hour checkup. A list of new notables who have contracted the disease includes Dr. Rufus Vonkleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California; Lucille Webster Gleason, stage star; John Watters, novelist and playwright, and the following in movies:

Nils Asther, Joan Crawford, Dorothy Dwan, Don Alvarado, Eddie Nugent, Georgie Stone.

VOTERS HELPED ROTHSTEIN ON LAST GAMBLE

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Arnold Rothstein died as the American electorate, all unknowingly, was stuffing half a million dollars into his pockets—half a million that might have saved his life had he had it two days earlier.

As two grand juries continued today to consider the mystery of Rothstein's death, and the manifold mysteries of his life, it was learned that the temporary administrators of his estate have full details about his last big gamble, the election of Nov. 6.

Through many avenues, it developed, Rathstein put out $1,700,000 on Herbert Hoover for President and Franklin Roosevelt for governor of New York, giving odds from four to four and a half to one. His winnings, which he did not live to collect, were close to $500,000.

That money could have taken up the I. O. U.'s for which police believe Rothstein was killed, and left more than $100,000 or so for pin money until Rothstein could have made his next killing.

On Sept. 8 Rothstein played his last big card game. He lost $380,000. On Nov. 4 he was shot at what is one police theory was a creditors' meeting growing out of that card game.

Before the grand juries convened today District Attorney Joab Banton saw reporters in his office. He expressed the opinion that satisfactory progress was being made.

He said the grand jury ought to complete its consideration of the homicide phase of its investigation tomorrow.

REVISE TARIFF AT EXTRA TERM IS G. O. P. PLAN

Committee Hearings Will Start Jan. 7.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The Republican members of the ways and means committee decided today to initiate immediately the preliminaries of a general tariff revision to be carried through at an extraordinary session of the next congress which Mr. Hoover is expected to call shortly after his inauguration.

To this end they agreed upon a program which calls for hearings on revised tariff schedules beginning on Jan. 7 next. It is calculated that with this early start all who wish to present arguments on changes in customs rates can be heard before the final session of the 70th congress, which convened today, expires by constitutional limitation.

No Serious Opposition.

This program will be submitted by the Republican majority at a meeting of the full committee tomorrow and there is no doubt that it will be adopted. The Republicans were unanimously agreed and therefore have the votes to put it through. The Democrats, however, have indicated there will be no serious opposition to the proposal from their side.

While this step was being taken, Representative L. J. Dickinson [Rep., Ia.], leader of the farm bloc in the house; Representative Thomas S. Williams, [Rep., Ill.], and other mid-western Republicans surveyed the situation as to farm relief legislation and decided not to press for passage of a bill until the new congress convenes in special session.

The general opinion of the farm leaders is that a measure more satisfactory to the farmers can be obtained from the next than from this congress, as a result of the change not only in congress but in the presidency. Mr. Hoover's proposals of farm relief, as outlined in his St. Louis speech, are regarded as more favorable to agriculture than the most liberal concessions that President Coolidge has been willing to make to the farming industry up to date.

Doubt if It Would Be Passed.

The farm leaders entertain serious doubts that a bill along the lines of the Hoover proposal could be put through the present congress. They doubt that a favorable report on the Hoover plan could be obtained from the committee on agriculture of either house. And even if it were to be favorably reported from committee they doubt that it would be passed by both houses.

In the next congress the Republicans will have a majority of 100 in the house and 15 in the senate, and will be in a position to write into law the Hoover program on farm relief, tariff and other matters. There also will be changes in the committees on agriculture which will be favorable to the framing of a farm relief measure of the character proposed by Mr. Hoover.

While farm leaders would not go so far as to express fear that Mr. Coolidge might veto a farm relief bill of the sort Mr. Hoover advocates, they suggested that White House influence might be used effectively to prevent passage of a bill embodying the Hoover plan at the present session. On the whole, therefore, they deem it wiser to await the called session of the new congress before seeking farm relief legislation.

Tariff on Farm Products.

The middle west and the far west, which want higher tariff protection on farm products and a number of manufactured articles, will figure prominently in the revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

The farmers are complaining of competition with the Argentine in live stock, meats, and corn. They want the tariff on corn increased from the present rate of 15 cents a bushel to at least 25 cents. They want the rates on meats and live stock raised to a point that will shut out competition with imports from South America.

Higher rates also will be sought by the agriculturists on black strap molasses, beans, poultry, vegetable oils, and numerous other products. The flax growers of the northwest are complaining that they are being injured by vast importations of linseed oil resulting from a circumvention of the provisions of the present tariff act. The duty on linseed oil now amounts to about 27 cents a gallon, a duty high enough to afford ample protection to the flax growers. By mixing linseed oil with soy bean oil, the importers are able to bring in linseed at the soy bean oil rate, which is 5 cents a gallon.

There is some sentiment in favor of a further boost in the tariff on wheat, which is now 42 cents a bushel, and the ways and means committee will be strongly urged by American wheat growers to abolish the drawback provision whereby American millers import Canadian wheat, mill it, and export the flour, receiving a refund of the duty, except one cent a bushel. It is contended that this provision has reduced materially the domestic market for American wheat. There will be a demand for the doubling of the present 4 cents a pound duty on alfalfa seed.

Duty on Dairy Products.

Some changes in the duties on dairy products will be sought by the dairymen of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa, although it is understood that in the main they are now satisfied with the rates since they were raised 50 per cent by President Coolidge about a year ago under the flexible tariff provision. This satisfaction is believed to have been reflected in the big vote Hoover received in the dairy states.

Representative Carl Chindblom, [Rep., Ill.], a member of the ways and means committee, has received numerous petitions from Illinois industries desiring tariff revision upward on their products. The cement and brick manufacturers are particularly vocal in protesting against the foreign competition to which they are now being subjected. Both common brick and common cement are now on the free list.

Want Duty on Brick.

William Schlake of Chicago, vice president of the Illinois Brick company, has written Mr. Chindblom that the brick manufacturers will present a strong case for a duty on their product. He refers to Chicago as the largest brick producing center in the country.

The enormous increase in importations of foreign brick in the last five years have seriously injured the American brick industry, according to Mr. Schlake. In 1923 only 2,613,000 brick were imported; in 1927 the total was 100,000,000. Every 1,000 brick imported means the loss of a day's work for an American working man, according to Mr. Schlake, who figures that the 1927 importation cost American labor 100,000 days' pay.

A similar complaint emanates from the cement manufacturers in and about Chicago who assert they are suffering from injurious competition with European cement, chiefly from Belgium. The European wage scale is about 20 per cent of the American. With Belgians paid $1 a day, the Belgian brick and cement manufacturers are able to pay ocean and rail freight rates and undersell American competitors even as far away from the Atlantic seaboard as Omaha.

PERU'S FLAGSHIP ESCORTS HOOVER TOWARD CALLAO

Faces Round of Fetes in Nation's Capital.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

U. S. S. Maryland, Dec. 3.—Accompanied all day by the flagship of Peru's navy, the cruiser Almirante Grau, the Maryland steamed southward today on a smooth sea and in bright sunshine to Callao. The Maryland will arrive early Wednesday. President Elect Herbert Hoover and his party will motor to Lima, the capital of Peru, where a strenuous program has been prepared. The American good will party will sail again at midnight.

The next stop will be at Antofagasta, a Chilean port, where a Bolivian delegation, headed by the foreign minister, will greet Mr. Hoover aboard the Maryland.

Mr. Hoover is resting after the arduous visit in Ecuador. The Humboldt current is keeping the weather cool and pleasant.

Follows Pizzaro's Route.

U. S. S. Maryland, Dec. 3.—[U. P.]—Herbert Hoover left the Gulf of Guayaquil behind him tonight as the gray flagship of the Pacific fleet entered Peruvian waters, cruising steadily southward along the spot from which Francisco Pizarro started his conquest of Peru in 1531.

Bent on a mission of good will far different from the goal set by the conqueror of three centuries ago, the President elect will get his first glimpse of continental Peru when the battleship Maryland approaches the headlands and grim cliffs of Talara and Negritos. The flagship of the Peruvian navy, Almirante Grau, raced silently along the starboard side of the Maryland, leading the American vessel past the gently curving coastline to Callao, port of Lima.

The Almirante Grau, commended by Capt. John Armstrong Abbott, a member of the American naval mission, was named for the hero of the war on the Pacific.

When the Hoover party arrives at Callao, ten miles from the capital, there will be submarines, torpedoe boats and other government and private vessels ready to receive them. All ships will be in full dress. Two hydroplanes from the naval aviation station at Ancon will meet the ships at the port of Huacho, 80 miles to the north of Callao, and form an aerial escort. At Ancon ten more planes will join the escort, according to official plans for the reception.

The program at Lima starts with the reception on board the Maryland of the foreign minister and other officials at 9 a. m., Wednesday. The mayor of Callao will receive Mr. Hoover 30 minutes later and the party then will leave for Lima, going direct to the American embassy. President Leguia will receive Hoover at 11 a. m., and the entire party will return to the embassy for luncheon.

The mayor and officials of Lima will be received at 3:30 p. m., and the party will attend a reception held by the American society at the country club an hour later. The engineers' club will hold a reception at 5 p. m., and a dinner will be given at the presidential palace at 8:30 p. m., followed by a reception. The party will return to the Maryland to depart at midnight for Antofagosta.

Ecuador President Treats Sailor.

Sailors on board the Maryland were discussing an unusual feature of the Ecaudoran visit Sunday. President Ayora of Ecaudor marveled at the giant guns on the battleship, but he was at home when he visited the quarters of several sick sailors. Dr. Ayora is one of the foremost surgeons of Ecaudor and he examined the case of one sailor who was removed from the cruiser Cleveland to the Maryland for observation. Dr. Ayora examined the charts and the patient and offered suggestions to the ship's medical officers. It probably was the first time that a blue jacket had been treated by a president.

Bolivians Name Delegation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Dec. 3.—The Bolivian delegation, composed of the minister of foreign affairs, five other government officials, and a number of prominent society leaders, will leave here next Thursday to welcome President Elect Hoover at Antofagasta, Chile, which formerly was a Bolivian port.

16. Keep serene and whole-hearted.

These are the sixteen important rules of health as given in the Life Extension Institute's book "How to Live." This book contains the consensus of opinion of the foremost scientific authorities on the correct rules of living.

The Life Extension Institute was organized fifteen years ago by a large group of eminent physicians, scientists and public health authorities to teach men and women the value of yearly physical examinations and to bring to their attention the latest and most authoritative information on healthful living.

If you are interested in such a health examination, for yourself or any member of your family, send in the coupon below for many interesting free reprints on the subject and for the free booklets, "How to Live Long" and "How to Keep Well," or you can visit or telephone the Institute for information.

Chicago Headquarters

The Western Headquarters of the Institute are located in the Tower Building, 6 North Michigan Boulevard, Chicago. Here the Institute has established a physical examination unit similar to that which it has at its office in New York City, containing the most modern examination equipment and every scientific facility necessary to the making of these critical and thorough health examinations. Since the Institute was organized more than 600,000 men and women have had the benefits of its examination and scientific guidance.

For those desiring a most complete examination the Institute has arranged a service called the Unlimited Examination. This includes a critical physical examination and the application of any needed special test or specialized method of examination at the command of the Institute.

Complete Examination

This complete examination should appeal to intelligent men and women because for a relatively small fixed charge a most comprehensive and searching examination can be had under one roof. There is no uncertainty as to the ultimate cost and as no treatment is given, there is no apprehension that the Institute will impose any expensive follow-up.

For those who do not desire such an extensive examination the Institute has arranged a service known as the Standard Health Examination. This includes a critical examination of your whole body, detailed reports, quarterly urinalyses, mid-year review, guidance as to any needed medical treatment, keep-well leaflets, monthly health journals and other privileges.

Only registered and ethically accredited physicians, highly trained and experienced in this work, are selected by the Institute to examine its members. The Institute renders no treatment, performs no operations, but makes a scientific survey of your whole life and body to determine the need for medical treatment, for correction of defects, or better regulation of the ways of living. Every one should be examined at least once a year, either by his own physician, through the Life Extension Institute, or by any other accredited scientific agency where the work can be competently done. A Generous Gesture Is No Guarantee of True Value

WHENEVER long trading allowances are offered, as they will be, to lure you from your allegiance to Cadillac or La Salle you can be certain that this method of selling is necessitated by the lesser value of competitive cars.

Just a moment's reflection makes it perfectly clear that no car can be successfully substituted for either Cadillac or La Salle and, therefore, the lure of long trading allowances, or any other method of competitive salesmanship will fail to sway you if you truly want all that Cadillac-La Salle offer.

It is scarcely necessary to mention Cadillac-La Salle prestige or one's pride in possessing either of these cars. Certainly it is fruitless to suggest that any other car equals them on this score. Just as certainly they stand alone in beauty, in spite of vain but understandable attempts to imitate their style.

Again, there are no cars in all the world so safe to drive or so easy to master under any conditions of road, grade or traffic. For in no other cars can you shift gears so quickly and so easily, because no others have the new Cadillac-La Salle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission, which is almost instantaneous in action as well as clashless in operation.

No other cars have brakes that are so powerful, yet so velvet-like in grip, or that operate with so slight a pedal pressure, because no other cars have the new Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical Effortless Four-Wheel Brakes, the most effective braking system ever developed. Nor have any other cars developed a steering mechanism to an equal degree of ease.

Then add to these advantages the Cadillac-La Salle crystal clear, non-shatterable Security-Plate Glass which forever removes the hazard of flying glass fragments and you have features of safety that are of priceless value to you and your family.

It is really very easy to appraise the field of fine cars and confirm your own impression that, after all, there is nothing that can possibly equal Cadillac or the Cadillac-built La Salle in beauty, safety, ease, performance or value.

However generous the trading allowance offered on behalf of some other car, you know that, were you to yield, the money could in no way compensate for all that you would miss.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $7000—all prices f.o.b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.

AIR PIONEERS SEE U. S. AS LEADER IN AERONAUTICS

Industry Now Worth 100 Millions, Growing.

Two men who flew airplanes when little was known of flying and who built them when little was known of building them, met last night in the Stevens hotel to swap stories of the early days. They were the "Early Birds," a newly formed group of pioneers who made of canvas, spruce, and twisted wires the queer contraptions called flying machines, who flew them, and lived to tell of the flying.

Gathered here for the first international air exposition, they told with levity of crack-ups and barn-storming jaunts in the days when aviation was regarded as a foolhardy experiment. And they looked into the future to a day when airplanes will carry the cream of the nation's commerce and trans-oceanic air travel will be a safe and expedient venture.

Among those at the reunion were Marjorie Stinson, the pioneer woman flyer; Jack Harding, round the world flyer; Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, the Rockford flyers; Anthony Fokker, designer and producer of the plane that bears his name; Igor Sikorsky, maker of the first multi-motored ships; Col. Charles De. F. Chandler, William B. Stout, who in 1894 built his first ship of rubber bands; P. G. B. Morriss, who recalled the days when a drift indicator was a piece of string tied to the wing; Maj. Reed Landis of the Chicago Aero commission; white haired Sol Dickinson, who learned to fly at 62 and who declares that he will fly at 92, and many others.

Sees America World Leader.

Anthony Fokker, the German who came here to manufacture his planes, expressed a conviction that America will lead the world in commercial aviation. Sikorsky declared that more development will be made in aviation in the next ten years than has been made in the last twenty-five. A practical solution of transoceanic flight will be found within that time he said.

Col. Paul Henderson, chairman of the Chicago aero commission, who welcomed the flyers here, declared that Chicago needed more landing facilities and predicted that when the next air show comes to Chicago the planes will be able to land on the lake front with a ten minute walk from the exposition hall.

Sees Shortage of Flyers.

Crowds continued to file into the Coliseum, the First Regiment armory, and the Greer building yesterday to view the spectacle of the air show, while aircraft manufacturers met during the day to plan the expansion of the industry. Maj. Lester D. Gardner, head of the aeronautical chamber of commerce, declared that the aircraft industry will increase during the next year to $300,000,000.
$300,000,000.

In a message to President Coolidge, Maj. Gardner presented a summary of the year's activity in the industry and pointed out some of the new questions that have arisen during the year. Air transportation has developed to a point where there is a serious shortage of thoroughly trained personnel, the report stated.

POLICEMAN DIES; BLAME ACCIDENT OF 2 YEARS' AGO

Policeman James Mescall, 40 years old, 7621 South Sangamon street, died yesterday, supposedly of a cerebral hemorrhage. He had suffered severe headaches since two years ago, when he was thrown from a detective bureau squad car in a collision with another automobile. He had been a policeman for fourteen years.

This death and one other during the day raised Cook county's 1928 motor toll to 965. The other victim:

Louis Creager, 80 years old, 2311 Wentworth avenue. Killed near his home by a roadster driven by Jerome Scarmel, 19 years old, 1813 Cortland avenue.

LABOR IN DECLINING INDUSTRIES.

President Green of the American Federation of Labor has put his organization on record against what he calls the displacement of men by machinery. In taking this stand he has made the issue a bit lurid. "The American Federation of Labor," he stated, "will never permit a human scrap heap to be created in America." At the same time Mr. Green reiterated labor's five day, forty hour week policy.

What Mr. Green fears is an economic situation wherein there will be a permanent surplus of labor. What apparently he fails to recognize is that the evidence upon which he founds his fear is not ominous for industry in general, but is merely a condition in special, declining, contracting activities.

When Mr. Green urges agitation for a five day week and a curtailment of machine processes labor will act upon these suggestions only in the industries in which immutable economic forces are limiting expansion or threatening their existence. They are not likely to be so vigorously agitated in those flourishing industries whose future offers reward and recognition for enterprise on the part of its employés.

Mr. Green discusses an important problem, but we think he is overlooking some essential factors. In a number of industries, notably the coal mining and railroad fields, labor is fighting for existence without realizing perhaps that these particular industries are engaged in almost a death struggle against economic conditions. The problem consists in adjusting labor to these conditions, which do not affect industry in general.

Mr. Green proposes a formula. He says that if industry is operating at 80 per cent capacity, its employés can be kept on the pay roll if they labor 80 per cent of the working time. But in practice, although this system might offer temporary relief, it would soon prove self-destructive to labor. The process has been attempted in the coal fields of England, and England's treacherous financial and industrial situation is attributable in large part to its introduction.

We do not offer a mathematical remedy, and what we have to offer may not be welcome to those labor officials who look for improvement in doctrines. But our suggestion is that labor practice the virtue of hard work and devotion to its task in troubled industry. We know that it is particularly difficult for either an executive or an employé to put reliance in advancement through enthusiastic application to duty in a seemingly doomed trade. This enthusiasm exists in a prosperous industry and it explains the absence of serious labor differences there. It should be the duty of labor leaders to stimulate this enthusiasm in prostrate industries, and to resist the natural impulse of workers, alarmed at the prospect of extinction, to demand extra privilege at the crucial time when such consideration can ill afford to be granted them.

The railroads are not in a prosperous condition. The increased popularity, cheapness, and expansion of bus service threaten the railroad on one side, while the commercial development of the airplane now offers serious competition to rail transport, and promises greater competition in the future. At the same time the activities of the railroad industry are hampered by regulatory commissions so that there is little latitude for initiative on the part of the management or the employés.

Under this static and even downward condition in the railroad industry there is a genuine fear, which is not without foundation, that retrenchment will cost jobs. We sympathize with railroad workers in this predicament. It is not easy to be squeezed out of work into which a life of energy and competent service has been poured. The reaction seems to be for labor blindly to attempt to stave off disaster by demanding shorter hours and more pay. But these demands of labor further restrict railroad enterprise and encourage disaster. Patience and hard work are required in order to maintain an equilibrium between jobs and men until such time as this industry may again have a forward outlook.

The situation in the coal mining field is much the same as in the railroads. Except in 1916, when the operators were responsible for an unjustifiable advance in the price of coal, the poor conditions of the industry cannot be charged either to the manipulations of the operator or the miner. The competition of oil burning plants, the greater efficiency of power plants, the possibility for production made greater during the war than the market now justifies, are among the economic causes which have put coal mining on the skids. And labor here in its fight for life has taken the wrong course in agitating for greater privilege. If not enthusiasm at least resignation to circumstances which may be removed in time should dominate the labor outlook.

There is no evidence that industry as a whole will slough off its workers into a "human scrap heap." But there is the prospect that men will be out of work in declining industries should they continue to press their demands without regard for the ability of those industries to stand up under the increased burdens of production and operating costs.

FEDERAL AID FOR THE ILLINOIS WATERWAY.

Representative Edward E. Denison of Illinois will endeavor to have congress amend the rivers and harbors bill by adding an appropriation of $3,186,000 for the Illinois waterway. The state undertook this work at its own expense. It was estimated that $20,000,000 would do it and an issue of bonds was authorized.

It will not astonish any one familiar with recent state administration here to learn that there will not be enough money to complete the work and it would require the submission of another and supplementary bond issue for approval. If the state had sufficient available funds for the work it would proceed as it had planned and offer this stretch of waterway as its contribution to the lakes to the gulf project. As federal waterway appropriations go the amount asked for is inconsiderable and it is difficult to see how any reasonable objection can be made.

Mr. Denison points out that the federal government purchased the Cape Cod canal for $11,000,000 to take it off the hands of private owners who wanted to get rid of it. The uses of that canal are trivial as compared with the uses of the gulf waterway. In importance the two cannot stand together. It also is pointed out that the government has made the Warrior river improvement entirely within the state of Alabama and is maintaining a barge service on it. Many states have received benefit of federal waterway appropriations and no other waterway has the value of the lakes to the gulf course.

There ought not to be any opposition to the proposal that the federal government take up the work in the Illinois river where the state is forced to drop it. President Elect Hoover has in his program a policy of developing inland transportation for the benefit of the agricultural regions, and here is the greatest of all the inland water lines. The whole project quite properly might have been one of federal undertaking. There was nothing in it inconsistent with the general purposes of the rivers and harbors bill and money has been spent freely elsewhere for less valuable projects.

It happens that only part help is needed. That will be required if considerable delay is to be avoided. If the full use of the waterway in the shortest time is to be had the federal government must take up the work when the state has exhausted its available money. This is so reasonable and fair that it should win in congress by its self-evident merit.

THE AIR SHOW.

Properly, the most extensive showing of aviation exhibits heretofore assembled is being conducted in Chicago. Fortunately, the International Aeronautical exposition has attracted a large attendance here. Among the visitors, we hope, are Chicago investors interested in advancing the fortune of this city together with their own estates.

Establishment of aircraft enterprises, whether in the direction of manufacture or operation and investment in these undertakings, are no longer incautious ventures. Technical defects have been overcome and technical processes are being perfected and refined in line with contemporary conceptions of comfort and luxury in travel. These improvements are demonstrated in the airplane show.

There is now the opportunity for productive capital to extend and hasten the development of aviation. The opportunity has been realized to some extent and has led to rivalry among cities for leadership. St. Louis and Detroit must not take this activity from Chicago which is the natural focal point for the industry. But it will be taken from Chicago unless it is stimulated by Chicago business men.

It is not necessary to argue the benefits to Chicago from the concentration here of the aviation industry. But there is a point which may have been obscured in discussions of the Chicago interests to be served. Whether Chicago capital engages in the production of airplane equipment or in the operation of air transport systems, this city is destined by geographical location to hold its place as the hub of the nation's airways. It will hold this place whether the lines are owned by New York interests or by San Francisco interests. There is the danger of absentee ownership and the railroad situation here is sufficient warning against such a development. The welfare of our citizens would be discriminated against and all improvements of general importance would be resisted and granted only under pressure.

The first international air exposition was not held in Chicago without deliberation. The very fact that it was brought here should suggest that the most experienced aviation interests consider Chicago strategically important as the air city of the country. It is an invitation that we cannot well ignore. We are glad that the show is here and we think that it should be a permanent annual Chicago institution. It can be made a regular Chicago event if Chicago interests justify it by accepting the opportunity.

Editorial of the Day

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

[Michigan State Journal.]

There is the matter of the Nicaraguan canal—not actually built but on paper and in the minds of some. The presence of Mr. Hoover in that country has served to call attention to the matter anew. President Diaz and President Elect Moncada join in asking Mr. Hoover's support of the project. The suggestion may have to be thought of anew in the United States.

Within the last year there has been some intimation dropped to the press indicating that another canal is contemplated in official circles. It is commonly known that Panama traffic has exceeded all expectation. Whether there is prospect that the capacity of the Panama canal is likely to be exceeded is not generally known.

One of the big considerations in connection with the present canal is national defense. Another canal would add to the security the present canal affords. It will be remembered that it was the historic run of the battleship Oregon around Cape Horn at the time of the Spanish-American war that convinced the American public of the worth of a canal as a means of national defense.

The length of the Nicaraguan canal as originally surveyed was 170 miles, but of this length something like 120 miles is free navigation in the San Juan river and in Lake Nicaragua, a large body of water. As for excavation, it would be mostly through flat country. There is no place of difficulty comparable to Culebra cut. The old estimate of cost was $180,000,000. That does not seem large in these days.

STILL OTHER HAZARDS OF SPRAY PAINTING.

In addition to the hazards due to solvents, the men who paint by means of sprays are likely to be harmed by dust and poisoned by lead. Painting is very likely to be a dusty trade. Old paints must be removed, surfaces must be smoothed, sandpapering is a part of the job. Silicosis is a condition of the lungs out of which some lung diseases and breathing symptoms are prone to develop. Painters are somewhat prone to develop silicosis. Silicosis as a hazard of the spray painting trade can be eliminated if the painter does his sandpapering and other smoothing and preparatory operations while in a current of air which blows by his head and toward the job.

Lead poisoning is another hazard in spray painting. The danger starts with the removal of the old paint by means of sandpaper. It is continued when lead constitutes a part of the new paint. In sandpapering old paint and in spraying lead paints the spray is in the inspired air. All authorities are agreed as to the very great number of poisons that enter the body with the inspired air. There is no protecting process in the lungs similar to some of those which we find in the digestive assimilation pathway.

So great is the danger of lead poisoning in spray painting that Drs. Smyth say the use of sprays containing over 1 per cent lead should be discontinued and that any manufacturer who uses such paints in sprays should be penalized. Spray paints containing less than this proportion of lead can be used with safety, provided the spraying is done in cabinets and that a current of air travels past the head of the painter, then past the job, to the exhaust, going at the rate of 150 to 200 feet per minute. At times it is advisable for the sprayer to use a helmet, preferably one in which there is a little air pressure.

Taking proper precautions, spray painting is a reasonably safe job.

PUNISHING POOR EATER.

E. S. I. writes: I have observed certain methods of punishing a boy with poor appetite, who is finicky about eating and has sinus trouble and a tendency to nose bleed. I do not think the methods proper, and I want your opinion.

1. Should a parent put mustard on a child's tongue as a punishment?

2. Would the mustard cause blisters on the tongue, throat, and stomach, as it does on the skin?

3. Should a child be given one teaspoonful of cod liver oil three times a day, or three teaspoonsful once a day?

4. If a parent boxes a child's ears, will that cause sinus trouble or nose bleed?

5. Should a child be given medicine that has stood in the bottle three months or longer?

REPLY:

1 and 2. While mustard will cause a blister on the skin, it will not have the same effect on the child's tongue or stomach, because it is diluted and washed away.

3. Probably three times a day, but there is probably no great difference. The dose you mention is somewhat small.

4. Not sinus trouble. Nose bleed is possible. So is rupture of the ear drum.

5. Depends on the medicine. Most alcoholic solutions keep well.

PROPER WEIGHT.

N. F. W. writes: 1. A table prepared by an insurance company gives the weight of a man 5 feet 10 inches as 181 pounds. I can't believe this is right. Will you please give me the correct weight?

2. Is it injurious for a man 70 years old, hale and hearty, to take a hot shower bath, followed by a cold shower, every morning?

REPLY:

1. 158 pounds is about the right weight for your height. Much depends on the size of the bones, length of body, and general build.

2. No. I assume after the bath the man's skin is pink and he feels aglow.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

THE CASE OF A AND B.

Maywood, Ill., Nov. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A owns a piece of property subject to a mortgage. He sells an undivided one-half interest in the property to B. According to the wording of the deed, B accepts the property subject to the mortgage, one-half of which he assumes and agrees to pay. The mortgagor is foreclosing and asks for a deficiency judgment against A. and B.

B claims that he is not liable for the deficiency because he has never signed any agreement in which he has accepted the liability. The only place that such a statement appears is in the deed made by A. B's signature does not appear on the deed. Can the mortgagor obtain a judgment against B for the deficiency?

W. E. W.

It would be necessary to prove facts from which presumption of B's acceptance of the deed would arise.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BROKE HIS LEASE.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I signed a lease for an apartment, moved in, and vacated it two months before the lease expired because the amount of rent was beyond my means. I am married, have one child, and am earning $32.50 per week. 1. Can the lessor garnishee my salary? 2. How much could be deducted from my salary per week?

E. C. M.

1. Yes. 2. All in excess of the $15 a week exemption.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TERMINATING A GUARDIANSHIP.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In December I will be 18 and a sum of money, which is now under the guardianship of my father, will be mine. 1. Does the money automatically become mine or [2] must it be put in my name by legal process? 3. How long after my birthday will it take to become mine?

X. Y. Z.

1. Probably not, although the facts might be such as to justify an affirmative answer. 2. Your father should pay the money over to you and have the estate closed. 3. About the same length of time that it commonly takes to settle probate estates after the end of the year.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THIS BEING THE only day in the year that the Linebook comes out, may we not for the sake of the great, eager public that is even now bolting down its soft boiled breakfast eggs, shells and all, and shoving its pockets full of hot buttered toast in a frenzy of excitement to get out into the great busy street where it may grab the new Linebook of 1928, observe that the great literary sensation of the year will be found on sale at all book stores and news stands? And old Hugh Donaldson, the canny Scot, will swing wide the great doors of the Tribune Public Service at 8:30 by the clock this morning, and likewise the booth in the Tribune Tower will be on the job. There are many contribs in the new book, a very fascinating cover by Bolin, and many paragraphs. Or so we understand. You remember the elder Dumas once said to his son: "Have you read my new book?" "No, father," said son, "have you?" So really we cannot tell you whether it's there or not. But you can soon find out.

"I'LL WIPE OUT CRIME!" said our new State's Attorney Swanson yesterday. Which settles the crime situation. Now, with that out, we wish the state's attorney would make the flappers wear woolen socks. They've got plenty of fur coats, but nothing but thin silk stockings on their knees. Something's got to be done about this.

Two Columns, Bah! We Demand the Whole Page.

Dick: One of our newspapers down here in Illinoy gave you a whole two column editorial, full length of the paper, too. The editor, or the office devil, or the janitor, or whoever wrote it was just as mad at you as all getout because you don't seem to think the eighteenth amendment was in George Washington's inaugural address. But, anyhow, he gave you a two column editorial. Will you give him a Linebook?

FREEDOM.

I escaped you as the bee
Wrangles from the balmy rose
While in thick-set petals he Tangles filmy wings and toes.

I escaped you as the mouse
Drunken reels into the furrow
While he sees his stubble house
Turn beneath the springtime harrow.

You were comfort. You were sweet.
You are lost, and no returning!
Now I stand on my two feet.
Freedom is a frosty morning.

JESSICA NELSON NORTH.

AFTER READING about the casualties among the hunters in the Wisconsin and Michigan woods, we are becoming convinced that something should be done to disarm the deer in those sections. Why, every one of those deer must carry a shotgun, two revolvers, a machine gun, and a club. They've just got to quit picking on the hunters.

Now—Now—We Haven't Said—No, We Have Not!

Drat you, Dick! I was just on the point of going over to 1 South Dearborn street and giving Old Hugh Donaldson my order for a dozen Linebooks to send to my friends. Now a rumor gets around that maybe "I'm for Al and Katie" is in the thing. Why, you lowdown———! Now, I'll have to order four dozen!

Oh, for th' Love o' Mocha!

Dick: Java listen to a tale the likes of this? I recoiled at the apparent apparition of mine Milwaukee host, Peddybode, when he appeared at my bedside Sunday morn deftly balancing a tray containing a pot of coffee with cup and saucer accompaniment. When he urged that I quaff its contents I lurched back with the poise of a frightened gazelle and bade him begone. What me, a proud product of the Lower Five and noted for my democratic simplicity, drink coffee in bed! Not on your tin whiskers. Peddy vouchsafed that it was the vogue among the better classes to sip the delectable beverage in the hay prior to assuming the duties of the day. What would Paddy the Pig, Eddie the Louse, Mickey the Goat, Duffy the Sailor, and Matt the Rat, the playmates of my youth back of the yards, say when they heard that their uncouth contemporary of those never to be forgotten days had ensconced himself in the fringe of the upper Ten and was addicted to their heinous dissipations? FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1863.

CINCINNATI.—Capt. W. Anderson, assistant adjutant general, department of Ohio, received the following dispatch from Maj. Gen. A. E. Burnside at Knoxville, dated Nov. 30: "The enemy attacked us early this morning, but we repulsed them with considerable loss. All is well."

KNOXVILLE.—[Nov. 30.] — The great rebel blow anxiously awaited was struck. Reinforced by the troops of Sam Jones, Jackson, and Williams, Longstreet sought to annihilate the Army of the Ohio by coup de guerre. Our pickets were driven in early in the morning. Then suddenly the rebel storming party, led by the 16th and 17th Georgia and 13th Mississippi, under cover of our retreating men, came to the assault on Fort Saunders. They approached to within 100 yards of the fort unharmed. Then commenced a series of desperate attacks, stubborn resistance, death, carnage, and horror scarcely equaled during the war. These men were the veterans of the Potomac—the flower of Longstreet's army—and, confident of victory, plunged into a boiling hell of lead. Wires had been stretched from stump to stump, and over these the advancing enemy fell in confused heaps, the dead and dying all about them. Our artillerymen hurled shells by hand, but still forward came the doomed rebels. The ground was carpeted with the slain. Not one on their side faltered—not a score of the gallant stormers escaped. One thousand killed, wounded, and prisoners was the cost of the assault.

WASHINGTON.—The town is rife with rumors of Meade's removal from command of the Army of the Potomac, and several names are suggested as his successor.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1898.

CHICAGO.—Col. Marcus Kavanagh will succeed Judge John Barton Payne on the Superior court bench. He received the appointment from Gov. John R. Tanner yesterday.

CHICAGO.—Spanking has been adopted as the official method of punishment at the Bridewell. While President John G. Shortall of the Illinois Humane society and others have been advocating the establishment of the whipping post in Illinois, Superintendent Adolph Sturm of the Bridewell has discovered that a broad leather paddle, applied at the right time and place, is far more effective in maintaining discipline among his unruly boarders than the dark cell or the old fashioned whipping.

CHICAGO.—James Irwin, incoming president of the county board, announced that James H. Graham will be appointed superintendent of the county hospital.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1918.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Wilson, accompanied by his wife and officials, who will attend the Paris peace conference, left for New York this morning at 1 o'clock. The President's suite comprises approximately 100 persons and nearly 100 other officials, advisers, experts, clerks, and stenographers already have gone to Paris. The President will sail from New York early today on the George Washington.

NEW YORK.—Vice Admiral Henry T. Mayo announced the navy's plans for convoying the George Washington and President Wilson's party across the Atlantic. The battleship Pennsylvania will travel ahead of the George Washington all the way across. Five destroyers will also go across, but numerous other destroyers will accompany the President's ship.

LONDON.—It is understood that the representatives of all the ten allies in conference at the foreign ministry were unanimously in favor of demanding that Holland hand over to the allies the former kaiser and his eldest son, the former crown prince.

CHICAGO.—Praises of Illinois were sounded last night at special meetings to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the admission of the state into the Union, which occurred yesterday.

OOSTERLAND, Holland.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, interned in the small cottage of the village pastor on the island of Wieringen, denied that as crown prince he had renounced his claim to the German throne.

IF STOPPED ON THE HIGHWAY.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 3.—In regard to Orr's cartoon whether to stop or not to stop if halted on the highway by men with guns, here is my solution: Carry a sawed-off shot gun [like lots of people do] and when you are hailed to stop, let go with both barrels. If they happen to be holdup men, the mayor, city council, and scores of citizens' committees will greet you as a hero and pin medals on your breast. If they happen to be prohibition officers, there is also no harm done, you have simply given them a taste of their own medicine and thousands of fellow citizens will flock to get on the jury to exonerate you.

STATE RIGHTS.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 1.—Our laws in Michigan suit us in Michigan. We handle these booze venders the way it suits us—not you. If we fill our jails with life termers for peddling booze it's our affair and we're going to keep right on filling them. The trouble is the law isn't strict enough—it should also take in cigaret dealers—but that will come—and then when we have got rid of these disgusting evils, old Michigan will be a pretty decent place to live in.

Detroit has been a devil ridden city. What with its school kids, boys and girls, smoking and drinking, Sunday theaters instead of church going, and rum runners and dope peddlers it's getting to be as ungodly as your own rotten city, Chicago. No, sir, we are going to stop it, even if we put half our population in jail—and, what's more, we don't want any advice from THE TRIBUNE.

AGREES WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—It is a pleasure to take the time to say to you that your editorials on President Coolidge's recent speech must reflect the thought and conviction of all serious minded people in these United States.

Only a few, relatively, are opposed to such a policy as the President outlined, but they need watching, because they are forever seeking an audience for their queer doctrine, which gives what they have to say an importance out of all proportion to the strength of their arguments.

We respect most those individuals who keep their minds and their bodies in good healthy, vigorous condition, and the same is true of nations.

ARMORED SHIPS.

Riverside, Ill., Dec. 1.—In a recent editorial you state that the British cruisers of the latest type are equipped with 8 inch guns that have a range of about 5 kilometers in excess of the 14 inch guns with which most of the American ships are supplied. You say that the superior speed of the English vessels would enable them to easily sink the American ships.

If you will refer to the tests by Dr. Krupp's assistants on nickel-chrome armored plate, with a surface of chilled steel, you will note that an 8 inch shell can only penetrate a trifle more than it's own caliber of plate at point-blank range, and at 30 kilometers would not cause a battleship the slightest harm. The battle of Tsushima straits failed to show a single instance where a 12 inch shell managed to pierce the side or turret armor of a Russian ship at 7,500 yards. The fact of the matter is that the metallurgist at present is several jumps ahead of the powder chemist.

MR. HENNING ON TAXES.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—I have read with great interest the articles written by your correspondent, Mr. Arthur Sears Henning, on the income tax department. THE TRIBUNE is to be congratulated for the information which it has given the general public on this question. Mr. Henning is also to be congratulated in getting the information together to be presented to the public in such a masterful way.

I am of the opinion that other departments of the government should be investigated for the information of the public—namely: the office of the secretary of agriculture, particularly the handling of the grain future trading act.

PREFERS SAARINEN PLAN.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—I regret the publication of the three pictures of the Tribune Tower, the Saarinen drawing, and the Telephone building in Sunday's paper. The act of inclusion was not in good taste; there should be no further mention of pros and cons, on the subject, now that the damage is done.

Without expressing any opinion of the artistic value of the Tribune Tower, as it stands, I say that the rejected design of Saarinen is much superior, and how any person of perception could compare it with that Telephone building is beyond my comprehension.

CITY AND TRANSIT LINES AGREE TO DRAFT ORDINANCE

Consideration of Bill to Start Thursday.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The negotiations upon a new transit ordinance took a serious trend yesterday. The representatives of the city and the companies agreed they will start considering the city's ordinance Thursday morning and work on amendments each morning and afternoon until they have agreed upon the city's draft, or until they decide there are stumbling blocks which one side or the other will not hurdle. John G. Drennan, one of the assistant corporation counsels, predicted that the conferees will complete the city's draft of the ordinance by Saturday noon. Others were not so optimistic.

Draft Fixes 5½ Per Cent Return.

The draft of the ordinance as it now stands has been approved by the council subcommittee on transportation. This provides that the return to the proposed new company shall be 5½ per cent on the present investment of about $257,000,000 in the Surface Lines and Elevated roads; and that new money for extensions and improvements shall be put in at its cost. The companies have been asking a 6½ per cent return on present investments.

In addition to the 5½ or 6½ per cent return, it is proposed that companies shall have one mill for each revenue passenger carried. One of the questions to be settled is whether there shall be a compromise.

"It is essential that the new company start with 6½ per cent return plus the one mill," said Weymouth Kirkland, representing the Chicago Railways company. "If that is not done, we might just as well quit. Later the rate of return will be determined by the local transit commission."

Patrick J. Lucey, attorney for the elevated lines, favored that view, and Leonard A. Busby, president of the Chicago City Railway company, suggested that the rate of return be deferred until other matters in the ordinance had been agreed upon.

Interest Question at Issue.

Another point at issue was whether the city would invest its $54,000,000 traction fund in transportation with or without interest. The city's representatives want interest and the companies offered no objection.

Only two other points of importance were discussed in the two hour session. One of the these relates to the length of franchise and the other to subway construction.

The negotiators tentatively agreed that the ordinance when once granted shall continue in force until terminated by the provisions of the ordinance, which provides for termination upon purchase. It is estimated that the city will be able to finance the purchase in about 40 years, out of its share of the transit profits.

Subcommittee to Meet.

When the conferees had adjourned, the right of the aldermen, lawyers, and engineers of the city to continue negotiations, under their instructions, was raised. That there may be no question about it, a meeting of the subcommittee was called by Ald. E. I. Frankhauser for tomorrow morning. It may be that the entire subcommittee, in lieu of its representatives, will take up the work of negotiating.

2-LEVEL HIGHWAY ENGINEERS WILL MEET TOMORROW

The recently appointed technical advisory committee of the Chicago west park commission, to which has been assigned the task of developing plans for the proposed two-level highway between Wacker drive and Austin boulevard, has been called by Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the park commission, to meet at the Mid West Athletic club tomorrow night at 6 o'clock. It is the intention of Dr. Robertson to induce the committee to begin its activities immediately, with a view to having a plan in such shape that it may be available for the legislature shortly after Jan. 1.

New York Has Air Mail Service to Miami, Florida

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Mayor Walker received today letters from Mayor E. G. Sewell of Miami, Fla., and Mayor E. D. Bass of Chattanooga, Tenn., announcing the inauguration of air mail service connecting those cities with New York.

CITY MUST SPEED METER SETTING, ALDERMEN TOLD

Water meter installation must proceed on a larger scale to comply with the demands of the war department, Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [34th] announced yesterday at a council subcommittee meeting. Pending a report by the Western Society of Engineers, which is expected to settle the question of the awarding of a contract for 11,400 meters, authority was given to the commissioner of public works to buy 2,500 meters.

Ald. Kaindl said 4,117 buildings are now connected for meter service and that the program for the next ten years calls for the installation of 650,000 meters. The average cost of meters, he said, is $14 and installation costs from $50 to $60. In some instances the city is required to construct meter vaults, and the total maintenance cost is estimated at four and a half million dollars yearly.

This makes the total cost over the ten year period from $65,000,000 to $70,000,000, the alderman stated, and as the annual income of the water bureau now is but $14,000,000, he said the balance would be insufficient for erection and maintenance of pumping stations, mains, etc.

He said either the rates would have to be increased or any new buildings required would have to be paid for out of bond issues.

LAWYERS CLASH OVER TESTIMONY AT TAXI HEARING

Seek Injunction Today Against Stench Bombs.

Testimony of former Alderman Arthur F. Albert concerning the ethics used in settling a suit between the Checker Cab Manufacturing company and the Checker Taxicab company last night caused a heated argument which nearly resulted in fisticuffs between the opposing lawyers. The incident, in addition to the constant bickering of the attorneys, brought a reprimand from Master in Chancery Thomas J. Peden, conducting the hearings, and a threat to take the next offender before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Injunction Is Sought.

One phase of the case which came to light last night will be taken before Judge Wilkerson today. Attorneys for the manufacturing company will present a petition for a temporary injunction to restrain the officials of the taxi company from throwing stench bombs or doing personal violence.

The injunction is based upon the fact that a stench bomb was thrown into the apartment of Attorney L. A. Stebbins, representing the former concern, at 4808 Dorchester avenue, Thanksgiving night. They will also cite the testimony of Mrs. Rose Friedman, who said that she had been told her husband would be killed if he didn't withdraw from the suit.

Trace Commissions.

During the afternoon session Sidney Gordon, brother of Harry Gordon, vice president of the taxi company, was identified as the mysterious Jack Friedman who received commissions on equipment sold to Checker drivers.

ROB FINANCIER'S HOME OF $100,000 GEMS AND SILVER

Burglar Loot Includes $61,000 Necklace.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Jewelry and silverware worth nearly $100,000 were stolen from the home of Frank Bailey, financier, in Brooklyn, between midnight and 6 a. m. today, he reported to the police.

The loot was taken from the room on the second floor in which Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were sleeping. It included a $61,000 pearl necklace which he recently had given her.

Climb Six Foot Wall.

The Bailey home is the second from the corner of Lafayette avenue, in Clinton, which is known as "Millionaires' row." The burglars climbed a six foot brick wall in Lafayette avenue, thus getting into the rear yard of the home of Dr. Harry F. Kramer. By hurdling a low hedge they were in the rear yard of the Bailey home.

The house, of brown stone and brick, has a basement and four stories. On the rear yard there are three basement windows and a door. The windows are iron barred and the door is of iron.

Saw Away Four Bars.

The burglars sawed away four bars from one of the windows, then used a glass cutter to make a hole through which the catch could be reached. They opened the window and slid in through the space they had made.

In the cellar a terrier belonging to the family started after them, but they snatched the dog up and locked him in a wash room.

Besides the necklace the burglars got two diamond rings, one of Mrs. Bailey's engagement rings, and household silver which made up the sum in value between $75,000 and $100,000.

ARRAIGN 113 CAUGHT IN RAIDS.

Sixty men arrested Saturday night in raids on beer flats and disorderly houses on the north side were arraigned yesterday before Judge Joseph L. McCarthy. Forty-four were dismissed and the others fined. Fifty men and three women, tried by Judge John J. Lupe, were all given fines.

PIONEERS OF PROGRESS

"My husband objected to my smoking until I began to use Pebeco," writes Mrs. Walter H. Ferguson of St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Ferguson is just like thousands of other young married women of this modern age. Pretty, vivacious, feminine to the finger-tips. She smokes—of course. And like most husbands, hers disapproves. Or did—until she began to use Pebeco . . .

Read this Interesting Letter from Mrs. Walter H. Ferguson of St. Louis, Mo.

In the little community where I live we have quite a lively younger married set. We have bridges, teas and little parties—and of course all the women smoke.

My husband objected strenuously. He claimed it was discoloring my teeth and leaving an unpleasant tobacco odor on my breath. And though I enjoyed smoking so much, I was tempted to give it up entirely.

My dentist advised me to use Pebeco Tooth Paste. I was soon happy to notice that my teeth were once more white and shining. The stale tobacco breath had vanished and my mouth felt deliciously clean and moist.

Pebeco is a great help to women smokers.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) Mrs. Walter H. Ferguson

Most men know from experience the effects of habitual smoking. Discolored teeth. Dry mouth. Still worse—a stale tobacco breath.

Unpleasant enough—even in a man. But oh—so ruinous to a woman's charm!

For more than thirty years veteran smokers have relied on Pebeco Tooth Paste to keep their teeth white and stainless. Mouth fresh and wholesome. Breath immaculate.

Pebeco is different in formula and action from any other tooth paste.

It has a sharp, invigorating taste—due to its special ingredients. This unique flavor explains its remarkable cleansing qualities. For it stimulates the saliva. Keeps it flowing normally hours after you brush your teeth.

Tobacco stains and disagreeable taste are washed away. Breath is sweetened—purified. Harmful mouth acids are neutralized—decay prevented.

Pebeco polishes beautifully, too. It keeps your teeth white and sparkling. Your gums firm and healthy.

CHICAGOANS WIN SIX FIRST PRIZES AT HORSE SHOW

Chicago owned horses accounted for a large share of the ribbons in the harness and saddle classes decided last night at the International Live Stock exposition horse show.

In the light harness class, John R. Thompson won first place with his chestnut mare, Ringmistress, and third with Leading Article. Mrs. A. C. Thompson took the second and fourth ties with Deep Thot and Scottish Rite, driving Deep Thot herself.

Mr. Thompson was successful also in the harness pony event, teams. His Braishfield Lois and Fire Lass showed excellent form. Second in this class went to Mrs. Harry G. Goelitz, third to Hely Pony farm and fourth to Gorham and Simpson.

Two Others Win Firsts.

Another Chicagoan to win first place was Dr. Daniel A. Orth, who accounted for the blue in the roadster class. Mrs. Thompson won the tandem harness contest.

Summarized results follow:

Draft horses—Wilson & company, first; Union Stockyard and Transfer company, second and third; Boulder Bridge farm, fourth.

Three gaited saddle horses—Likely Lady, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Palmer, first; Burton A. Howe, second; Raymond T. Smith, third; Mrs. H. D. Binks, fourth.

Five gaited mares—Joanna Jones, owned by Miss Virginia Scheu, first; R. E. Moreland, second; S. O. Johnson, third; Mrs. Daniel A. Orth, fourth.

Roadsters—Lillian Sydles, owned by Dr. Daniel A. Orth, first; R. E. Moreland, second; Minton Hickory Mountain stables, third; R. B. Tucker, fourth.

Ladies' three gaited saddle horses—Likely Lady, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Palmer, first; Raymond T. Smith, second; Mrs. A. C. Thompson, third; Mrs. H. D. Binks, fourth.

Tandem harness horses—Queen Elizabeth and Earl of Leicester, owned by Mrs. A. C. Thompson, first; John R. Thompson, second; Nathan L. Jones, third; William E. Dee, fourth.

Hunters—Golden Sunset, owned by Sunset farm, first; Howard C. Patton, second; Mrs. Bert H. Laudermilk, third; Dr. H. W. Rich, fourth.

During the day the grain judges found that the wheat and oats championships should go to residents of the Bitter Root valley, Mont. C. Edson Smith of Corvallis was the wheat winner, and C. Ivan Gustafson of Victor the producer of the best oats shown.

Mr. Smith wore the wheat crown last year. Herman Trell of Webley, Peace River country, Alberta, Canada, was awarded the reserve title yesterday. The championship was won with a sample of hard red winter wheat. The reserve is a hard red spring wheat.

The new oats titleholder succeeds Mr. Trell, who held the championship last year. J. F. Meinzer of La Jara, Col., captured the reserve oats championship.

Kentucky U. Sheep Champion.

The University of Kentucky was awarded the championship in the fat Shropshire sheep section and the reserve honor went to the University of Wisconsin. Kentucky also won the championship and reserve championship in the Cheviot sheep class, and then won the Southdown sheep championship.

The championship and reserve championship titles in the fat Lincoln sheep division went to H. M. Lee, Highgate, Ontario, Canada. Another dominion sheep breeder, Charles J. Shore of Glanworth, Ontario, Canada, won the fat Cotswold sheep championship, the reserve going to Harvey T. Crandall, Cass City, Mich.

The Dorset sheep championship was awarded to the Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kas., while the reserve was won by Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Humphrey Snell of Clinton, Ontario, Canada, won the championship and reserve title in the fat Leicester sheep class.

Colleges Win Swine Titles.

Agricultural colleges not only carried away most of the sheep prizes but also predominated in the swine championships.

Iowa State college, at Ames, captured the big prize in the fat Berkshire hog section, Purdue winning the reserve.

The Iowa college was crowded out in the fat Chester White hog class, the honor going to Dr. James Swallum, Storm Lake, Ia., but the Ames school came in for the highest honor in the Chester White pen class.

Wilson & Co. of Chicago, with Bonny Mac, annexed the championship in the draft gelding competition for horses and took the reserve championship with Highland Lad. Laddie II., owned by Truman's Pioneer Stud farm, Bushnell, Ill., captured the grand and senior championship for all classes of Shire stallions, the reserve going to Hobbs Lots Bohemian, exhibited by Leonard Sloan, Rushville, Ill.

Forty-five thousand attended the stock judging events during the day and the horse show at night.

Twelve hundred farm boys and girls paraded in the arena last night. The story of their work was told briefly on banners, which showed that there are 650,000 members of the Boys and Girls' club movement in America. They own 1,000,000 chickens, 175,000 head of live stock, and property valued at an average of $185 each.

Sybil Herring, 16 years old, of Cuba, Ill., and John Jackson, 16, of Baton Rouge, La., were awarded the two silver loving cups offered by Sir Thomas Lipton, British sportsman and exporter, for the best records in boys and girls' club work.

SUZANNE LEAVES FOR WEST; WON'T TALK OF WEDDING

After a day spent in hiding in Chicago Suzanne Lenglen, international tennis star, slipped aboard the Los Angeles limited of the Chicago and North Western railroad last night, locked herself in a drawing room, and was still uncommunicative about her reported matrimonial plans when the train left at 8:10 p. m.

Mlle. Lenglen and Thaddeus A. Winter of Pasadena left the Century at the Englewood station yesterday morning. Where they remained during the day was a mystery, and it was not known if Winter accompanied the tennis star when she continued her trip west.

Mlle. Lenglen was sought to answer rumors that she and Winter had been married or were about to be married.

ALL WALGREEN & ECONOMICAL STORES

Catarrh, one of the most loathsome of diseases, is caused by germs—wicked, vicious, persistent pests that multiply rapidly and by digging into and devouring the tender membrane cause soreness, swelling, inflammation and mucous discharges.

A few years ago, catarrh was considered incurable, because no one was clever enough to get together a formula that would spread over the membranes of the nasal tract a purifying substance in which catarrh germs could not exist.

But Opex changed all that and now all you have to do to get rid of catarrh is to spray on Opex and send the germs to eternity.

Just note the picture showing how Opex puts catarrh out of business. See the steam-like smoke going in one nostril and out the other.

When you use Opex you see the healing, purifying vapor as fine as smoke coming through the nostrils—and it will come through no matter how stuffed up they are.

That's the way to end catarrh and to lessen those annoying, ringing, buzzing noises in the ears. Many people say it is the only way.

The price of a bottle of Opex that will last two months is $1.00—it is easily worth one hundred dollars to any man or woman who wants clean, healthy nostrils free from disgusting mucous.

Opex usually ends the most stubborn case of catarrh in a few days, because it soothes and heals the sore, inflammed membranes, reduces the swelling and purifies the entire nasal tract.

To make it easy for catarrh sufferers in this vicinity to secure a bottle of Opex and a specially constructed Opex atomizer, all Walgreen and Economical stores have agreed to keep a supply on hand at all times and will gladly show any one how easy it is to get rid of disgusting catarrh at trifling cost.

Opex is for sale at all Walgreen and Economical stores with the distinct understanding that if you are not satisfied at the end of 30 days your money will be gladly returned. Opex is delightful to use because of its wholesome fragrance.

KEEP YOUR NOSTRILS AS CLEAN AS YOUR TEETH

180 SHIPS PASS BEFORE MIKADO IN ROYAL REVIEW

Greatest Naval Force Ever Seen in Far East.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Dec. 4.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—The greatest display of sea power ever gathered together in far eastern waters passed for inspection today before the newly enthroned Emperor Hirohito in the grand enthronement naval review. Approximately 180 fighting ships of all classes took part, ranging from the great super-dreadnoughts Mutsu and Nagato down to destroyers and gunboats.

The emperor arrived here this morning and boarded the battle cruiser Haruna. He had selected this for his flagship because it has just undergone a complete overhauling and refitting to bring it into line with the latest principles of battle cruiser construction.

U. S. Admiral Is Spectator.

The review was an international naval spectacle, for the four other signatories of the Washington naval limitation treaty had envoys present. The United States was represented by Admiral Mark L. Bristol, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet and the ranking visiting officer, who came on his flagship, the cruiser Pittsburgh.

Vice Admiral Sir Reginald Yorke Tyrwhitt, commander of the British Asiatic fleet, brought three of England's newest and finest 10,000 ton cruisers, the Kent, the Suffolk, and the Berwick. Rear Admiral Stoltz, commanding the French fleet in the far east, was there on his flagship, the cruiser Jules Michelet. Italy sent the small cruiser Libia with her ranking officer in the orient, Capt. Pini. Holland was represented by the cruiser Java.

Eight Capital Ships.

The Haruna is one of four sister ships with a tonnage of 27,500 and a speed of 27 knots. Two of her sisters, the Kongo and the Hiyei, took part in the review. As the flagship steamed along each of the six lines in which the navy was arrayed, she was preceded by the Kongo and followed by the Hiyei. The Kirishima, fourth of this class, was in drydock for reconditioning.

Five battleships brought the total of participating capital ships to eight. These included the Nagato and Mutsu of 33,800 tons and carrying 16 inch guns, the Yamashiro and Fuso, 30,600 tons, and the Hyuga, 31,250 tons. The Ise, sister ship of the Hyuga, is being reconditioned. The Mutsu had been the subject of prolonged discussion during the Washington conference, where the Japanese contended, successfully, that she had been completed before the conference opened and therefore should not be scrapped.

20 Modern Cruisers.

Twenty modern light cruisers, ranging from 10,000 tons down to 3,000, took part. Among these was the 10,000 ton Nachi, the first to be completed of six which Japan is building to match Britain's Kent class and the new cruisers authorized for the American navy. All twenty are post-war vessels and all were built in Japan.

Eighty-one destroyers, 34 submarines and more than 40 other vessels were in the review. The flying arm of the navy was represented by about 135 planes. Admiral Hyo Takarabe, minister of marines from 1924 to 1927, commanded the combined fleets.

Since the last enthronement review in December, 1915, for the Emperor Taisho, Japan has advanced from an uncertain fourth or fifth to an undisputed third place among the naval powers of the world, ranking behind only Great Britain and the United States. Japan has made substantial progress in naval design and construction and her dockyards rank among the best in the world. Among the new ships partaking in their first enthronement review were the 27,000-ton airplane carriers Kaga and Akagi.

BALDWIN 'PASSES BUCK' ON BRITTEN NAVY MEET PLAN

Says He "Cannot Express Further Opinion."

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin read in the house of commons this afternoon his reply to the suggestion of Congressman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, for a joint legislative conference in Canada on naval armaments.

It is understood that after the American state department had sidetracked a reply from Mr. Baldwin in his capacity as prime minister, the latter replied in his capacity as member of parliament. It was in this capacity, Mr. Britten says, in which he addressed Mr. Baldwin.

Baldwin's Reply.

Mr. Baldwin's reply follows:

"I have learned with great interest your proposal for a joint meeting of the members of the United States congress and members of the British parliament for a friendly discussion of the question of limitation of naval armaments. I cordially reciprocate the spirit which inspired your suggestion and share your earnest desire for a complete understanding between our two countries.

Will Say No More.

"In my speech of Nov. 13, however, I was not speaking of legislatures, but of executives of governments, and it was the absence of facilities for personal intervcourse between the ministers which I regretted.

"To remove this possible misunderstanding of my speech, I feel it would not be consistent with the courtesy I owe the United States government to express any further opinion on the proposal, about which, as I understand it, they have not been consulted, and I would, therefore, only repeat my appreciation of your friendly sentiments."

Britten Gets Reply.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Representative Fred A. Britten received a cablegram from Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of Great Britain today replying to the Britten proposal that a committee of parliament meet with the American naval affairs committee in Canada and negotiate a naval arms limitation agreement.

Mr. Britten declined to make the reply public, stating that he will do so after submitting it to his committee tomorrow. It is understood, however, that in his message Prime Minister Baldwin assures Mr. Britten that he is in sympathy with the proposal. For the reason, however, that Mr. Britten made his suggestion without consulting with the executive branch of the American government, the prime minister says that he does not feel at liberty to accord the American congressman a definite reply.

Avoids Offending Coolidge.

In this manner the British prime minister seeks to dispose of the matter without offending either Mr. Britten or President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg, whom the congressman did not take into his confidence. The procedure Mr. Baldwin adopted was the result of a conference Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, had with Mr. Kellogg last Saturday. At that time Mr. Kellogg declined to receive the Baldwin answer for transmission to Mr. Britten and made it clear he would be displeased if Mr. Baldwin were to fall in with the Britten procedure of ignoring the executive to which the conduct of foreign relations is committed by the constitution.

Mr. Britten professed to be greatly pleased with the statement of Mr. Baldwin that he is in sympathy with the proposal and it is deemed probable that the Illinois congressman now will carry the suggestion to President Coolidge with a plea that the executive lay the proposition formally before the British government. It is possible that the naval affairs committee will adopt a resolution tomorrow recommending this course.

Kenworthy Favors Proposal.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—[U. P.]—Commander J. K. Kenworthy, Labor member of parliament, cabled to Representative Fred A. Britten today as follows:

"As a member of parliament, I take advantage of our acquaintance to inform you that your proposal has been warmly received by a great number of my colleagues at Westminster. We believe nothing but good would come from a free, frank exchange of views between independent members of congress and independent members of parliament and still hope that the opportunity may be afforded."

League "Passes Buck."

Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, told the house of commons that the British delegation to the next meeting of the league of nations council would not be asked to make definite disarmament proposals. The whole question of disarmament has been referred to a preparatory commission, he explained.

Sir Austen, in response to another questioner, made an important announcement on Great Britain's attitude towards reparations and Germany's demand for evacuation of the Rhineland. He said that Germany is not justified legally in demanding evacuation, although from the viewpoint of policy, Great Britain would welcome early evacuation, irrespective of the allies' right to continue the occupation.

SEIZE TWO FOR HOLDUP.

Two young men alleged to be the robbers who held up Paul Hathamel, engineer of a ship that docked at 112th street and the Calumet river on Saturday, and took $180 from him, were arrested by the Kensington police yesterday. They are Barney Marowski, 23 years old, 10754 Hoxie avenue, and Michael Furlan, 24 years old, 10813 Calhoun avenue.

She Who Slapped Gets Slapped with $5 Fine

Mrs. Seba Polk, 54 years old, a real estate saleswoman living at 2629 Vernon avenue, was fined $5 yesterday in Wabash avenue court by Judge George A. Curran on a charge of disorderly conduct. She was arrested Sunday night on a Cottage Grove avenue street car for slapping the face of Mrs. C. McCabe, 63 years old, 6030 South Park way, who had objected to Mrs. Polk's stormy criticism of the conductor.

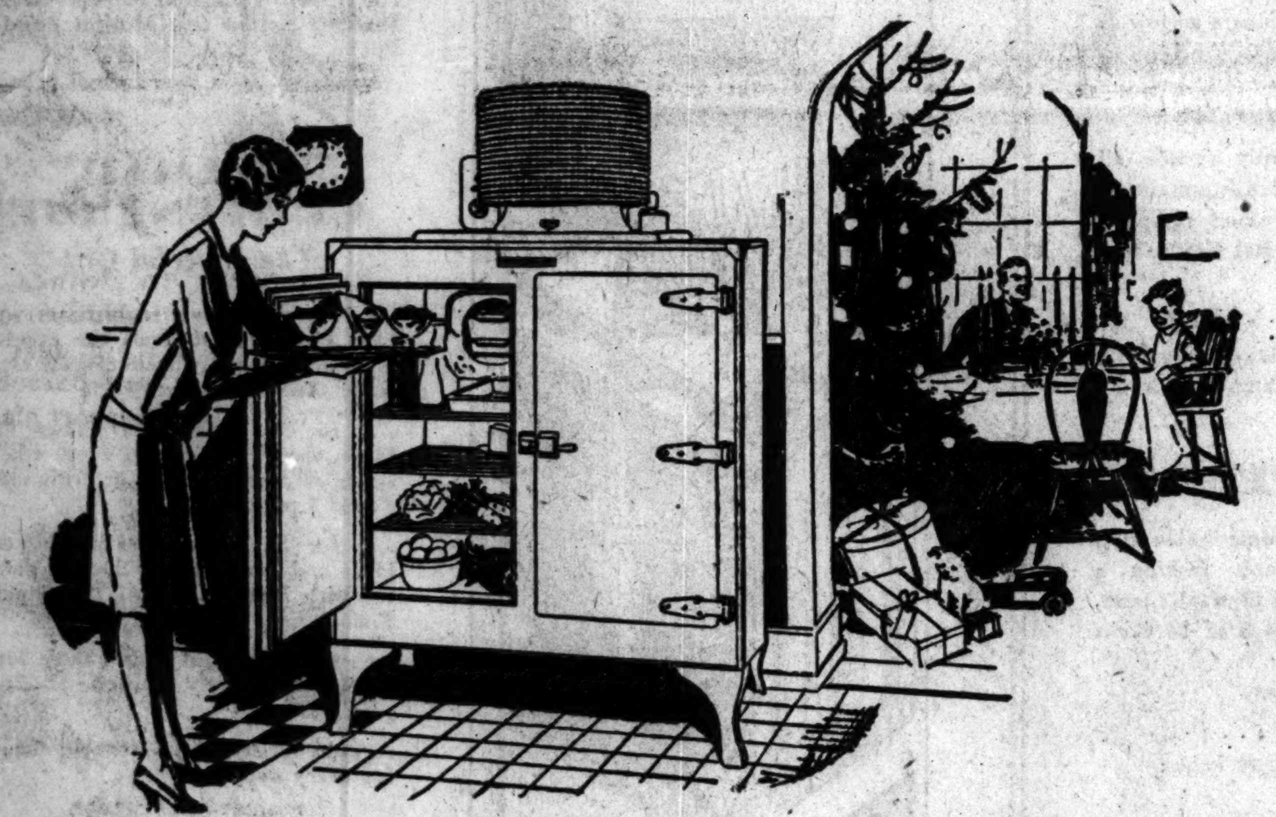
GENERAL ELECTRIC
Refrigerator

A most practical way of saying
"Merry Christmas"



IF you give your wife a General Electric Refrigerator, you give her a gift that carries its usefulness and its comfort through the years. You give her the pleasant knowledge that the food for her family is always healthfully fresh. You cut several marketing trips off her weekly schedule. You make it easier for her to plan interesting menus and to serve tempting foods.

The General Electric Refrigerator appeals to women particularly because it is so absolutely automatic that it never even needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is easy to keep clean because there is a constant mild upward current of air which rises from the coils and keeps the dust from settling. All models are up-on-legs, providing ample room for sweeping underneath the box.

This is the "years ahead" refrigerator which is the result of fifteen years of development in the Research Laboratories of General Electric. Each refrigerator is guaranteed by General Electric.

See this ideal Christmas gift today. Visit one of our beautiful new neighborhood stores or our convenient loop display room at 120 South La Salle Street, 10th Floor. They are distinctive—"years ahead," like the General Electric Refrigerator. Consult the list below and call at the store nearest your home. Delivery may be made before Christmas either on deferred payment plans or for cash, as you prefer.

How to Have Soft, Pretty White Skin

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful white, soft, pretty skin regardless of their age or the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint over the entire face and neck preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should never neglect her skin and complexion. Many women have made themselves look years younger by these simple Ice-Mint treatments and it is predicted that wrinkles will soon be a thing of the past to the woman who will give reasonable care to her daily toilet. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her skin and complexion. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

Ice-Mint Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

MORE POWER to the WINGS of the WORLD

4 GREAT NEW MOTORS by WRIGHT!

WRIGHT proclaims the coming of "more power per pound" in these four Wright Engines—and with their coming you can well mark an historic date in American flying.

Every man, woman and child has a direct concern with the progress these new Wright Engines will bring to America.

To some, the new performance which these motors permit will call for a revision of their ideas of the Present of the Airplane. You have seen great things done with Wright Whirlwind Motors in the past! You may expect still greater things!

To industrial companies, the greater power, the less weight per horsepower, the interchangeability of parts, gives new economy, new dependability and opens up new and more profitable uses for the planes which employ these Engines by Wright.

To investors in the present and future of aviation they will rightly mean greater confidence in those plane-building companies keen enough to appreciate these superb engineering achievements!

But, above all, to the mothers and fathers of families, whose children will fly as their parents ride in limousines, this announcement marks a great new step in making still safer the travel in the air.

YOU have lived to see the Wright Brothers take off with a motor of their making from the dunes at Kitty Hawk in 1903. You have lived to see, or read about, swarms of fighting planes over the lines from Flanders to the Vosges.

You have lived to know that Colonel Lindbergh flew the old model 9-cylinder Whirlwind across the sea. And the other great pilots who followed used the same splendid engine.

What may you not expect from these new Wright Motors!

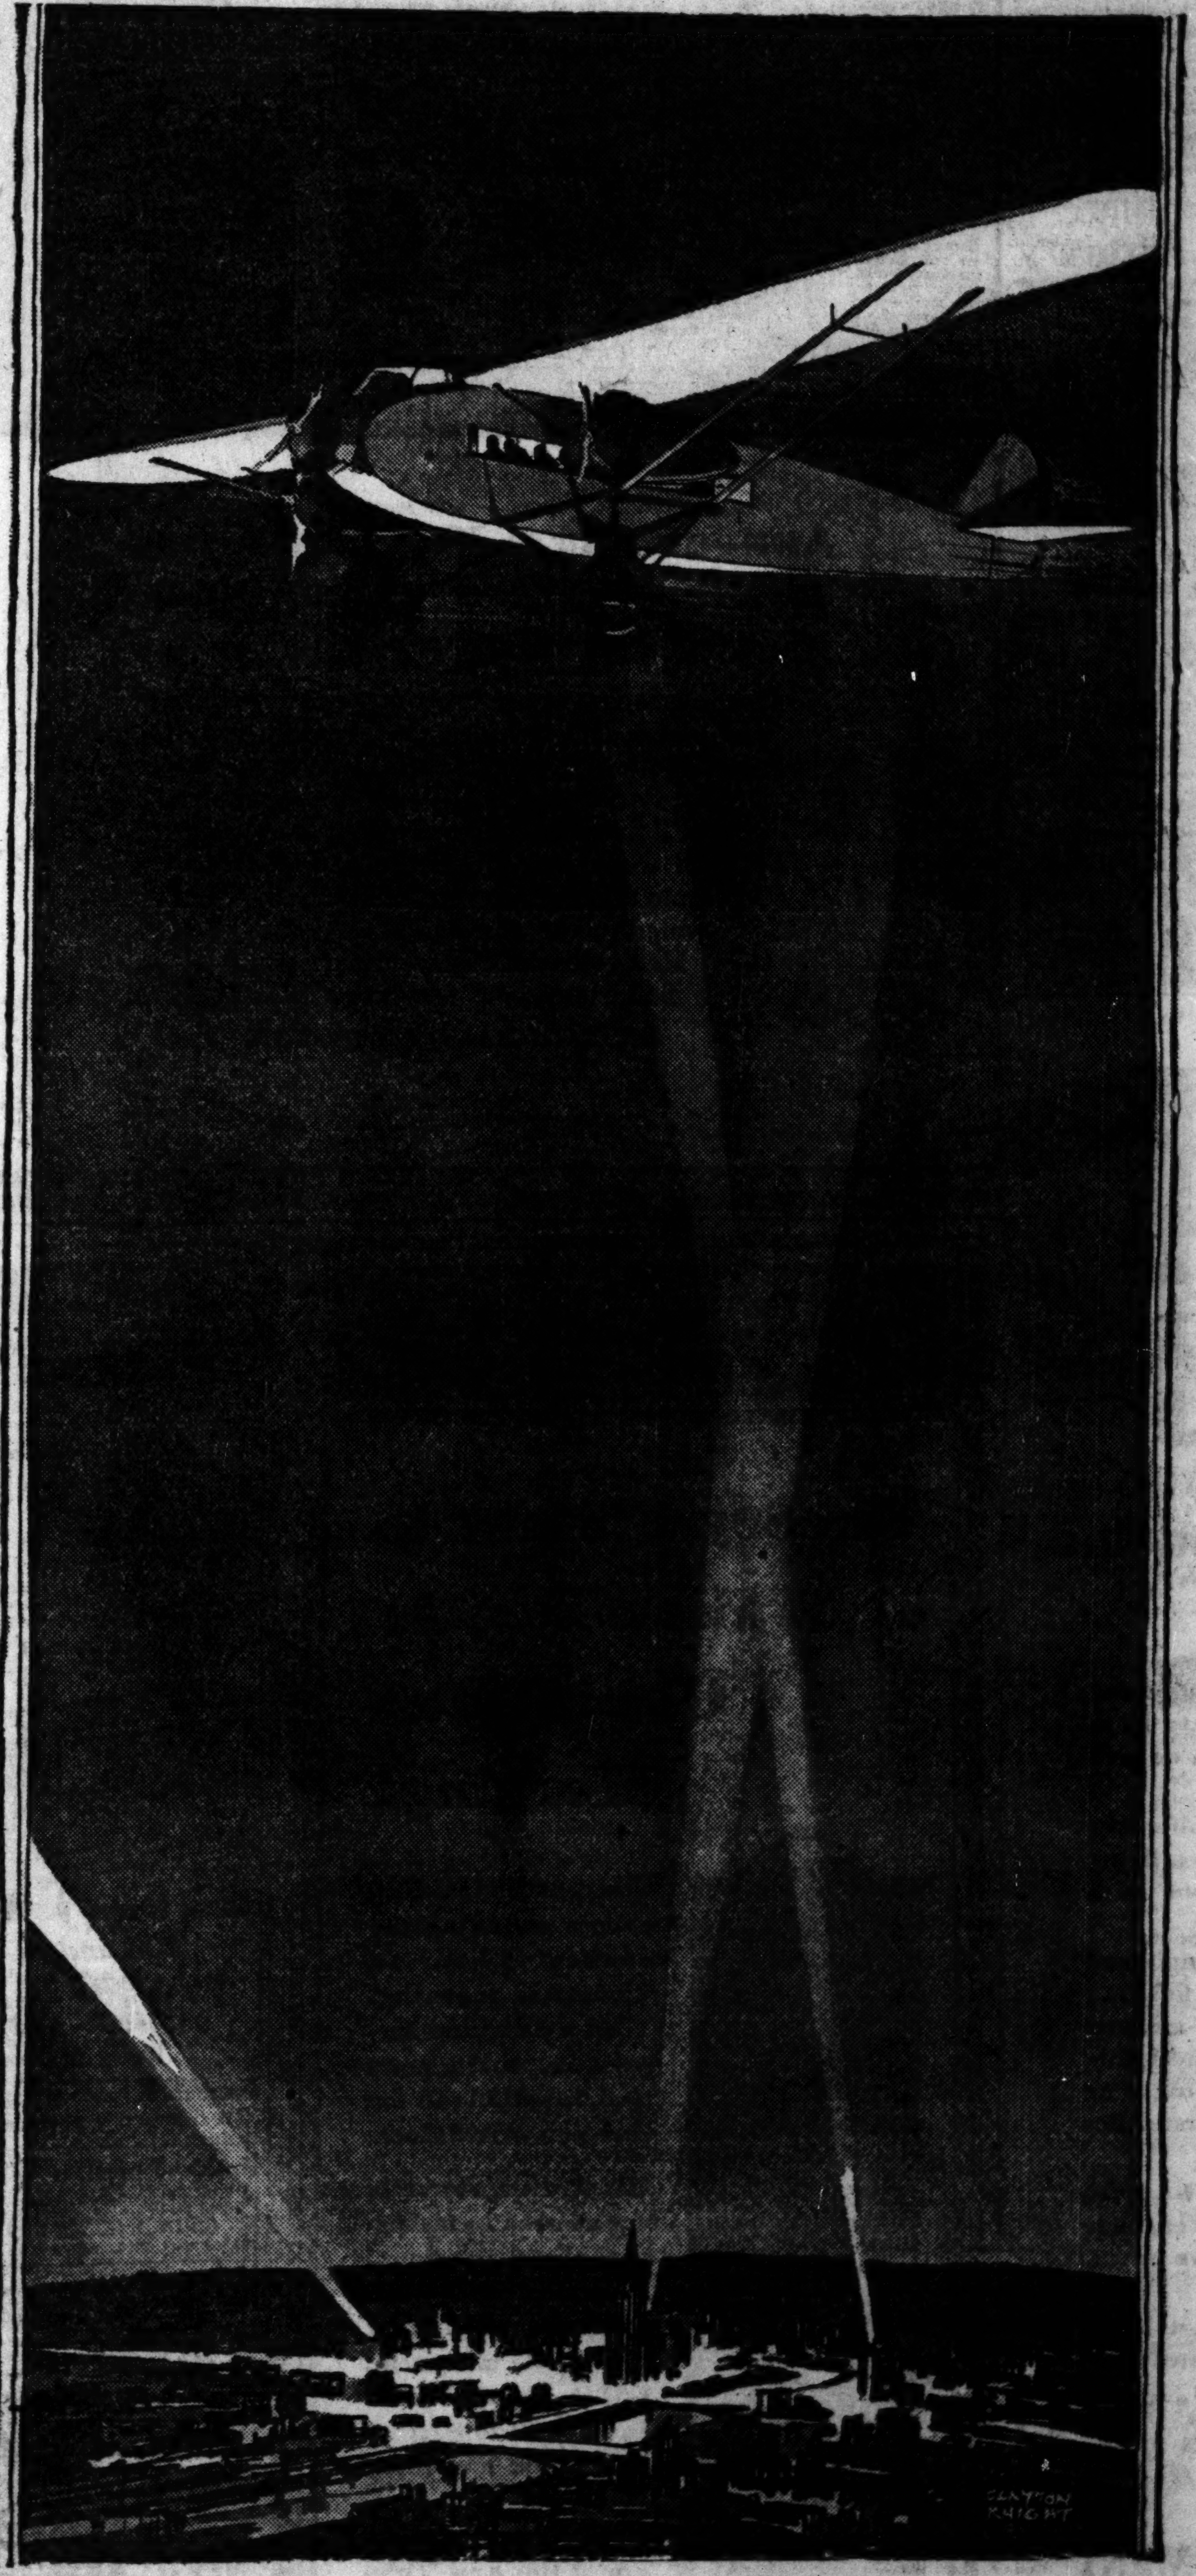
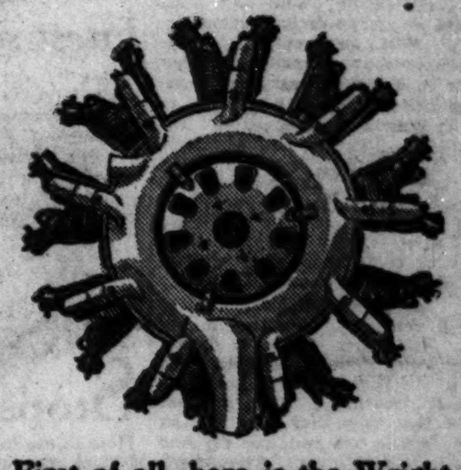
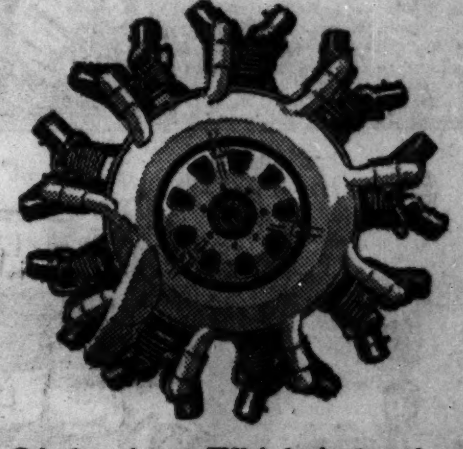
PATERSON, NEW JERSEY, U. S. A.



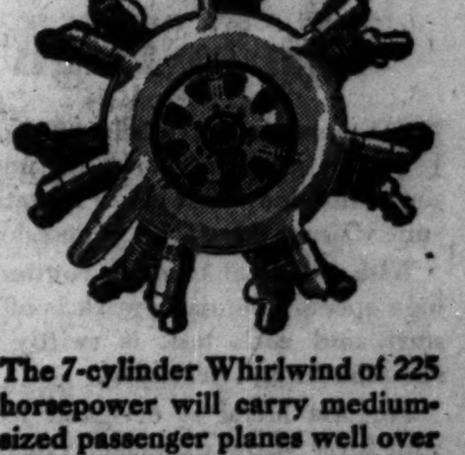
WRIGHT



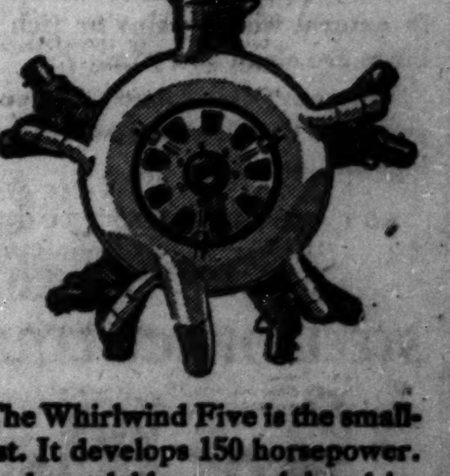
First of all, here is the Wright Cyclone, of 9 cylinders and 525 horsepower, the giant of the tribe. It is the motor for the great air lines and the heavy-duty express plane. With it new loads are possible.



Of the three Whirlwinds, the first, of 9 cylinders and 300 horsepower, is for the big, fast and safe multi-motored passenger carriers and for transport planes.



The 7-cylinder Whirlwind of 225 horsepower will carry medium-sized passenger planes well over a hundred miles an hour. It has strength to spare; it is even more powerful than the Whirlwind that carried Colonel Lindbergh across the sea.



The Whirlwind Five is the smallest. It develops 150 horsepower. A dependable, powerful and inexpensive engine for the small runabout plane of one or two passengers.

SPECIALISTS ASK PUBLIC'S AID IN WAR ON CANCER

Early Treatment Can Save Life, Experts Say.

Ninety per cent of present day deaths from cancer may be prevented if the public will coöperate with the medical profession in the fight to conquer the disease. This was the conviction expressed last evening at the 14th annual meeting of the Radiological Society of North America at the Drake hotel, on the eve of what is expected to be the most advanced discussion of cancer ever held in America.

Six hundred physicians from all sections of the country are in the city for the meeting. Many of them have grown gray in the battle against cancer. Today they will hold a symposium, summing up their experience and their convictions concerning the disease. The cancer sessions open at 9 o'clock this morning and continue throughout the day.

Warns of Danger Signs.

It was Dr. Albert Soiland of Los Angeles, one of the men who launched the Radiological society upon its national scope, who declared the cancer experts are convinced that a high percentage of victims of the disease could be saved if the public would only heed the warnings and go early to some reputable physician or hospital.

"Anything that is malignant, that will notr espond to ordinary treatment and will not heal or cure is likely to have the cancer element in it," Dr. Soiland said. "The woman who feels a little hard lump in her breast, the person who has an obstinate sore in the mouth, on the tongue or lips—these should go at once to a physician, for, if those things are cancerous growths, to catch them early will insure successful treatment.

Delay Is Suicide.

"I will venture to say that ninety per cent of all the victims of cancer might be saved if we could educate the public to the importance of obtaining this early treatment. Our greatest trouble is that when they come to us at last the disease has gone too far and nothing can save them. The people must realize that under present conditions, with no cure for cancer in the advanced stage known, cancer is a matter of life and death to the individual. The victim may save his life by going to the doctor early, and if he doesn't it is tantamount to suicide.

"So far only a few facts are known about cancer. We know, for instance, that heredity has considerable to do with it, that one may at least inherit the tendency to cancer; that it may disappear for generations, but that when it is in the individual some irritation or something else often happens which gives the pirate or brigand cells of the body the stimulus to grow.

"The whole medical profession in the world is groping, fighting, hoping to discover what causes cancer. I believe we are on the verge of important discoveries. How soon they will come, however, no one can tell."

Soiland to Lead Discussion.

Leading in the discussions of the convention here will be Dr. Soiland, who has spent twenty-five years studying cancer. Others who are to take part are Dr. M. J. Sittenfield of New York City, Dr. John F. Herrick of Ottumwa, Ia.; Dr. Samuel Brown of Cincinnati, Dr. Francis Carter Wood of New York, Dr. H. J. Ullman of Santa Barbara, Cal.; Prof. Wilhelm Stenstrom of the University of Minnesota, Dr. W. S. Lawrence of Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. Harold Swanberg of Quincy, Ill.; Dr. J. Thompson Stevens of Montclair, N. J.; Dr. W. A. Newman Dorland of Chicago, Dr. Henry Schmitz of Chicago, Dr. Sidney Barrow of Shreveport, La.; Dr. Clyde O. Donaldson of Kansas City, Dr. Fred Tausig of St. Louis, Dr. Benjamin Orndoff and Dr. E. G. Beck of Chicago, and Dr. U. V. Portmann of Cleveland.

Dr. Charles A. Waters of Johns Hopkins university will take part in the discussions, as will Drs. Fred W. Rankin, Harry H. Bowing, and R. E. Fricke, all of the Mayo brothers clinic at Rochester, Minn. The discussions during the afternoon sessions will be opened by Dr. George Binkley of New York City.

From 4 until 6 p. m. a series of clinical demonstrations in connection with cancer cases will be conducted. During the sessions, which will last until Friday, nineteen clinics will be held by as many different physicians.

SALTIS MISSES OBERTA FLOWER SHOP'S OPENING

Joe Saltis has left his beer business in other hands for the last 197 days while he has evaded arrest on a federal warrant and on a capias calling for his incarceration in the House of Correction for six months and payment of a $50 fine for carrying a revolver. Consequently he missed the John Oberta flower shop ceremonies yesterday. When Saltis fled to avoid imprisonment to which he was sentenced by Judge George Curran, Oberta, who is one of his partners and who is familiarly known as Dingbat, was striving for a foothold in politics. Now Oberta has become a florist at 6253 South Ashland avenue, much as Dean O'Banion was engaged in that business prior to his being killed.

British Tories Drop Fear of Flapper; 'She's No Fool'

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Sir William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary, told the Constitutional club today that in the next general election he did not believe the new "flapper vote" would hurt the conservative party or that the young women would vote the socialist ticket. "The young woman of today is no fool," he said.

Eveready Heavy Duty Layerbilt No. 486. 45 volts. 4 7/16 inches thick.

The big Heavy Duty Eveready Layerbilt now costs you but $4.25

A REAL saving in "B" power cost has been effected by the reduction in prices on Eveready Layerbilt Batteries. The longer service rendered by Eveready Layerbilts is worth far more than the slight difference in price. The Layerbilt principle, exclusive with Eveready, packs more of the electricity producing material into the battery case than is possible with cylindrical cell construction. That's why Eveready Layerbilts last so much longer.

At the new price of $4.25, the famous Heavy Duty Eveready Layerbilt No. 486 costs but 25 cents more than the cylindrical cell Eveready No. 770 but lasts 30% longer under average conditions of use.

The Medium Size Eveready Layerbilt No. 485 now sells for $2.95. The cylindrical cell Eveready No. 772 costs $2.75—a difference of 20 cents, but that 20 cents buys 25% more service in the Layerbilt Battery under average conditions of use. Buy Eveready Layerbilts for economical, long-lasting, dependable battery service.

ILLED 9 BOYS ON IS DEATH FARM, ORTHCOTT SAYS

ccuses Father in Frenzy of Rage.

Riverside, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—tewart Northcott, 21 year old "ape an" degenerate, admitted today that e had murdered nine boys on his hicken ranch in Riverside county.

In a series of confessions, some of hich contradicted the others, Northott incriminated his father, Cyrus orthcott, held in jail here since Northott's disappearance several months o, when word of the horrors at the "death ranch" first became public. he younger Northcott was captured Canada and brought back to Calirnia several days ago.

he names of his identified victims e listed by the police tonight as ows:

Walter Collins, Los Angeles, aged 9.
Louis Winslow, Pomona, 11.
Nelson Winslow, Pomona, 9.
Alvin Gothea, Glendora, 16.
Philip Scott, 12.

Hazy on Other Names.

In his statements concerning his other victims Northcott was hazy on ames and said he had forgotten the circumstances of the killings. He entioned, however, that one of the oys he had maltreated and killed had een "adopted" out of a San Diego ounty Catholic orphanage by him d his father last winter.

Nortcott's remarkable sang froid, hich kept him laughing and nonchaant throughout a day of partial admissions, confusing retractions and lind leads to the police, snapped toight.

The break came when he was confonted with his 15 year old nephew, anford Clark, who first told the story f the chicken ranch murders several onths ago and set police on Northcott's trail.

After his eyes had beset young Clark's accusing gaze, the "ape man," his bravado gone, made a signed confession to the murder of young Gothea. This will permit the police to formally hold him for trial while they run down the tangled maze of his many killings. He will be formally arraigned tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

His Third Confession.

When Northcott wrote and initialed is statement tonight he gave the fficials his third confession. He had ade and repudiated murder admisions twice earlier in the day.

In his latest story Northcott asserts at Gothea was murdered on the hicken farm and not in Los Angeles, a Los Angeles county indictment harges. Northcott told the officials e would plead self defense if tried ere for the murder of the Mexican.

Northcott today led officers on a five our wild goose chase into the San ernardino mountains and the sands f the Mojave desert in quest for a ysterious "body buried in a concrete ffin."

After Northcott led the posse past San Bernardino, he laughed and told them he was afraid he had made a mistake.

He Raves at Times.

The youth interspersed confidential admissions with raving denunciations. He explained that the little boy from the San Diego county church home met his death because "it was too expensive to support him."

Northcott said that this lad was known to him only as "Richard." Early in the day, when taken to confront his father, Northcott, manacled and shaking with rage, blamed his parent for the murder of this boy. "You hate me and you always have hated me," he screamed. "I am going to clear up these so-called cases, but you are going to tell tht truth, too.

"You know that you bought the lime for me to wipe up blood with.

Armed Bandits Rob Two of Jewelry, Cash, and Auto

Sol G. Gottlieb, 1801 South Millard avenue, and David Levin, 1655 South Millard avenue, were putting Gottlieb's car in a garage in the rear of the Levin home last night when two armed robbers confronted them. From Gottlieb, a salesman for a wholesale jewelry house, they took samples valued at $1,000, a $400 ring, and a few dollars. Levin surrendered $7. The robbers then took the car and drove away.

'INTERFERENCE' IS FEDERAL EXCUSE FOR DRY LAW SHOT

Claim Victim Was Blocking Coast Guard.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The government has begun building its case seeking to justify the killing of Carl Anderson of Lewiston, N. Y., and the wounding of Edmond Sahr, Niagara Falls young man, by members of the coast guard, on Thanksgiving morning. They were shot by machine gun fire from a government vessel.

It was announced today that a warrant charging hindrance of the coast guard in the performance of its duties would be served on Sahr, who is in St. Mary's hospital at Niagara Falls with a bullet wound in the shoulder.

Sahr has admitted, according to the authorities, that he and Anderson had unloaded a cargo of ale just before the shooting. It is alleged by the government that the cabin cruiser tried to ram the coast guard rum chaser.

Lieutenant Commander Martin Rasmussen, head of the coast guard in this district, today forwarded a report to Washington on an investigation he made of the affair. Richard H. Templeton, U. S. district attorney, declared after an investigation that the coast guard acted within their rights in firing on the cruiser.

Memorial for Hanson.

Another tragedy brought about by coast guard gunfire this year was recalled last night when the Falls lodge of Elks held its annual memorial service for members who had died during the year.

Jacob D. Hanson, secretary of the lodge, was shot and fatally wounded by Guardsman Glen Jennings on the early morning of May 6. Hanson, returning in his automobile alone from Lewiston, where he had taken a friend, was driving along the Lewiston road, a lonely highway often frequented by bandits.

Jennings and Chris Drew, another guardsman, on the lookout for liquor runners, ordered him to stop. Hanson believed the men highwaymen and increased his speed. Drew fired several shots in the air and then Jennings discharged his pistol point blank at the car. The bullet shattered Hanson's skull. He died nearly four months later in St. Mary's hospital at Falls. From the time of the shooting until his death he was demented and in great agony.

Indicted, Not Yet Tried.

Jennings and Frank L. Beck, commander of the Fort Niagara coast guard station, to which he was attached, were indicted on a charge of manslaughter. Beck, it was claimed, gave his men orders to fire on cars which did not stop and submit to liquor search.

They have not come to trial nor will they for nearly two months. The case, which was transferred recently from the state to the federal courts, will be tried starting Jan. 22, nearly nine months after the shooting, at Elmira.

Elmira of all the cities where federal court terms are held in this district is the one most remote from Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where the feeling has run highest against the coast guard as a result of the Hanson shooting.

The trial of Jennings and Beck will present the strange spectacle of a man acting as defense counsel in a courtroom where he normally appears as prosecutor, for Mr. Templeton is expected to handle the defense. Raymond A. Knowles, district attorney of Niagara county, where the shooting took place, will be prosecutor.

Will Appeal to Congress.

Congressman James M. Mead of Buffalo, speaking at the Elks' services last night, said that on his return to Washington he would ask that "shoot to kill" orders issued to the coast guard be rescinded.

"I will also ask," he said, "that the government disband the army of gunmen who are now wearing the badge of federal authority and endangering the lives of American citizens."

The two killings by the coast guard are only a part of the bloodshed which the Niagara Falls district has seen since prohibition began.

There have been several killings attributed to warfare among rival bootleg gangs, which number many tough customers at the Falls. Most sensational of these was the killing of two cousins, Charles Austreo and James Dinieri, both Falls men, on the early morning of Nov. 15, 1923. Austreo was found shot to death in his bakery wagon, while the bullet riddled body of the other man was found in a field at Wheatfield, near the Falls.

Orville A. Preuster, a customs agent who was active in the suppression of rum smuggling, was blown up by a bomb in his automobile at Niagara Falls in 1925.

Surprise in Vineyards Case.

The fourth day in Federal court of the government's case against Virginia Dare Vineyards, Inc., Pennyan, N. Y., on a charge of violation of the Volstead law in sale of nonalcoholic grape juice concentrate, with directions for wine making in the home, came to its climax with counsel for the Vineyards corporation and the government engaged in heated controversy over the admission of the testimony of a former member of congress from North Carolina and member of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives at the time the Volstead law was enacted.

For twenty-two years a member of the lower house, and at present retired from active politics and a practicing attorney in Washington, former Congressman John H. Small was presented as a surprise witness today to tell what was the intent of congress in the drafting and enactment of section 29 of the Volstead law excepting "nonintoxicating fruit juices" in the home from the operation of the criminal provisions of the law.

United States Attorney Templeton objected to this testimony on the ground that the wording of the law spoke for itself, and declared that if one former congressman were permitted to tell what he believed was the intent of congress the government would ask for time to summon Andrew Volstead and other members of congress who would sustain the bone dry construction of this clause insisted on by the government counsel as the only correct one.

TRIBUNE TO AWARD PRIZES IN RHYME CONTEST THURSDAY

Distribution of the $5,000 in cash prizes offered in THE TRIBUNE's Presidential Rhyme-Lines competition will be made this week. First prize winners in the rhyming test which did so much to enliven the Hoover-Smith campaign will be announced in THE TRIBUNE Thursday morning.

The lucky winner of first prize will be presented with a Christmas fund of $1,000 cash. Second prize is $500; third prize, $250; and other prizes range from $100 down to a total of 150 prizes of $5 each. There are 1,288 prizes in all.

Choosing the winners has been a tremendous task for the judges. Entries came in by the thousands from all over the United States, and from Mexico, Canada, and England. Even the children, who displayed such genuine enthusiasm in the national campaign, were spurred on to greater things in their presidential rhyme lines. In contrast to these, dignified readers past the "three score and ten" span gave their seasoned versions in rhyme.

EXTRA JUICE

Tune in on KYW for the "FLORIDA HOUR" Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock

Sweet and rich and full of Health →

FLORIDA ORANGES

It's the juice that counts—and Florida Oranges have an extra big juice content! Rich, sweet juice—mellowed to sparkling goodness by golden Florida sun.

That extra juice has given the Florida Orange its world-wide nickname — "the juice orange". Say "Florida" every time you buy oranges.

this urgent health message is for everybody!

Everywhere doctors emphatically say orange juice is one of the most important "health carriers" among foods.

Florida Orange Juice brings vitamins and mineral salts that are absolutely essential for health. It helps counterbalance the acid-forming foods—the meats, heavy cereals, sweets, starches. It combats acidity and increases the alkaline reserve that strengthens the body's resistance to colds, grippe, "flu" and other ills.

Drink Florida Orange Juice two or three times daily! And remember to buy only Florida Oranges because of that extra juice!

This advertisement is sponsored by the Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Association, an organization of growers and shippers of Florida Oranges, Florida Grapefruit and Florida Tangerines. The Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Association, Winter Haven, Florida.

REMEMBER that the small Florida Oranges are just as juicy, just as sweet as the large ones—they're plentiful just now and very reasonably priced!

LIQUOR RUNNERS FLEE DETROIT TO MISS GRAFT QUIZ

1,500 Seek Jobs of Dry Agents Under Fire.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—While 1,500 men passed through the office of the United States civil service commissioner today applying for positions as border patrol inspectors, the hotels in the border cities of Ontario rapidly filled with Detroit bootleggers and down the river rum operators who were fleeing probable calls before the grand jury now in session investigating the "graft trust," more properly called a "union."

Evidence that customs border patrol agents operated as a trust and that they collected protection money from rum runners on the Detroit river in sums running well in excess of $200,000 in a year was brought out today by special customs agents and other investigators.

Had Payoff Schedule.

Some customs officers, according to the evidence, drew up a "payoff schedule," under which regular rates were assessed against rum runners for the privilege of bringing liquor across the river while customs agents made themselves absent.

United States Attorney Watkins was told that the schedule ordinarily was at the rate of 25 cents a case for beer and $1 a case for whisky.

"The protection rate" varied, however, running sometimes as high as 29½ cents a case for beer and $1.37 a case for whisky. In holiday rush seasons the whisky rate has been known to be advanced to $2 a case, it was said.

It was revealed that the "union" conducted investigations before accepting new "members."

"A new patrol inspector, shortly after joining the union, was questioned as to his previous work record and the 'union' decided whether the new man could fit into the 'union.'"

Accepted Into Graft Circle.

One veteran patrol inspector, the investigators said, "gave the official O. K. in accepting a new man into the graft circle."

When the patrol inspectors were added to the unit here they were assigned to work with veterans. A new man was paired with an older service inspector on the theory that a veteran could demonstrate to the newcomer how not to enforce customs laws.

They learned to accept graft, to sleep, and drink liquor while on duty, and how in many ways to compromise themselves with rum runners.

The story of graft among the inspectors is being read from their bank books which have been examined by the government. One inspector is alleged to have made weekly deposits averaging $500. Others apparently managed to hide their graft earnings in various ways.

Vary Its Graft Scale.

The "union" varied its graft scale in accordance with general conditions along the river, it was revealed.

A rebate would be granted a rum runner ring which provided inspectors information leading to the arrest and seizure of liquor conveyed by rum runners who preferred attempting to sneak boats across the river rather than pay tribute.

The graft, the investigator said, also extended to those attempting to transport liquor from a "plant" to blind pigs in Detroit. A plant is the secret hiding place for smuggled liquor. Thus the patrol inspectors received double "fees," one for permitting the liquor to come to this side without interference, and the other for allowing bootleggers to haul liquor from the plant.

Free Night on River.

"The free night" was another innovation by which both rum runner and agent profited. On this time an importer would pay an inspector or inspectors to keep the river open for a certain period of time, usually four or five hours. Then, while the inspectors were out of the way, the importer would bring in as much contraband as he could find means to convey.

As a part of the arrangement the importer would usually agree to tip off the inspectors to runners availing themselves of the clear river, but not in on the blanket payment. These "outlaws" were arrested and their liquor seized, which is the reason, investigators said, why most of the arrested inspectors have excellent records of arrests and seizures.

"This practice was firmly established by the 'union,'" the investigator said, "but we gave the inspectors plenty of 'rope' so as to get tangible evidence."

REP. BOX OF TEXAS IS SELECTED AS WHIP BY HOUSE DEMOCRATS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—House Democrats turned today to Texas for a new assistant leader, or whip, selecting Representative John C. Box to fill the post left vacant by the death of William A. Oldfield of Arkansas.

Box will serve until March 4. Between now and that time Democrats in the house will hold a caucus to determine upon new leaders for the next congress, the Seventy-first.

ROBS CANDY STORE OF $125.

A robber entered the Small Profit Candy store, 35 West Monroe street, yesterday, just as the manager, Andrew Kuntz, 930 Cornelia avenue, opened the safe. He locked Kuntz in a rear room and fled with $125.

MARSHALS FAIL TO FIND CAPONE; SUBPOENA WAITS

Deputy marshals who attended the funeral of Joseph Martino, slain Chicago Heights bootlegger, yesterday failed to find Al Capone, the object of the search, among the mourners. They wanted to serve a subpoena issued by the federal grand jury in the belief that he may know something about the liquor situation in that suburb. The subpoena calls for his appearance Wednesday.

The subpoena is based largely, it was reported, upon information gathered by prohibition agents during their investigation into the ramifications of the bootleg industry in Chicago Heights. This information has been presented to the grand jury by Dan Anderson, assistant United States district attorney, in an effort to determine if officials of Chicago Heights have winked at the violations of the prohibition law.

SEVEN Reasons Why THE THOMAS' are

THE WORLD'S GREATEST HAIR AND SCALP SPECIALISTS

1 They positively grow hair! In many cases of baldness thought hopeless they have produced a growth of natural hair. They end dandruff, stop falling hair, and correct all abnormal scalp disorders.

2 They treat 87% of all persons being treated in the United States and Canada by specialists for scalp disorders. In 1927 they successfully administered 321,562 treatments in their various offices.

3 They have forty-five offices throughout the country, all in charge of skilled specialists who do nothing but examine and treat all external scalp disorders which lead to or have caused baldness.

4 For fifteen years they have successfully administered the Thomas' Original Discovery for baldness. This treatment is often imitated, but because secret formulae are a part of it, it can only be given in a Thomas' office.

5 They are scalp specialists you can trust. If after a careful examination of your scalp they feel that they can do you no good, they will frankly tell you. Last year 1,732 applicants for treatment were refused.

6 Because of their ability to consistently grow hair and live up to their advertised claims, they have been granted exclusive legal and moral right by the U. S. Patent Office to use the slogan, "We Grow Hair."

7 They treat men in all walks of life, including physicians, bankers, dentists, U. S. army officers, congressmen, actors, etc. Let them help YOU regain your natural head of hair. No charge for examination. Come in today.

USES DRAINAGE JOB TO PAY HER WAY IN POLITICS

Mrs. Conkey May Run for Alderman Now.

Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, Democratic national committeewoman and president of the Illinois Women's Democratic club, yesterday explained why her name appeared on the sanitary district pay roll as an investigator at $300 a month. At the same time, she indicated that she will be a candidate for alderman from the 7th ward, the chair vacated by Ross Woodhull on his election to the drainage board.

"I told Mr. Brennan [the late George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman] that my husband couldn't afford to pay my expenses of going to the Houston convention and of traveling around the state in the interests of the party," Mrs. Conkey said. "I told him I wanted a job so I could earn my political expenditures.

Job in Donovan's Office.

"I was given a place in the office of Mr. Donovan [Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, who succeeded Mr. Brennan as a national committeeman]. Mr. Donovan was an attorney for the sanitary district.

"I started work the first of February. I wasn't an investigator. Mr. Donovan gave me some of his correspondence to answer. I didn't have a desk of my own. I used his while he wasn't using it.

"I worked every minute I had time from my political duties. I honestly tried to make myself worth the salary I was receiving. But I had to make out of town trips over week ends to attend downstate meetings. When the campaign headquarters was opened in Chicago, I had to spend all day there, and could visit the sanitary district office for only a couple of hours in the mornings.

Rather Not Have Job.

"It's an unfortunate part about politics that it costs money. If I had been fiancially able, I would rather not have had a job. I left the position last month."

Mrs. Conkey's husband, Capt. Charles M. Conkey, is the master of a great lakes steamship. They live at 7420 Yates avenue and have a stepdaughter, Miss Phyllis, who is a school teacher.

James W. Ryan, chief deputy to County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, said many people are urging Mrs. Conkey to run for alderman of the 7th next February. Ryan is Democratic committeeman of the ward.

"I think it's too early to make any announcements at this time," said Mrs. Conkey. "But I'm convinced that the city council needs a woman member, and that's what my friends are using as an argument to persuade me to make the race."

BEARDED BANDIT ROBS STORE.

After loitering in Charles Stayter's drug store at 2001 West Lake street yesterday until several customers departed, a bearded robber produced an automatic pistol, held Stayter at bay, and took $200, a $14 check, and a bank book from the cash register.

SANITARY BOARD FACING DEADLOCK MAY DELAY VOTE

Naming of President Up Today.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

With a deadlock in prospect over the presidency, sanitary district trustees last night talked of deferring reorganization of the sanitary board until the regular meeting Thursday instead of taking it up at today's annual session.

Howard W. Elmore, newly elected Deneen Republican, is to be inducted into office today. The trustees, by majority vote, will decide whether to proceed this afternoon to the election of a new president. Hold over members last night said today's meeting is of a perfunctory nature, and the election might go over a couple of days to give more time for overtures.

Three Aspire to Post.

So far no agreement has been struck, according to members of the three different groups on the board. Each group has its own candidate for president, and none has votes enough to elect without drawing from another group.

The Deneen camp favors Mr. Elmore. The four Democrats are James M. Whalen, Henry A. Berger, Ross A. Woodhull, and John J. Touhy. Both Mr. Woodhull and Mr. Berger are candidates for president, Mr. Berger being reported as perhaps the leading Democratic candidate. He came close to running up a million votes in the election. The three Thompson Republicans, L. F. King, A. W. Miller, and John K. Lawler, are backing Mr. King for head of the district.

Leaders in all groups last night said it looks as if the first ballot will be a deadlock.

Elmore Gives Statement.

Mr. Elmore last night when asked concerning a report that he has been agreed upon said:

"I know nothing of any such arrangement, nor have I been in any conferences at which an agreement to elect me president has been discussed. My position is unchanged. I have not sought the presidency of the board, nor do I want it.

"But if any four trustees of the eight others on the board vote for me tomorrow I will vote for myself and accept the responsibility, which is a big one.

"As I have said before, I would only accept the job if given a free hand to make good and to name those employés on whom I must depend to carry out my policies. Should the presidency be offered to me in open meeting, I can only say regarding patronage that I would naturally give preference to those trustees who offered it.

"But I want it distinctly understood that there has been no dickering or bargaining of any sort with my knowledge or consent."

With Senator Charles S. Deneen in Washington, faint symptoms of discord appeared in his camp over the sanitary presidency. Some of the Deneen committeemen appeared lukewarm to Mr. Elmore's remarks about patronage at a recent meeting of the group leaders, when he declared that if committeemen send over men for jobs who do not work when they land on the pay rolls, "there's going to be hell popping." Friends of Trustee Frank J. Link, a Deneen man who is also a candidate for sanitary president, were indicating irritation because he seems to have been sidetracked since publication of the pay rolls.

Board room reports yesterday were that about 600 more names have been trimmed from the rolls within the last six days, under the resolution of Trustee King that all employes be dropped who are not provided for by the budget.

CHICAGO HOTEL MANAGERS ENDORSE MANITOU PALE DRY

THE guests of Chicago's leading hotels are discriminating people. They are accustomed to the best in appointments, in service, in food and in beverages. They want what they want when they want it—and what they always want is the best.

So, naturally, the managements of these hotels make sure that no detail of service or cuisine is overlooked. That's why these hotels all serve Original Manitou Pale Dry and Original Manitou Sparkling Water.

Many Chicago visitors have enjoyed these naturally carbonated beverages in the shadow of Pike's Peak, where the health-giving Manitou Springs yield their sparkling waters—and where the natural carbonic gases are caught to give Original Manitou Pale Dry its long-lasting, lively effervescence. And once they've tried Original Manitou they want nothing else—so Chicago's obliging innkeepers see that they get it.

If you have not yet tried Original Manitou Pale Dry you have a real treat in store—for here, indeed, is a far finer Pale Dry made from real Jamaica Ginger and naturally carbonated. One sip and you'll appreciate the difference which natural carbonation really makes.

Leading beverage dealers throughout the city are prepared to serve you with these "Bubbles of Sunshine from Pike's Peak"—in either pint or quart bottles. Original Manitou quarts offer the most economical way to buy high quality Pale Dry.

Order some today. If you don't like it, your dealer will refund the full purchase price on any pint or quart bottle bought from him. We guarantee him against loss. Could you ask more than that?

Mr. Harry C. Moir, of the Morrison:

"The popularity gained by Manitou Pale Dry Ginger Champagne among our guests in a comparatively brief time is astonishing. When we bought a limited amount in answer to calls we thought it was 'just another one of those things.' Now—just a short time later—it is one of the favorite drinks which must be on hand in good supply to meet the constant and growing demand."

Mr. John Burke, of the Congress:

"Original Manitou Pale Dry and Manitou Sparkling Water have been on the Congress menu for a long time. We find a very insistent call for these two Pikes Peak beverages from the world travelers who make the Congress their Chicago home."

Mr. W. M. Dewey, Edgewater Beach:

"Of course we serve Manitou Pale Dry—its quality is right; therefore, it is worthy of the discriminating clientele served by the Edgewater Beach Hotel."

Facts about Boston and the Globe

Boston's shopping area ranks fourth in population, third in per capita income tax returns, of the major American markets. Average family wealth is $9000. Savings deposits average $2000 per family.

Within 12 miles of Boston's City Hall is the territory called Metropolitan Boston, defined by the A. B. C. as the "City" district. It is composed of Corporate Boston and 39 bordering and nearby suburbs.

Here in Metropolitan Boston the Globe is definitely the home newspaper, for it is the only Boston newspaper which holds all of its readers in this rich district seven days a week.

Boston's great department stores do 47% of the local advertising in Boston newspapers. With seven dailies and four Sunday papers to choose from, they spend 37% of their entire Boston newspaper appropriation in the daily and Sunday Globe alone.

? Even to advertisers who never buy a line of Sunday space, a consideration of Sunday facts in many cities can be extremely helpful.

Certainly in Boston the Sunday situation has a very definite bearing on week-day selling problems.

Here are three newspapers carrying the bulk of Boston's advertising, national and local. All three have large daily circulations. But on Sunday in the Metropolitan district one of them loses a third of its daily readers, and another loses nearly two-thirds. The remaining paper—the Globe—holds its week-day audience practically intact on Sunday.

Granting that Sunday circulation is largely home circulation, which of these three newspapers can justly claim to be the every day home paper of Boston?

BEAR in mind that the Globe, dominating Metropolitan Boston on Sunday, is not a two-sale newspaper on week days. Duplication is less than 5%. Hence in holding its large circulation seven days a week it is holding the same readers seven days a week.

Boston's department store merchants, who stand or fall on the degree of their success in reaching people where they live, have long recognized the Globe's home strength. They use 51% more advertising space in the Globe, daily and Sunday, than in any other Boston newspaper.

And naturally this greater volume of local advertising gives the Globe greater and greater strength with Boston women!

Editorially, the Globe's home strength has been built up by fifty years of striving for broad interest to intelligent readers of both sexes.

If the Globe has one of the best sporting pages in the country, it also has one of the most practical Household Departments (first of such departments in American journalism—established 34 years ago).

If a majority of Boston's substantial business men regard the Globe as a reliable business paper, their wives look upon it as a dependable daily shopping guide.

In this self-contained community the Globe has more reporters and publishes more local news than any other newspaper.

And the Globe is absolutely free of political or religious bias.

Advertisers who insist on demonstrations of home selling strength are using more and more space in the Globe.

In the largest local classification, department stores—and in the largest national classification, automobiles and automotive equipment—the Globe enjoys a tremendous lead.

In the first eleven months of 1928 the Globe carried the largest volume of advertising of all Boston newspapers.

JADWIN STEPS IN TO SAVE ILLINOIS WATERWAY PLAN

Deneen Enlists His Aid to Get U. S. Cash.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Action taken today by Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, at the request of Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.], gave virtual assurance of war department coöperation to secure the federal financial assistance necessary if the Illinois state waterway is to be completed on schedule early in 1931.

Following a conference in which Senator Deneen pointed out that completion of the Illinois link of the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway system may be delayed from three to five years unless the government extends a helping hand, the general dispatched orders to Col. W. C. Weeks, army engineer at Chicago, directing the latter to report by telegraph tomorrow morning on the status of the Illinois project and the exact amount of money needed to finish it.

Two Methods Proposed.

Two methods by which the government may advance the $3,186,000 which it is now estimated will be required to complete the waterway were laid before Gen. Jadwin by Senator Deneen.

One, proposed by Representative Edward E. Denison [Rep., Ill.], would be by authorization to be included in the $48,435,415 rivers and habors omnibus bill now pending on the house calendar.

The second method, suggested by Representative W. E. Hull [Rep., Ill.] today, anticipating that the rivers and harbors bill cannot be passed in the present session, would provide for diversion of the amount from funds already authorized or available for river and harbor improvements in Illinois. It is now believed only $1,500,000 of the $3,500,000 authorized for federal canalization of the Illinois waterway between Utica and Grafton will actually be needed. It was argued that the balance could be diverted to aid the state in completing its project between Utica and Lockport. Gen. Jadwin's analysis of the tabulation, it is hoped, may disclose other federal projects in the state from which enough may be diverted to make up the $3,186,000.

Hull Eager to Help.

Representative Hull pledged himself as a member of the house rivers and harbors committee to support the Denison plan to include an authorization in the pending harbors bill, although he believes his own proposal the most practical in view of the legislative situation in the present session.

"On recommendation from the war department engineers," he said today, "congress would be willing, I believe, to approve the diversion of funds from unexpended balances authorized for other projects in Illinois. Early completion of the Illinois waterway is of importance to the whole central west."

Science Finds Coolidge Worms Wrong for Trout

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Flies are the natural bait for trout instead of the worms used by President Coolidge, Dr. Paul R. Needham of Cornell university, a fresh water biologist, said today before the annual national game conference. Flies are the chief food of trout, he said.

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO BLOCK DEEP WATERWAY PLAN

Leslie Small, son of Gov. Small and director of the state department of purchases and supplies, and William F. Mulvihill, supervisor of state waterway construction, were charged yesterday with conspiring to destroy deep waterway development in an arm of the south branch of the Chicago river. The charges were contained in an amended bill making them defendants with the City of Chicago, filed in the federal District court by Attorney Olive Leitch for herself as a property owner. The original bill was filed over a year ago.

Attorney Leitch and her sister, Dollie F. Leitch, own three acres at the fork of the river and Bubbly Creek, near 31st street and Ashland avenue, the pleadings state. Riparian rights of the plaintiffs are being threatened, it is alleged, due to the issuance of a permit to the city authorizing the construction of a solid bulkhead across the source of Bubbly creek slip. Construction of a bridge at Pershing road across the slip would serve as a thoroughfare without damaging the water rights, Attorney Leitch avers.

Bubbly creek, the bill alleges, is navigable and was used for the transfer of cattle in the Union stockyards and by the city garbage barges. The source, near Western avenue, since has been fraudulently and solidly filled in, the pleadings state, for the sole benefit of private interests the Union stockyards, the Chicago Junction railway and other interests owning railroads serving the district.

The state senate bill, which empowers the city to destroy the commercial value of the waterway instead of constructing a movable bridge, is termed vicious, malicious, unlawful, and unconstitutional. The property, which, at one time, consisted of 40 acres, has been held in the Leitch family for many years and there is no intention of disposing of it, Attorney Leitch said.

"PATRON" ROBS CAFE OF $400.

Posing as a patron, a robber entered a restaurant at 6903 South Halsted street yesterday held up the owner, Tony Angelo, 40 years old, and took $400 and a $120 check already endorsed for bank deposit.

GIRL ON YACHT DEFIES OWNER, HAVANA POLICE

HAVANA, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Miss Frances Porter, former Atlanta newspaper woman and show girl of New York who was recently charged in police court here by C. P. Whitehead, Atlanta millionaire sportsman, with having stuck him with pins and hit him with her shoe, is aboard the Whitehead yacht Malvern, anchored in Havana harbor. She refused to come ashore, fearing immigration proceedings.

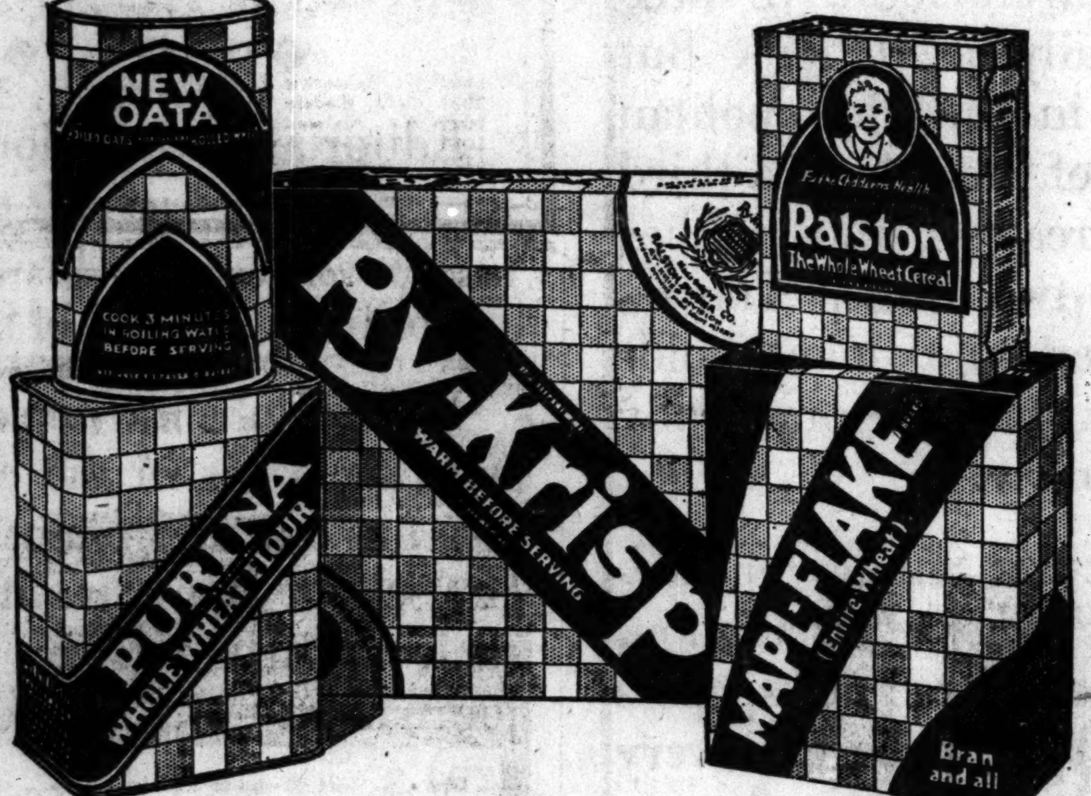
Mr. Whitehead in turn refuses to go aboard the yacht, and is stopping at a local hotel.

Cuban authorities are puzzled as to what procedure to follow. Orders are to bring her ashore for her hearing, set for Dec. 8. But the Cuban police say it would be contrary to international practice for them to board the yacht.

Last Wednesday Miss Porter appeared in court and emphaitcally denied the pin and shoe charges. She tried to flee from the courtroom, but was overtaken by police and later was sent to a hospital from which she escaped and made her way to the yacht.

Selling and Advertising do Perfect Teamwork in this Market

The Makers of CHECKERBOARD CEREALS find that Plain Dealer Advertising Works in Perfectly with their Selling Plans in this Territory



In the last three years, The Ralston Purina Company have trebled their business on Checkerboard Cereals in the Cleveland market.

They have sold the entire market of 31 entire counties—from Cleveland.

They have backed and strengthened their selling efforts among "Cleveland's 3,000,000" by strong, consistent advertising in the Plain Dealer.

That is exactly the procedure adopted by many of the most successful merchandisers operating in this thriving territory.

They see here an outlet of tremendous consuming power—3,141,964 people—724,000 homes.

They see a compact market—economically and quickly covered—with every nook and corner easily accessible by train, bus, interurban or automobile.

And - - -

They see in Cleveland, one of the country's truly great advertising mediums—one that not only blankets the buyers of the city itself, but makes its sales influence felt throughout the entire length and breadth of the market.

Cleveland's market is the Plain Dealer's market. And with this one newspaper used exclusively—you can co-ordinate your sales effort and your advertising investment to perfection.

No waste territory—no waste advertising—no waste effort.

Low sellings costs—profitable distribution.

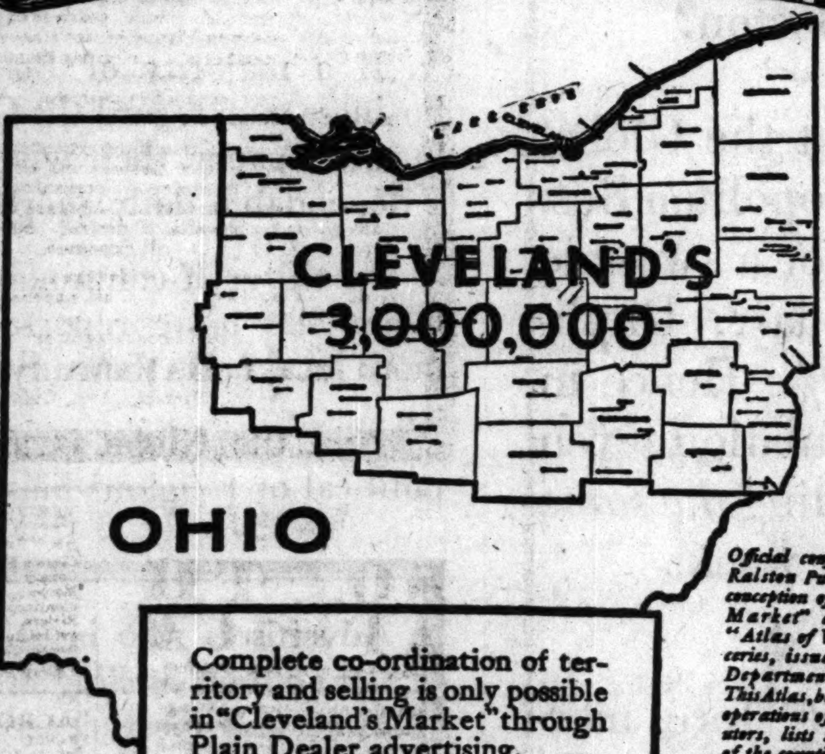
You can safely follow the lead of the Ralston Purina Company, Washburn-Crosby Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Holland Furnace Company, Armstrong Cork Company's Linoleum Division, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and many others who have made conspicuous successes in Cleveland territory.

Sell Northern Ohio from Cleveland. Tie Plain Dealer advertising into your selling plans.

No matter what you have to offer "Cleveland's 3,000,000"—no matter through what channels you sell, you will find advertising in the Plain Dealer a highly profitable investment.



Official confirmation of the Ralston Purina Company's conception of "Cleveland's Market" appears in the "Atlas of Wholesale Groceries, issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce. This Atlas, based on the actual operations of grocery distributors, lists substantially all of the counties shown on the map above as logically tributary to Cleveland.

Complete co-ordination of territory and selling is only possible in "Cleveland's Market" through Plain Dealer advertising.

95%

of The Daily Plain Dealer's circulation is in "Cleveland's Market" as here shown, and as served by the Ralston Purina Company.

SELLS LIQUOR TO BOY; GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

County Employe Gets the Maximum Penalty.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Claybourgh Cooper, manslaughter, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Thomas Taylor.

Howard Hicks, bigamy, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

George Schacke and Merrill Gray, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Fred Thomas, attempted larceny, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Anton Rusnek, 5014 West 13th street, Cicero, an employé in the office of the county clerk, was given the maximum sentence of six months in the bridewell yesterday by Judge Frank Comerford in the Criminal court after he was found guilty of selling moonshine to a 14 year old school boy. The technical charge is for violating the state law prohibiting the possession for sale of intoxicating liquor.

John Navurckis, 1337 Forty-Ninth court, Cicero, the school boy, testified that under the instructions of Chief of Police Martin Wojciechowski of Cicero he went into the Rusnek confectionery store, and for 50 cents pur-
Judge Comerford was aroused when The purchase was made last March.

Imposes Maximum Penalty.

"Any judge who would condone the selling of booze to a 14 year old school boy would not be fit to sit on the bench," said the judge in response to the defendant's plea for leniency. "The maximum penalty will be imposed in this case."

Judge Comerford wasaro used when the Cicero chief failed to appear to prosecute the case, which has been continued several times. He ordered an attachment for contempt of court to be issued against Chief Wojciechowski and will make a decision this morning as to whether or not punishment should be inflicted under the circumstances.

Chief Attending Funeral.

The reason the judge was displeased was because a policeman had informed him the chief was ill in bed. Investigation showed that he was attending a funeral. The chief appeared at the afternoon session and explained that he really is a sick man, but that a friend was being buried and he left his home only for the purpose of attending the funeral. He said he was anxious to prosecute the case involved and did take the witness stand and give testimony against the county employé.

GIVES ALARM

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Fifty women and eighty men were at work yesterday in a brick factory building at 843 North Crawford avenue when Miss Bertha Weiner, an employé of the Dekart company, embossers, discovered a rapidly spreading fire in the enamel spraying department of the concern.

Miss Weiner saw to it that all the employés were notified in time to make their escape. She was among the last to leave.

Besides the embossing concern, space in the building was occupied by the Paltridge Metal Equipment company, the Jordan Paper Box company, and the Crawford Steel company. The inflammable stock of the box company fed the flames and it was necessary to sound a 4-11 alarm to bring in enough fire companies to control the fire. Damage was estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000.

FREE MAIL PEST KEEPS POSTAL SERVICE BROKE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—More than one-half of the postoffice department's deficit of $33,363,148 for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, would be offset if the department were allowed to take credit for tons of franked matter dumped into the first class mails by members of congress and federal departments, according to the annual report of Postmaster General Harry S. New.

Mr. New's report today estimated that the department was compelled to handle a total of 118,323 tons of franked and free matter. The revenues from the franked matter alone, principally excerpts from the Congressional Record, broadcast for political purposes, and government department bulletins, if the usual rates of postage had been charged, would have amounted to at least $17,634,510, it is asserted in the report.

"The combined mailings free of postage under the penalty privilege by the departments and independent establishments of the government and by members of congress under the franking privilege aggregated about 520 million pieces, weighing more than 162 million pounds," according to the report.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective results. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

RONGETTI CASE DELAYED UNTIL AFTER HOLIDAYS

Dr. Amante Rongetti, who escaped electrocution by a reversal of his case by the Supreme court, probably will not be placed on trial again until after the start of the new year. His second trial for the murder by abortion of Miss Loretta Enders, 19 year old unwed mother, was to have started yesterday, but the case was necessarily postponed because Judge Robert E. Gentzel is at present occupied with the Ranieri kidnaping case. The judge said he would place the Rongetti case on trial immediately after the conclusion of the kidnaping case.

Attorney William Scott Stewart, representing Rongetti, indicated he would renew his motion for liberation of the physician on bond, in view of the necessary continuance.

KIMBALL
PIANOS

Highest awards gained at all international expositions, wherever shown.

More Kimballs are in use in American homes than pianos of any other name.

The Golden Age

THERE was never so close an alliance between art and industry as there is today. All signs are pointing to the present period as the golden age of the applied arts.

An outstanding example is the development of the recent Kimball piano designs. They offer a telling illustration of the forward, creative spirit in piano manufacture.

Never was there such precision in the accurately balanced action—or such glorious beauty in the delicately graduated range of tone. Never did the exterior designs reveal such appealing grace.

Our superb period models, representing many historic styles, are only one expression of this new level of piano-quality. In all our new designs, grands, both large and small; reproducing grands, uprights and players, you will find illustrated a tradition of this house that recognizes no final limit of excellence.

Come and hear them—today. A rare pleasure awaits you whenever you find it convenient to call. There is a Kimball for every home.

The Kimball "One-Price" assures the same full, generous value to every purchaser. Partial payments, if desired.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to direction. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

M'LEOD DEMANDS HOUSE ACTION ON REAPPORTIONING

Threatens Filibuster if Vote Is Delayed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Threats of a filibuster unless congressional reapportionment legislation is brought to the floor for consideration and final vote at an early date were served upon the house by Representative Clarence J. McLeod [Rep., Mich.] today. He introduced a resolution proposing to give such a measure priority over all other business until disposed of.

Mr. McLeod for several years has led the fight for redistribution of congressional representation.

Would Decide Membership Total.

Under the terms of his resolution, the house would first decide whether its total membership should remain at 435, and the apportionment bill, which has been pigeon-holed by the census committee for years, would be taken from the committee and brought to the floor of the house "for amendment and passage."

It is also provided that "the question of reapportionment shall continue to be the question of highest privilege in the house excepting only questions of personal privilege, until congress shall agree upon a measure in accordance with the constitution and the same shall be approved by the President."

Determined to Get Action.

"The reapportionment group in the house is fully organized for this session," Mr. McLeod declared, "and stands ready to take any step necessary to secure prompt action by congress to pass a reapportionment bill. We hope it will not be necessary to filibuster. We feel that the resolution which I have introduced today will afford an orderly and effective means of carrying out the mandate of the constitution.

"But one thing we are resolved upon above everything else is that the inequality of representation which has been forced upon some states by the failure of congress during the last eight years to reapportion must be ended without further delay."

Coast Teams Cause Some Doubt.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 3. — The rousing Saturday afternoon get togethers which have been going on at West Point, New Haven, Cambridge and other hotbeds of intellect in the east this fall were generally thought to be football games. The players wore football pants, helmets and cleats; the girls wore big, shaggy chrysanthemums; the cheering sections yelled baby talk phrases with explosive gusto; the bands forced melodious winds through the loops and elbows of their intricate horns, and the milling and mauling on the sward below all centered about a football.

These rites and properties all served to creat an illusion that football was being practiced by the collegians of this section, which belief persisted until a few minutes after the kickoff in the game between the United States Military academy and Leland Stanford university at the Yankee stadium last Saturday afternoon.

There's Football and Football.

It distresses me to admit that the Stanford boys played a game that made eastern football, if it is football, look like kiss-the-pillow or musical chairs, because Californians are so willing to meet one two-thirds of the way in such things. The final score of the Stanford-Army demonstration hadn't cleared on the wires before a man from San Francisco, passing the press box, remarked, with the most obnoxious grin, that it was a good thing California hadn't sent one of her good teams east to play the Army.

Still, it will have to be said that, if the game that Stanford showed Army was football, the east hasn't seen a game of football all season. And the thought of what Stanford or one of California's really good teams would have done to Dartmouth, Cornell, Syracuse, Princeton, Penn State, or the boys of Yale with their one play at the line and their incompleted forward passes, is too gruesome to dwell on.

Of course, I suspect that Stanford's team is rated as a right smart football team even in California and that in the Army game the long, limber, agile young men from the Hear-Me slope played a little beyond their normal capacity, just as Notre Dame did in beating the Army a few weeks ago.

Warner Stratagems Baffle.

Mr. Glenn Warner, who coached the boys, used to operate in this section and there was not only his stipend of $30,000 year or thereabouts to consider, he being the most highly paid of all the coaches, but something else. Mr. Warner is remembered here as one who operated within the written rules of football, but just within them, and took unexpected advantages so that when the opposing coach objected he could safely reply: "Show me a rule that says I can't do so and so."

If he had been a lawyer he would have been the sort to appeal a conviction on the ground that an "i" wasn't dotted in the indictment. At the trades union meeting of the coaches I have heard this spirit deplored, and it seems possible that when Mr. Warner brought his team to New York he made a special effort to lick the second best team in the east and lick them good, as a matter of personal satisfaction.

But even conceding that Stanford was at the moment the best team the Pacific slope could put on the field, there should have been no such difference between these boys and the second best in the east if the West Point boys had been playing football.

Army Appears Puzzled.

That appears to be the point. One of these teams was playing football and the other was playing merely a run-around-and-fall-down game which, up to this time, had been accepted as football here only because the east hadn't seen football and had no basis for comparisons. As football was understood along the seaboard the West Point cadets played a forceful and moderately deceptive game, but five minutes after they started against Stanford they were utterly lost in an absolutely new realm of football. They saw strange customs and while they were wondering at the unfamiliar practices of the far west, the large, rough boys in the white jerseys would slam into them, knock them down and parade over them.

The Army gentlemen are noted for their fine physical condition. They live in barracks under rigid discipline and their football training is the most Spartan punishment I have seen. Yet they were so badly shaken, winded and hurt, that Capt. Biff Jones was sending fourth string backs in to play on the line in the last minutes of the game.

Maybe It's the Climate.

How to account for this contrast between the mere physical endurance of the Army and civilian teams, I do not know. I had thought that the cadets stood for physical perfection and had heard civilians on the side lines at their practice say, "God, what I would give to be as young and strong and healthy as one of those!"

Undoubtedly, any Californian can give the answer. It is the sunshine, presumably, and pecans, the real estate, and the hard shell California oranges.

JOHN CONWAY O'TOOLE.

Reach Climax Saturday on South's Grids

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Football, lingering longer in the south than elsewhere, faces its real climax, like in the old melodrama, in the final moments.

While 14 of the 22 teams of the Southern conference have ended their season, four of the remaining number stake more on two windup games Saturday than any half dozen of the rest of the season.

Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado, headed for the tournament of Roses a little later, started serious work today in preparation for its ancient rival, the University of Georgia Bulldog. Some 40,000 are expected to witness this battle on Grant field.

Mizell Ready if Needed.

Warner Mizell, Tech's great half back, has been dismissed from the hospital where he has been confined with influenza and will be ready to enter part of the game if sorely needed. Lautzen Heizer, star Georgia tackle, also is suffering from influenza.

Meanwhile, the Florida Alligators, in a tie with Tech for the conference leadership, prepared for a march on Knoxville. Several thousand fans are planning to make the trip to see Coach Bachman's team meet the Tennessee sophomore sensations.

There is some doubt that Roy Witt's condition will permit him to start the game at quarter back for the Vols. Witt, captain and veteran of the team, is a valuable passer, extra point maker and all around back.

The Alligator squad is in fine condition.

Tennessee Hopes for Upset.

Tennessee, unbeaten but tied once, will try desperately to bring down the Gators while hoping for an upset at Atlanta, which would bring them at a bound from second position to undisputed leadership in percentage. Some 15,000 will witness the Tennessee game.

Alabama and Louisiana State, both out of the title running, but boasting impressive records, will wind up at Birmingham. Clemson meeting the Citadel and North Carolina tackling unaffiliated but powerful Duke at Durham are the other games featuring conference elevens.

Boston College Votes to Play No More Games

Boston, Mass., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The undefeated Boston college football team disbanded today after the squad met with head coach Joe McKenney and agreed that a post season game would be unwise. Boston college had received several invitations, one of which came from Loyola for a game in New Orleans next Saturday.

MINORS SPURN DRAFT OFFERS OF MAJOR LEAGUES

Vote to Oppose Change in Present Law.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 3.—Hopes for a solution of baseball's eight year draft problem were practically abandoned today after three of the five circuits that do not recognize the player selection except in a restricted form had held business meetings preliminary to the opening of the National association [minor league] convention.

At the American association session the draft matter was not discussed, at least no announcement of it was made after adjournment. The silence was taken as a positive sign that the Tom Hickey circuit has no desire to change over from the present system by which all its players are exempt from draft except those sent down by the majors.

The International league voted against any change in the prevailing system as it affects that circuit and the Western league members were asked to vote on whether they desired the universal or the restricted draft. It decided to continue under the latter scheme.

Coast Refuses Draft.

The Pacific Coast league, the third class AA minor which consistently has refused to accept the majors' views on the draft subject, held its meeting several weeks ago. The Three Eye, the fifth of the nondraft organizations, is not expected to make a change.

The draft matter probably will come up for serious discussion when all of the minors get into one meeting room later this week, but there is no chance of an alteration.

The major leagues, although disclaiming any desire to arrange things so that they might grab talent at low prices, had made numerous concessions that were counted upon to prove attractive to the nondraft circuits. One of these was the raising of the draft price—the class AA figure to be $7,500, instead of $5,000. Another was a guarantee by the majors that they would keep their hands off the supply of kid players. These, with the exception of college players, could be signed only by the minors.

John Conway Toole was retained as president of the International league, although rumors had persisted that a movement would be launched to cut off his official head.

Cantillon Heads Umpires.

The American association will attempt to adopt a schedule tomorrow. At today's session the 1928 pennant was awarded to Indianapolis and a position of supervisor of umpires created. Joe Cantillon, veteran manager, umpire and scout, was named to supervise the umpires.

The Western league reelected Dale Gear of Topeka, Kas., as president, and J. F. Burch, Omaha, Neb., vice president.

AS IT'S PLAYED ON THE COAST

If you think football is a nice, quiet game, glance at the above and change your opinion. This stirring scene was enacted at Seattle when Washington beat Washington State, 6 to 0. Pulver of Washington is hurdling Horan of Washington State, and Chuck Carroll has just tipped a lad, yclept Mulligan, on his (Mulligan's) ear. Out in the west men are men, yes, indeed.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

PLAYER OF GREATEST VALUE.

DEAR HARVE: What's the matter with Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota walking off with THE TRIBUNE's most valuable player trophy? After being hurt so badly he could not play crashing full back, he went in at tackle and did plenty of damage to Northwestern and Indiana. Then he returned to full back and beat Wisconsin. Here's a vote for the big Nag. Scotty.

Do you know of any better candidate than the Badgers' Little Giant, Bo Cuisinier, a Chicago product, and probably the smallest man who played in the Big Ten?

He counted practically all his touchdowns against major elevens. He crossed the goal lines of Notre Dame, Purdue, Michigan, and Alabama. In each game he introduced two or more thrilling and brilliant plays in addition to piloting Wisconsin in an admirable manner. He was the best blocker in the Badger backfield, invaluable in defense, a clever open field runner, and never drops a forward pass. Badger '23.

Pacific Coast Football.

Southern California and Stanford furnished Pacific coast followers plenty of arguments in support of gridiron supremacy. Of course, Stanford's win was the more impressive because it had traveled across the continent for the fray. That's the reason we often advance when eastern teams are beaten way out there. Although downed by Notre Dame, Army was a good eleven —until it met Stanford. Notre Dame's defeat was anticipated. This is an off year for Rockne in the matter of victories. Coast football has been high grade for many years. Possibly this season it is better than usual. Anyway, it was convincing, both at home and abroad.

Dear Wake: I see where an Illinois professor has conducted a post-mortem on the Big Ten title and discovers that Iowa, NOT Illinois, won the title. To show that he was not kidding us, he presented Burt Ingwersen and the Iowa team with a championship cup and they accepted. Ain't that pretty good evidence? It's mighty fine to see a courageous Apostle of Justice arise from a rival school and declare our dear Old Gold team are real champions. More power to the professors. Iowa '13.

N. Dame's Share of U. of S. C. Grid Game $140,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Notre Dame and University of Southern California played here last Saturday to a $331,000 gate—the largest sum a football audience in Southern California ever contributed. A check-up of the officers at Southern university disclosed that after expenses have been paid off, including rental of the Los Angeles Coliseum, ushers, officials' salaries and various overhead items, the two teams will divide the net proceeds, which will give each approximately $140,000.

WORTERS CASE RAISES STORM IN HOCKEY CAMP

MONTREAL, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The right of any club in the National Hockey league to deal for the services of a player under suspension by another team was challenged by Frank Calder, president of the circuit, today in a statement on the case of Ray Worters, holdout Pittsburgh goalie sold to the New York Americans.

Worters was suspended by Calder for refusal to play with Pittsburgh but this suspension was lifted temporally to allow Worters to take the nets for the Americans against Detroit last night, pending final decision in the case.

Calder's statement follows:

"The point at issue in the Worters case is the right of any club to deal for the transfer of the services of a player of any other club under suspension.

"My contention is that such right should not be permitted. Otherwise a situation might be set up which would make it possible for a richer club to create discontent among the players of less wealthy clubs, bring about endless holdouts prior to the opening of the season."

Paulino Slashes Way to Win Over Hartwell

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish woodchopper, battled his way to a decision over Big Bill Hartwell, Kansas City Negro, in a slashing 10 round bout here tonight. Uzcudun scaled 196 pounds; Hartwell, 214½.

GREENFIELD WINS DECISION IN BOUT WITH DUBLINSKY

Aggressiveness Produces Easy Victory.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Al Greenfield, the west side Hebrew featherweight, scored a clean cut victory over Harry Dublinsky, also of the west side, in the eight round windup of Promoter Mique Malloy's boxing show at White City last night.

The bout between the two featherweights, who graduated from the local amateur ranks about a year ago, attracted 2,200 fans to the south side arena. Promoter Malloy said the receipts were $3,000.

Dublinsky, although he tried to connect with his right hand, lacked aggressiveness. He permitted Greenfield to take the play away from him. This was especially true of the first five rounds, which went to Greenfield. In the second round, Al jarred Harry with a stiff right cross. In the fourth he made his opponent miss and then stepped in to land scoring punches with both hands.

Santiago Wins Decision.

Harry made a bid for the fight in the sixth round. He took the aggressive and planted stinging punches to Al's head and body. Greenfield however, got back in his stride in the seventh round.

The six round semi-windup between Armando Santiago, the Cuban and Danny Delmont of the west side was a slashing affair all the way. It was a battle of right hands and when the fuss was over, the Cuban was given the decision. In the first round, Danny connected with a right cross and Santiago staggered back against the ropes. Danny tore after his opponent, who hold on. Finally Delmont shook him loose and Armando fell to the floor. No count was made as the Cuban did not go down as the result of a punch. In the third they butted heads and Delmont came out of the clinch with the blood flowing from a cut on his forehead. They met at 135 pounds.

In the opening engagement of four rounds, Willie Smith of Birmingham, Ala. was given the verdict over Ernie Johnson of Chicago.

Schuman Beats Adducci.

Harry Schuman, the west side 137 pounder, was awarded the decision over Sammy Adducci of Chicago Heights in the second preliminary of four rounds.

Willie Pelligrini, another product of the local amateur circles, won all the way from Willie Knowles, also of Chicago, in the third fight of four rounds.

Herman Ratzlaff of North Dakota won handily from Norman Brown of the south side in the first fight of six rounds.

Billy Freas, the Grand Rapids heavyweight, stopped Al Kubiak of Chicago in the third round of the final preliminary. A right to the pit of the stomach sent Kubiak down and he was counted out after 1 minute and 59 seconds of fighting. Up to the time of the knockout, Freas had all the best of the milling.

Leader—McNamara.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Speeding with the same reckless abandon which characterized the opening day, the 30 riders who are pedaling around Madison Square Garden in the forty-fifth international grind put on an exhibition tonight which was declared by veteran fans to be one of the wildest in six day bike history.

REGGIE McNAMARA

A crowd of 12,000 was in a constant uproar from ten minutes before the start of the sprints until an hour and a half later, when a punctured tire brought all jamming to a halt.

With a solid day of riding behind them at 12 o'clock tonight, McNamara and Van Nek, the Holland-American combination, led the pack by one lap. The French road team of Blanchonet and Cugnot and the Australian pair of Walker and Horder were tied for second place in milage. Four pairs were two circuits behind the pace setters.

Two Teams Stand Out.

The teams which stood out during the furore of the evening were Letourner and Brocardo, the French Red Devil pair, and Australian combination of Walker and Horder. The former, after trailing the leaders during the morning and afternoon, came on with one brilliant spurt after another to gain two laps on McNamara and Van Nek and to tie temporarily for the lead. The Australians, by dint of four stolen laps in quick succession, pushed up to within one lap of the pace setters.

The prospect of a new lap stealing record loomed, for at 10:25 when the racing settled down to its normal pace after Peloso had punctured a tire, bringing a stop to the endless jamming, it was found that during the mad hour and a half 54 laps had been stolen. This brought the total pilfered thus far to 107.

Just before the 9 o'clock sprints started, Blanchonet shot out, with Georgetti right in his wake. The field was not to be caught unawares, however, and McNamara soon was on the trail, along with the fiery little Letourner. For ten minutes the same wild riding that characterized the racing during the first hours of the grind again took place. At the end it was found that Debaets and Beckman had tied Cugnot and Blanchonet and McNamara and Van Nek for first place.

Zucchetti Continues Jam.

But that this field was to have no rest soon was evident, and during the fourth sprint, Zucchetti drove to the front and started another one of those dashes which invariably affect the standing. It resulted in eight teams stealing laps, two of the combinations pilfering two laps each. However, the leaders maintained the pace and advanced with the rest.

Right with Zucchetti were Cugnot, McNamara and Walker. At the wheels of this trio were Walthour, Brocardo and Debaets, and every one of this group added one lap. The field was just beginning to slow down when Zucchetti once again went to the fore, and, with Brocco and Walker, began a dash which did not end until all three had circled the pack.

Zucchetti was out after his third lap immediately, and, ably assisted by his partner, Negrini, gained his objective, but in doing so he carried the Walker-Horder and Linari-Belloni combinations along with him.

Walker Steals Fourth Lap.

Walker, not to be outdone, kept right on to steal his fourth lap in 40 minutes. This was the signal for a general scramble, and before the jam was over Walthour and Deulberg and Georgetti and Spencer had gained two laps. Five other combinations, including Debaets and Beckman and McNamara and Van Nek, had picked up one.

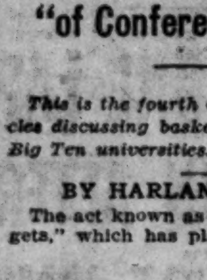
McNamara and Van Nek found themselves at the head of the pack one lap in front after the mad scramble which set a record for lap stealing. McNamara simply rode through the field. He may have lost some of that speed which on 13 occasions has carried hm across first in the long grinds, but certainly he has lost none of his daring.

BADGER MIDGETS' ACT GIVES WAY TO GIANT CAST

Meanwell Collects Tossers "of Conference Size."

This is the fourth of a series of articles discussing basketball prospects at Big Ten universities.

BY HARLAND ROHM.



COACH MEANWELL.

The act known as "Meanwell's Midgets," which has played the Big Ten basketball circuit for three years, has passed from the stage. In its place Wisconsin will enter a cage team in the 1928-'29 championship that Dr. Walter E. Meanwell calls "of conference size." And the Badgers' coach likes 'em tall and husky.

The pony forwards, Louis Behr and Charles Andrews, as well as the two veteran guards, George Nelson and George Hotchkiss, of last year's team which tied Northwestern for third place in the conference standing with 9 won and 3 lost, have been graduated. To take their places are six lettermen 6 feet tall and averaging at least 175 pounds, who Meanwell says will be Wisconsin's first big team since 1924, when the Badgers shared the championship with Chicago and Illinois.

Tall Attacking Trio.

In its primary attacking trio of the center and forwards, Wisconsin will present a striking contrast to the last few years, for three of four lettermen for these posts have jumped center at one time or another. Hank Kowalczyk, from Fort Wayne in the Hoosier state, has been holding down the tip-off job since practice began in September, while Harold Foster, who was center last year, and co-Captain Elmer Tenhopen occasionally worked at the job two years ago.

Kowalczyk is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs around 190 pounds. Tenhopen is the tallest man on the squad, 6 feet 4 inches, and "Bud" Foster, a Chicago boy, is 6 feet 2 inches. Foster ranked fifth in individual scoring last year with 96 points and 38 baskets in the 12 conference games. The other forward, Lycan Miller, is a little fellow—merely 6 feet.

The guards will have a hard job living up to last year's record when Hotchkiss, an all-conference man, and Nelson did a great part of the work in giving Wisconsin the best defensive record in the conference. The Badgers held their opponents to a fraction less than 24 points a game and their defense was a potent part of their defeat of Purdue, 28 to 22, in one of the two games the Boilermakers lost.

Chicagoans on Squad.

Co-Captain Johnny Doyle of Waukegan, another 6 footer, will take over half of that guarding job, while Harry Ellerman, once of Lake View High school, and Ed Chmielewski, who learned his basketball at Lane Tech, probably will share the other guard. Ellerman won his letter as a forward last year, but is being worked in as a guard. Another forward of the squad who is likely to get into some games is Carl Matthusen.

Those named are far from resting easy in assurance of their posts, however, as Coach Meanwell has invited ten members of the football squad to report for practice and there are some fast huskies among them who may crowd into the picture. The most promising are Homer Davidson, a fast quarter miler; Milton Gantenbein, football end, and Sammy Behr, brother of one of the pony forwards and captain of last year's freshman five.

The three "Smith brothers," Harold, Kitchell, and Lewis; Ernie Lusby, the punting half back; Ken Bartholomew, George Casey, formerly Bowen High school end, and Tury Oman, are the other football men to report on the hardwood.

Harry Forbes Defeats Belgian Ring Champion

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Willy Michel, Belgian featherweight champ, making his debut in America, was outpointed tonight in a ten round bout by Harry Forbes of Chicago.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS LOSE.

In the amateur bouts held last night at Dreamland, Tommy White's pupils took all but one of the bouts from the lads from the Evanston Y. M. C. A. In the two feature bouts, Morty Callahan, 115 pounds, knocked out Will Greger in the second round for his third consecutive win in this manner in as many starts.

Al Keegan launced a two fisted attack at George Holly of the Evanston "Y," that sent him down for the count in the first round. Both fighters weighed 165 pounds.

Crow's Nest, Pop Bell Win at Jefferson

New Orleans, La., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Several driving finishes with the victors only a head or less before the contenders, featured the racing at Jefferson Park today, where the program was given over to claiming races.

A finish that brought the spectators to their feet came in the fourth race when Mrs. J. Sciaccaluga's Pop Bell just lasted to take the race by a head from Arabian. A length and a half further back finished Sea Hawk. Arabian is owned by Mrs. L. M. Holmes and Sea Hawk by Mrs. M. E. Merz, and, like the winning horse, those which finished second and third are trained by the husbands of the owners.

Pop Bell's victory was scored over a field of eleven other older horses which contested the purse at 1 1-16 miles. In a half dozen races since Laurel, the gelded son of Donnacona has not won, but he ran today intent on victory and held on well at the end to stand a stern drive which kept him in front as they flashed under the wire.

G. C. Winfrey's Crow's Nest, with the popular apprentice Shropshire up, was an easy winner of the Grayling purse, a mile and one sixteenth gallop, which featured the card. He paid $10.40 for a $2 ticket. Marlboro was second and Lincoln Plaut third. The time was 1:48. The favorite, Flying Torch, was always beaten. It was another form reversal when Crows Nest triumphed.

Cook County Cage League Registers 14 New Clubs

The Cook County Basketball league at last night's meeting at 306 West Madison street enrolled fourteen new organizations, representing eighteen quintets and twenty-four free lance games were scheduled for this week's play.

The new organizations registered were: St. Charles Borromeau, Sheridan A. C., Ovals, Peerless Five, Barons A. C., Oriole Sportsmen, Cremo Reds, Trenton Speed Boys, Ryan's All Stars, Ridgeland Aces, Slavsky Gymnasium association, Schwartz Fireos, Ogden Park Flashes, and Parkviews A. C.

Golde 5 Opens New Gym Against Cappers Tonight

The Golde Clothiers basketball team will meet the Capper and Capper outfit at the new Holy Trinity gym, 1443 West Division street tonight. The Cappers have some of the leading eastern collegiate players, while the Goldes, who were the original Division "Y" Bullets have the same team intact that piled up a record total of 19 championships in their eight years of play.

Battling Levinsky Loses Ring Decision; Crowd Boos

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Marty Gallagher of Washington, received the judges' decision in 12 rounds here tonight over Battling Levinsky, aged ring warrior of Philadelphia. The decision was greeted with boos by the crowd. Levinsky held Gallagher at bay throughout the evening with his superior ring ability, in the opinion of newspapermen.

Covington Elected to Captain Kentucky

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Will Ed Covington, half back and junior at the University of Kentucky, was elected captain of the 1929 Wildcat football team at a banquet held here tonight. Covington is a brother of Herb Covington, former Centre college football star.

De Paul Names Jack Phelan Grid Captain

Jack Phelan, 22, of Chicago, was elected captain of the 1929 De Paul university football team, at a testimonial banquet given by the De Paul alumni association at the Lake Shore Athletic club last night, at which members of the team were guests of honor. Phelan, who played guard last year and part of this season and who was shifted to a half back post recently, is a product of De Paul academy.

Clare Byers, who sustained torn neck muscles in last Saturday's game with Loyola and who was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, was granted permission by physicians to attend the dinner, at which he was voted the team's most valuable player. Byers will be confined to the hospital for the remainder of this week.

Dr. Spears, coach of the University of Minnesota team and Walter Steffen, Carnegie mentor, spoke at the dinner.

Rev. Father Levan, president of the university; Eddie Anderson, De Paul coach; J. M. Kelley, athletic director; Bob Sweitzer and M. S. Scymczak also were among the speakers.

Major letters were awarded the following players: John Rericha, Edward Hussey, Clare Byers, Martin Dolowy, Patrick Driscoll, Denvir Watts, Emmet Upton, Paul Alexandroff, Theodore Jablonski, Jack Phelan, Fred Doyle, James Wulff, James Hagerty, Glen Coulson, Austin Gibbons, John Dix, George Kingsland, Louis Baudendistle, Edward Finnegan, Maurice Jones, Stanley Smalling, and Fred Schmidt.

BADGERS BEAT FROSH.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Making its first appearance of the season, Dr. Walter E. Meanwell's Wisconsin basketball team vanquished the freshmen in a practice game here tonight, 29 to 13. The Badger Frosh were able to score but a single basket on the varsity. The score at half time was 12 to 6.

OREGON AGGIES' GRID COACH ILL HERE WITH FLU

Paul Schissler, coach of the Oregon Aggies football team which defeated New York university in New York last Thursday, is confined to St. Luke's hospital with an attack of the flu. Schissler arrived in Chicago last Sunday with his team, but his condition was such that he was taken to the hospital for treatment. The remainder of the squad left for home yesterday.

Previous to the New York game, a number of Schissler's players had touches of the flu, but most of them played throughout the struggle. The coach was resting comfortably last night and his condition is not alarming, according to attending physicians.

I. W. A. C. PLANS NOVICE MEET FOR GIRL SWIMMERS

A novice meet for girl swimmers will be held in the Illinois Women's Athletic club pool Friday, Dec. 14. Coach Lillian Reilly believes there are a dozen or more girls in the Chicago district who, if given the opportunity, could develop into outstanding stars.

In the first of the novice meets the events on the program are the 50 yards free style, 50 yards back stroke, 50 yards breast stroke, and low board diving. They are open to any girl who has never placed first, second or third in a meet between two or more clubs. This does not bar girls who may have placed in a meet held under the direction of one of the park boards or municipal beaches.

Taylorville Challenges Champaign to Game

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Through Coach Joe McAdams the Taylorville high school team has issued a challenge for a post season game with Champaign, champion of the Big 12 conference. Taylorville is tied with Staunton for the lead in the Southern Illinois prep loop.

BIG TEN COACHES MEET THIS WEEK TO PLAN CARDS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

MAJ. JOHN L. GRIFFITHS.

Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western conference, yesterday announced the schedule of Big Ten meetings to be held on Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Sherman.

On Friday morning at 9 o'clock the athletic directors will hold their first session. At the same hour the baseball coaches will gather to arrange their schedules. Football coaches will hold an informal meeting at the same hour. As the schedules have been arranged, there remains no discussion except perhaps something pertaining to the rules.

The athletic directors and secretaries of the various high school athletic associations will take lunch together at noon. This session is a means to bring the conference and the high school associations in closer contact. Problems are presented and both seek possible solutions.

Football Meeting Important.

On Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the athletic directors and football coaches will hold a joint meeting. Matters of importance to the gridiron situation will be discussed. This session may be one of the most productive of views of the convention.

While the football coaches and athletic directors are in session, the wrestling coaches will meet to arrange a schedule. The baseball and track coaches may meet again in the afternoon if they fail to complete their slates in the morning. The gymnastic and fencing coaches will convene at 7:30 o'clock on Friday night in their schedule meeting.

The conference faculty committee may go into session some time on Friday, but on Friday night the professors are scheduled to meet with the athletic directors at the University club. This meeting has been scheduled for 9:30 o'clock. Among some of the matters to be taken up by the faculty are the awarding of the indoor and outdoor conference track championships together with those for swimming.

Hockey Coaches Also Meet.

On Saturday morning at 9 o'clock the athletic directors will meet to continue their discussions. At the same hour the ticket managers will convene. The swimming coaches are scheduled to go into session at 10 o'clock to arrange their schedule. The conference stockholders will meet at a luncheon at the University club at noon on Saturday.

Hockey coaches will get together some time on Friday.

PURDUE TO USE PREP GYM FOR 3 CAGE GAMES

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Because of the limited seating capacity of Memorial gymnasium, arrangements have been completed for Coach Ward Lambert's title-defending Purdue basketball five to play three of its home games in the newly completed Jefferson High School gymnasium here which has a seating capacity of approximately 6,000. The games are: Chicago on Jan. 14, Wisconsin on Jan. 21, and Indiana on Feb. 18. There also is a possibility that Ohio on March 4 will be played in the new gym.

Lambert has started an intensive week of practice in preparation for the opening game of the season against Wabash here on Dec. 11. He is concerned with developing a back guard to take the place of Harry Kemmer, all-western selection last season. The other four posts will be manned by veterans with Captain Wilbur Cummins and Glen Harmeson at forwards; Stretch Murphy at center and Dutch Schnaiter at floor guard.

TALLEST TEAM IN N.U. CAGE HISTORY TO FACE WABASH

Six Foot Squad Prepares for Game Saturday.

When Northwestern university's 1929 basketball team takes the floor at Patten gymnasium Saturday night to execute Coach Dutch Lonborg's flying five man offensive against the Wabash college quintet in the season's inaugural the tallest combination of regulars in modern Purple cage history will be seen in action. The team's average height will be over six feet.

This will hold true no matter what starting lineup Lonborg chooses to send against the Little Giants, who last year took a 40-17 trimming in the opener at Evanston. Of the squad of thirteen who have survived the numerous cuts, nine have been measured as of six feet or more, while only one is as short as five foot ten.

Nine Touch Six Feet.

There are no outstanding giants when individual stature is considered, but the squad is exceptionally well balanced in height, there being only four inches difference between the tallest and the smallest players. Of the skyscraping class are Russell Bergherm, center, and William Portmess, forward, who are six feet two inches tall. One scant inch shorter are Capt. Hal Gleichmann, forward, Russell Waller and Harold Schultz, centers, and Wade Woodworth, guard. Six feet even is the measurement for Frank Marshall, Allen Finnell and Merrill Mundy, all guards.

The "shorties" of the outfit are Bert Riel, Cort Hogdon and Johnny Haas, all forwards measuring five foot eleven. John Whelan, also a forward, is one inch shorter.

Just what newcomers Lonborg will start with Gleichmann, Walter and Marshall is uncertain, but it is likely that Mundy will get the back court guarding assignment. The forward teammate of Gleichmann is a toss up just now.

Elected Grid Captain.

Saturday night will furnish a double header in Purple athletic activity, for while the basketeers are cavorting out in Evanston, the Chicago club of Northwestern men will fete the football team at the annual harvest home banquet at the Hotel Sherman. Due to athletic and hotel schedules it was found almost impossible to avoid the conflict.

Besides the usual oratory at the banquet, the football varsity letters and freshmen numerals will be awarded and a captain elected for next season's gridders.

Ernie Peters Outboxes Carpentero in 10 Rounds

Newcastle, Pa., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Ernie Peters, Chicago lightweight, won a decision here tonight over Luis Carpentero of Toledo in ten rounds.

Veenker Picks Michigan's Varsity Squad

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Two Chicagoans, Joe Balsamo and Dal Whittle, were included among the 14 Wolverine basketball players assigned to the "A" squad by Coach George Veenker. Both are forwards and won minor letters in the sport last season as members of Michigan's "B" cage team.

Coach Veenker aligned the players to the "A" and "B" rosters following today's scrimmage session which was taken as the final test. The forwards besides Balsamo and Whittle include the veterans, Orwing and Truskowski, and Kanitz and Slagle. The former pair competed in conference competition last year and the year previously, respectively. The latter two earned minor awards for competition as members of the Michigan Junior Varsity.

No Sophomores on Squad.

Two centers, Chapman and MacDonald, will share the pivot duties during the season unless some new star is developed. Chapman was regular center on last year's team while McDonald sat on the bench throughout the schedule.

Among the guards Capt. McCoy and Lovell have seen work as roving defensive players, while Rose, Barley, Cushing, and Myron have been alternating at the other defensive post.

All of these players earned awards last year for their work on the Junior Varsity. Capt. McCoy and Rose earned major letters.

Coach Veenker after naming his "A" squad pointed to the fact that not one of the members of last season's freshmen five developed into varsity caliber. None of the players given the traditional blue shirts of the varsity is a sophomore, the first time in court history at Michigan.

Meet State Friday Night.

The five players who started against the group which looms as the probable starting lineup for the State game this Friday were, Balsamo and Slagle at the forwards, McDonald at center, and Myron and Lovell at the guards.

Police Dog "Lays Down" as Weasel Nips His Nose

BY BOB BECKER.

The courage which certain breeds of dogs exhibit when in contact with wild animals always provides a source of arguments among outdoor men. Docile, well mannered, and apparently non-fighting dogs have been known to rise to heights in clashes with wild animals and, on the other hand, big huskies of fighting breeds have been licked by animals which ordinarily should be no match for a large dog.

Negro Has Fighting Dog.

A few years ago in Tennessee we hunted behind a puny, half nourished pup owned by a locally famous Negro coon and possum hunter. It didn't look husky enough to stand up to a house mouse. Yet we saw this dog close in with a big raccoon and never give an inch.

So it goes in this dog versus wild animal question. It is difficult to lay down a general rule of conduct for all individuals of a breed or type of dog, as exceptions with surprising courage or lack of it under stress will upset the dope.

Police Dog Quits.

"Gamekeeper" sends us the story of one of these exceptions which concerns a police dog, a courageous fighting breed which is popular in this country. How a tiny weasel made this police dog take the count is told as follows:

"The other day a police dog with a good reputation as a fighter and an active ratter, came into conflict with a weasel. The weasel caught the dog by the nose and caused the dog so much pain that the latter lay down and did not move until the weasel relaxed his grip. The dog did not return to the attack."

Hoppe and Hall Break Even in Two Cue Matches

Willie Hoppe and Allen Hall split even yesterday in their two billiard matches at Mussey's billiard parlor.

Allen won the afternoon match of 64 innings, 50 to 48, despite the fact that his high run of 6 was doubled by Hoppe.

Hoppe came back in the night match of 52 innings to win 52 to 26 with a high run of 5 against Hall's 4.

TUNNEY IS STILL GULPING DOWN EUROPE CULTURE

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The literary Gene Tunney is gulping down European culture with every breath, and has not the least intention to return to the United States before another year, he told THE TRIBUNE correspondent tonight.

The ex-champion and his bride, formerly Polly Lauder, who were married in Rome in October, slipped into Paris yesterday after a lengthy honeymoon in Italy and central Europe. As usual, the frightened ex-pugilist took refuge behind his youthful secretary, who received all the callers and kept them from seeing the great man.

Bruins Meet Cleveland Pro 5 Tomorrow

Professional basketball in Chicago will get under way tomorrow night when the Chicago Bruins, with four new stars in the lineup will open the American league season with the Cleveland Rosenblums at the Broadway armory.

In tackling Cleveland the Bruins meet one of the strongest clubs in the league. The Buckeyes have signed Dehnert, Barry and Lopchick, three of last season's New York Celtics, and likely will provide the Bruins with all the opposition that is necessary for the opening night. Cleveland also has held over some of its stars from last season.

Honey Russel, Ray Kennedy, Lefty Topel, Gil Ely and Mark Harper will represent Chicago. It is a considerably stronger team than that of last season.

Two preliminary games will precede the pro match. The Taylor Trunks and Waukegan girls will meet at 7:30 while Albert Pick and Co., will tackle the Bank of America five immediately after.

YANKEES, GIANTS TO DECIDE N. Y. PRO GRID TITLE

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The management of the New York Yankees, professional football team, announced today that the team would oppose Benny Friedman's Detroit Wolverines at the Yankee stadium next Sunday and would meet the New York Giants at the Polo grounds on Sunday, Dec. 16, to decide the city championship.

Chicago Nationals Defeat Coffeyville, Kas., 37 to 26

Chicago Nationals opened their home basketball season last night at St. Philip's gym, defeating Olson's Swedes from Coffeyville, Kas., 37 to 26.

LIGHT, ROBERTS FIGHT TONIGHT AT HIPPODROME

Billy Light, St. Paul welterweight, who has lost only one fight in the last year, and Johnny Roberts of Huntington, W. Va., will be the principals in Promoter Jack Art's boxing show tonight at the Hippodrome, Lawrence avenue and Clark street. They will box ten rounds to a decision and weigh 148 pounds.

Light has won two decisions over Jack McCarthy of the west side and is recognized as the leading welterweight of the northwest. He dropped a ten round decision to Young Jack Thompson of California at Mills stadium last summer but has won from such fighters as Billy Algers, Clyde Hull, Floyd Hybert, Al Van Ryan, Russie Le Roy, and Herman Ratzlaff.

Roberts is one of the leading 147 pounders in the south. He lost a newspaper decision to Joe Dundee, the welterweight champion, but won from Pinkey Mitchell, Sailor Friedman, Farmer Joe Cooper, and Billy Algers.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES CARDED BY BIG SIX SCHOOLS

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Eight intersectional football games have been scheduled by Big Six schools for next fall, with the possibility that two or three more may be booked. Big Six gridiron teams played ten intersectional games last season.

Last season Nebraska had the cream of the intersectional tilts—Syracuse, Pitt, Army, and Montana State—but next season the feature tilts are more evenly distributed. Nebraska has two scheduled, with one or two more possible; the Kansas Aggies, who had none last season, have two; Iowa State, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri each have carded one, while Oklahoma is bidding for another.

Scheduled to face the champion Huskers are Syracuse and Pitt, the former in Syracuse and the latter in Lincoln. Pitt was taken on when Southern Methodist returned an unsigned contract and Pitt arranged its schedule that it might play Nebraska again. Southern Methodist yet may be offered another contract and one of the two open dates on the Nebraska schedule.

Kansas will open its season with Illinois in Urbana. Missouri will return again to New York in the middle of November. The Kansas Aggies will go to Dallas early in October to meet Texas A. & M. in what may become an annual attraction of the Texas fair, and will end the season with Marquette in Milwaukee. Oklahoma has scheduled a fray with Texas in Dallas and hopes to sign a Big Ten eleven. Iowa State will play Marquette.

Cheap-poor cloth-didn't fit!
Ready-made-had to take what they offered-no selection-
High-priced tailor-cost 'way too much

-And Then He Bought a ROYAL

He was ready to buy a new suit of clothes.

He knew just about what this suit should be—its style, color and fit. And he was prepared to pay a fair price.

Never had he been really satisfied with any suit he'd worn.

Once he'd splurged, paying $125—another time he yielded to the lure of the small local tailor around the corner—most of the time he'd bought ready-mades. Now he started investigating, turning to his favorite newspaper for help.

He read men's clothing advertisements of every kind.

These advertisements confused him. Some made him hot—most of them left him cold.

So he was interested when he read the ROYAL advertisement. He found he could get most recent fashions (vouched for)—cloth of merit in over 300 patterns and fabrics—fit, because made to his measure, for him alone—positive delivery as promised (no disappointments)—and a guarantee as clear as crystal that said, "You don't pay unless you're satisfied."

Being cautious he went all over the ground again and gave careful consideration to every argument of all the other houses—and then he bought a ROYAL!

You, too, can get that sincerely honest combination of big value at small cost.

Why not do it today?

HIGH WATER MARK

On Sunday, December 2nd, the Chicago Tribune sold more than

1,250,000

a new all time circulation record for standard-size newspapers of America!

November closed with a new all-time high for Sunday Tribune circulation—an average of 1,207,104 for the month. But within a week it became evident that the upward rush which notched this high was just commencing. The first Sunday in December saw another sensational upward surge of over 43,000 copies—and the total leaped to the new all-time high of more than 1,250,000!

Advertisers! The Sunday Tribune's vaulting circulation is the most powerful and economical newspaper selling force in America today!

LINDY'S HEROISM IS TRANSLATED ON WALL STREET

Wright Aero Soars After Flights.

To Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and others like him—the pioneers in oceanic and trans-continental flights—the holders of the stocks of the Wright Aeronautical corporation owe votes of thanks.

Wright Aero closed on the New York market Saturday at $255.50 a share. At the opening yesterday it jumped up twenty more points and closed at 270, a net gain of 14½ points. No further back than February it was sold at low as $69. But in 1926, the year before Lindbergh went from New York to Paris in a single jump, the lowest quotation was $24.50 and the highest $39.75. The latter figure was the highest that had ever, at that time, been paid for the stock since it was listed in 1921.

Indirectly the ex-mail flyer and his mates pushed interest in aviation ahead so far that the demand for planes and engines forced expansion in manufacturing schedules. Orders for flying equipment flowed in. In the van of those companies ready to expand production was the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

Lindbergh's plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, was powered by a Wright Whirlwind engine. So were the planes of other aviators making long flights. Their heroism was translated in less than two years into millions of dollars on the stock exchange.

Figures show the results, not only in stock prices but in production records of Wright Aero as well. In 1922 the company made 250 engines for planes. In 1923 and 1924 output fell to 182 for each twelve month. Then, in 1925, a total of 365 were marketed and 1926 followed with 366. But in 1927, Lindbergh's year, the company made 624.

Earnings Are Increasing.

The nine months' sales total referred to was $6,418,585. For the corresponding months in 1927 the total was $2,545,654. Net income for the two periods was given as $1,992,130 and $648,616, respectively. Figured on a basis of 250,000 shares in 1927 and 300,000 in 1928—the increase made last spring—the stock earned in this year's nine months $6.64 a share and in 1927's similar months $2.59 per share.

One share last year earned $3.77. It has been estimated that from $8 to $9 will be the net earning this year.

The Wright Aeronautical corporation was incorporated in 1919 under New York laws to take over the airplane motor business of the Wright-Martin Aircraft corporation, with all assets of the latter concern above $8,000,000. This amount was distributed to the stockholders of Wright-Martin. Among the assets of the new company were the Wright airplane patents—the outgrowth of the genius of Orville and Wilbur Wright—the American rights of the Hispano-Suiza aero motor, and more than $750,000 in cash.

Conservative Dividend Policy.

The authorized capital stock in 1919 was 250,000 no par shares. Of this 224,390 shares were issued to the former holders of Wright-Martin in exchange for the stock they had held. In 1923, the corporation acquired the business and assets of the Lawrence Aero corporation, paying cash and 25,000 shares of their own stock.

A conservative dividend policy has been followed. For six and a half years the payment was $1 a share. Beginning in February, 1928, the amount was raised to $2 annually. Something like two-thirds of all earnings so far have been held for plant additions and improvements of products.

The stock has shown earning power each year since, and including 1921. In that year the earnings were $2.66 a share; in 1922, $2.33; in 1923, $1.31; in 1924, $1.70; in 1925, $2.85; in 1926, $2.83, and in 1927, $3.77.

On March 31, 1928, the total assets of the concern were put at $11,928,389. Current assets were $6,911,479 and current liabilities $520,012. The capital surplus, after giving effect to the issuance of the additional 50,000 shares, was $6,562,695. Net working capital was figured at $6,391,467.

As to market values in past years, the stock has shown a steady upward trend. The high price on the stock exchange in 1921 was $9.37½. The next year it rose to $11 and in 1923 the high was $13.12½. In 1924 it passed $23; in 1925 topped $82 and in 1926 reached a high of more than $39. The top in 1927 was $94.

Oil Combustion Offers Chances for Engineers

BY LEON STOLZ.

A few days ago, some figures were presented in this column showing a decrease in the proportion of engineering students to total enrollment in the colleges of this country. A number of letters have been received in comment, of which the following may be taken as typical:

"The next time you write articles about the decrease of engineering students, I suggest that you tell the public the reasons therefor. When I was a student, the engineering schools turned out about two graduates for each available job. In the recent past, they have been turning out about twenty-two graduates for each available job. As a result, engineering pay (gold value) is less than it was before the German war."

Probably an Extreme View.

The accuracy of our correspondent's figures may be doubted, but it is unquestionably true that young civil engineers have of recent years found it more difficult than formerly to find employment for which their training fitted them. At the same time, new fields for engineering skill have been opened up in which the supply of trained men is by no means excessive.

One of those fields is combustion engineering. Development of new fuels of recent years has been rapid and the need for technical men to devise suitable furnaces and burner apparatus is large.

Powdered coal can be used for many purposes for which apparatus has yet to be brought out. Only last week, the shipping board reported successful experiments with powdered coal as a marine fuel. The possibilities of growth in the use of this fuel are almost unlimited.

What is true of pulverized coal is equally true of oil as fuel. Manufacturers of oil burners can give employment to well trained men for years to come in devising improved equipment and practices.

Use of Oil Increases.

E. B. Swanson, economic analyst of the federal bureau of mines, recently has brought out a national survey of fuel oil distribution in 1927. Last year was a year of reduced sales in many industries, including many branches of the oil business, but the fuel oil consumption for commercial and domestic heating, particularly the latter, went ahead at a rapid pace. Oil consumed for the heating of buildings is presented in the following tabulation:

Region—	Barrels 1926.	Barrels 1927.
Atlantic coast states	9,989,000	11,836,000
Central United States	8,831,000	11,274,000
Pacific coast states	3,960,000	4,410,000

Of the oil used for the heating of buildings, says Mr. Swanson, 12,377,000 barrels were consumed in the heating of residences and 15,143,000 barrels in the heating of commercial structures. Domestic oil heating is a development of the last few years. Its rapid application is indicated by the fact that in 1923 the oil consumed for domestic heating amounted to no more than 2,818,000 barrels, while in 1926 the consumption had increased to 9,080,000 barrels and last year, as already noted, to 12,377,000 barrels.

It's Growing Business.

This increased consumption has been accompanied, needless to say, by a proportionate increase in the number of oil burning installations, and there is every reason to believe that the future will see an increasing application of the new fuel.

Butler Bros. Expand Into Retail Chain Store Field

Butler Bros., one of Chicago's oldest wholesale merchandising houses specializing in mail order sales, has expanded into the retail chain store field.

Announcement of the step was made last night by Frank S. Cunningham, president of the corporation, after a hectic day of the company's stock on the Chicago exchange, where efforts of short traders to drive the price down brought about a net gain of 2⅞ to 49⅞ on the day. Expectations in the street were that the company may offer rights to purchase additional stock, although no mention was made by Mr. Cunningham of any such action.

To Organize Subsidiary.

The company will organize a subsidiary known as Scott Stores, Inc., all of whose stock will be owned by Butler Bros. The new stores will specialize in goods retailing for from 5 cents to $1. The management of the stores will be placed in the hands of a man who for two years has been in charge of the company's Ben Franklin league of independently owned variety stores.

"The same merchandising organization which buys goods for the Butler wholesale houses situated in five cities from coast to coast, will also buy for the retail chain," said Mr. Cunningham. "The number of towns in which we will be free to open stores of our own without coming into direct competition with any co-operating merchant is greater than we can take advantage of for years to come."

Present Customers Protected.

Mr. Cunningham added that he does not believe the step will be detrimental to the company's present wholesale business. He said that the customers know that the company will keep faith with its assurance not to open a retail store in any town until every effort has been exhausted to secure adequate outlet through one or more independent stores.

Net earnings of the company for 1927 equaled $2.43 a share on the $22,762,200 of capital stock. This compared with $2.44 a share earned in the previous year.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS ARE FARE FOR STOCKHOLDERS

Directors of the National Supply company yesterday increased the annual rate on the common stock from $4 to $5 with the declaration of $1.25, quarterly and declared an extra disbursement of $3 a share. Extra dividends of 50 cents each were declared by the directors of the Electric Auto Lite company and the Barnsdall corporation. Lessings, Inc., increased the quarterly dividend from five cents to 10 cents and declared an extra of five cents a share. Directors of the Interlake Steamship company decided to issue to stockholders 54,600 shares of the 55,000 shares of additional authorized stock that has not been issued. The regular dividend of $1.50 a share and an extra dividend of $2 a share payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 20 also was authorized.

November Unusual; Sees Decline in Failures

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Reversing the trend of previous years, commercial failures in the United States declined in November. Instead of the normal increase, defaults last month fell off a little more than 9 per cent after a sharp upturn in October.

As reported to R. G. Dun & Co., the November insolvencies totaled 1,888, compared with 2,023 in the earlier month, and were slightly below November, 1927.

STOCK EXCHANGE PLANS GIVING OF "SEAT DIVIDENDS"

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Among plans for increasing the New York stock exchange membership, the committee working on the problem is considering one which would grant to present members the right to nominate additional members. This was disclosed today in a letter sent by Warrent B. Nash, chairman of the committee, to members.

Under the plan the present membership of 1,100 would be increased by 285, 550, or 1,100, and each member would be given the right to nominate a candidate for a quarter, half, or full new membership, according to the increase decided upon. This plan is practically equivalent to granting a "seat dividend" to members.

A number of members who have been opposed to increasing the number of seats, because they have feared it would reduce the value of the present seats, are understood to favor the "dividend" plan. The agitation for increasing the number of members, which has been held at the present number since 1879, has gathered strength as the present capacity of the exchange has been taxed to the limit during the violent trading of recent weeks.

Proposes Increase in Common Stock Shares

Archer-Daniels-Midland company of Minneapolis have notified the New York stock exchange of a proposed increase in common stock to 750,000 shares from 350,000.

REPORT IS PROOF OF VAST CREDIT ON SPECULATION

Brokers' Loans Top All Expectations.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Startling evidence on the vast amount of credit now devoted to speculation was given by the New York stock exchange last night in its monthly report on brokers' loans. Members of the exchange last Friday were borrowing $6,391,644,202, the largest amount ever recorded and an increase of $511,923,202 over Oct. 31.

Speculators had been prepared for a large increase by the weekly figures issued last month by the federal reserve board on loans of the New York member banks. But they were hardly prepared for an upturn of half a billion dollars, which is by far the largest increase ever recorded in a single month.

What This Credit Means.

To show what this vast amount of credit means—and it almost transcends the imagination—a few data and comparisons are pertinent. It is more than the total amount of currency in circulation in the United States, which is slightly below five billion dollars; it is more than one-third of the national debt, which is around 17½ billions; it is concentrated in 1,100 hands, that being the number of New York stock exchange members, or an average borrowing of more than $5,800,000.

Last Wednesday 630 federal reserve member banks throughout the country were lending more than seven billion dollars on stocks and bonds. This total would be considerably increased by loans made by non-member banks. Therefore, figuring that speculators are using as much of their own money as they are borrowing, the total of 15 billion dollars devoted to speculation is arrived at.

The vastly increased demands for credit that the roaring bull stock market of the last year has imposed on the general credit structure is shown by other comparisons. A year ago New York stock exchange members were borrowing $4,091,836,303. Thus, the increase in the last year has been almost exactly 2 billion 300 million dollars, or 56 per cent.

Long in Duration.

The present bull stock market has been in progress for nearly five years. It is evident the amount of credit devoted to speculation has increased several fold in that time.

The stock market received its most serious set back in the spring of 1926, with the result that stock exchange member loans declined to $2,767,400,514 at the end of May. Since then, such loans have risen almost constantly. In less than three years they have increased nearly two and a half fold.

A prime feature of the situation is that nearly all of the 6 1-3 billion dollars now loaned to stock exchange members is in the form of demand loans that may be called for payment day by day. Such loans now total $5,614,388,360, an increase of $489,660,826 in the last month. On the other hand, time loans total only $777,255,904, a gain of only $13,262,376.

Nearly half of the demand loans are being furnished by corporations, representing temporary surplus funds, and by wealthy individuals, who might for various reasons withdraw funds on short notice. It is this situation that is giving concern to many bankers. For several days the New York banks have been calling in stock market loans rather heavily.

Chicago Issues Sell Down in Weak Trading

Prices were inclined to weakness in Chicago stock trading yesterday, higher call money and profit taking being partly the cause. About 15 issues sold from 1 to 5 points down, including Pines Winterfront and some of the radios.

Grigsby-Grunow, maker of the Majestic line of radios, was off 4 points in the general movement. The stock of this company was recently split four for one. Directors of the company declared an initial quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share, thereby placing the stock on a regular $3 annual basis. They also voted to pay an extra dividend of 25 cents a share.

The action reflects the unusual prosperity which has followed radio manufacturers as a result of the big demand for radio equipment. B. J. Grigsby, president, announced that although the earnings of the company justified a greater cash dividend the directors decided against any larger distribution at this time to conserve cash until such time as the company is in an impregnable financial position.

Increase Working Capital.

Mr. Grigsby added that since Dec. 31, 1927, working capital has been increased from $1,250,000 to $3,678,000 as of Nov. 30, 1928. This, he said, was after expenditures of more than $1,000,000 in expansion, mostly for new equipment. November sales are given as $5,276,000, compared with $5,140,000 in October. November profits were in excess of $800,000, or $2 a share for the month.

Morgan Lithograph, which has the biggest part of theatrical lithograph work of the country, shot up 5¼ points after directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share. There was some talk last week that the dividend might be omitted this time due to a slow-up in motion picture production last year. Resumption of production, now that most of the companies have developed a "talkie" plan, causes the company to announce that business is increasing steadily.

In Days of Crude Work.

The company was organized 40 years ago by the Morgan family of Cleveland, in the days of the crudest sort of stone lithographing. It has since taken in five other concerns. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927, the company had a deficit of $38,882, and in the period ended June 30, 1928, made up this deficit and $429 besides. The surplus was increased from $2,048,517 in 1927 to $2,225,908 in June, 1928. The earnings per share at the end of last June were equal to $5 a share, according to P. J. Morgan, president.

MIDDLE WEST UTILITIES WILL ADD TO STOCK

Stockholders of the Middle West Utilities company, principal holding corporation for the Insull companies and one of the largest of its kind in the world, were offered rights yesterday to subscribe for additional stock on the basis of one new share for each six shares held at $130 a share.

The stock of the company eased off 3 points yesterday on the Chicago Stock Exchange to $180, probably in connection with the general trend, and in reflection of the opinion that the news of the directors' action would be out before another trading day.

The rights are offered to the stockholders of all six classes of the company's common and preferred stocks. Subscription warrants will be issued around Jan. 15, the statement reads, and the books for new stock will be closed Feb. 15. The new stock can be paid for in one, four or ten installments, optional to the subscriber.

The company's common stock was recently increased from 600,970 shares to 1,100,970 shares. The offering of rights to purchase additional stock has been made from time to time by the leading Insull corporation to the stockholders. The funds have been used for expansion purposes.

Gardiner Motor Shipments Are More Than Doubled

Gardner Motor company reports shipments for the quarter ended Nov. 30 amounting to 947 cars, compared to 442 for the same period of 1927, an increase of 114 per cent. Shipments for November showed an increase of 15 per cent over November of 1927.

STOCKS BREAK; RALLY AGAIN AS MARKET CLOSES

Figures Show Gains Balance Losses.

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

	High.	Low.	Close.	Net chge.
25 Railroads	131.02	129.11	130.56	—.25
25 Industrials	319.92	316.38	319.22	—2.11
50 Stocks	225.47	222.74	224.89	—1.23

(New York stock list on page 41)

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—One of the sharpest stock market breaks since the election was followed by an aggressive rally in the late trading today and the final figures showed enough gains to fully balance the losses, both as to number and amount.

Call money sprang to 10 per cent again and trading slowed down materially. Transactions were under the 4,500,000 share mark.

Prices opened heavy. Large offerings were thrown into the market in the first half hour and a full fledged selling wave was soon under way. It gained momentum and raged unchecked until noon with many of the more active issues dropping off from three to fifteen points. Then the pressure began to lift, but it was not until 2 o'clock that the liquidation entirely disappeared and the recovery set in.

Gains Run Up.

In the last hour gains were run up by a number of issues as rapidly as losses had accumulated in the forenoon flurry. Wright Aero, for instance, which had dropped to 255, rushed up to 275 and then fell back to 270, which left it with a net gain of 13½ points for the day. By-Products Coke, as low as 173¼ around noon, closed at 191½, up 13½ points. Baltimore and Ohio, down to 120¼ in the morning, came back in vigorous fashion and wound up at 125⅝, up 5⅝ points for the day.

Various issues scattered through the list, however, failed to turn with the tide and continued to display weak tendencies to the close. Among the more conspicuous minus signs of the sales were those of Indian Refining preferred, off 15; Motor Products corporation, off 13; Keith-Albee preferred, off 11⅞, and Rossia Insurance, down 9½—all on small turnovers.

Copper shares were especially weak throughout the day. Greene Cananea

CURB MARKET WORKS LOWER; FEW EXCEPTIONS

Supporting Orders Help Stay Declines.

(Curb stock list on page 39)

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Increased selling resistance developed in today's curb market and the general list, with few exceptions, worked lower. Losses in most of the active issues were held to a point or two as supporting orders were thrown into the market, but several of the high priced specialties broke 4 to nearly 10 points.

High call money rates and fears of another huge increase in stock exchange member loans, which proved to be well founded as the actual figures issued after the close of the market showed a gain of $511,000,000, stimulated the selling movement.

Weakness in Marconi.

Further weakness cropped out in Canadian Marconi and allied issues. Canadian Marconi, which sold as high as 28½ only last week, opened with a block of 42,000 shares at 8⅛, dipped to 7¼, and then rallied to 8⅝, off 1½ points net. Marconi of England improved slightly and Marconi International closed fractionally lower but Spanish & General fell back nearly 2 points.

Oils were liquidated rather freely despite predictions of more stock split-ups and mergers in the next few months. Illinois Pipe Line broke 8½ points on a few sales and Gulf, Humble, Ohio, Vacuum, and Standard Oils of Kentucky and Ohio lost 1 to 3 points. Prairie Pipe Line showed independent strength by running up 7 points to 271. Initial trading took place in the new Prairie Pipe Line common, which ranged between 53 and 55½.

Public Utilities Erratic.

Public utilities fluctuated in rather erratic fashion. Electric Bond & Share opened at 159½, broke 6 points and then rallied to 161, up 2¼ points net. Southeastern Power "when issued" stock sold down more than 3 points. United Gas & Improvement dropped nearly 5 points but recovered more than half its loss.

Deere & Co., Ford of Canada, Firestone Tire, Lane Bryant, Richman Bros., and Singer Manufacturing dropped 4 to 9 points on odd lot sales. A few issues moved against the general trend, notably American Milling, Comstock Tunnel, Hazeltine, Sheaffer Pen, and Todd Shipyard, all of which sold at the year's high prices.

Trading failed to maintain the terrific pace set last week, the day's transactions falling well below 2,000,000 shares.

Arrange New Financing for Department Store Group

Financing for the American Department Stores corporation, consisting of a new issue of $1,000,000 7 per cent convertible first preferred stock series A will be arranged in this market soon by Schluter & Co., Inc., it was announced yesterday.

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE

Chicago curb stocks sold lower in the earlier trading, some of them sharply down, but the market steadied in the afternoon and except for Walgreen, down more than 5 points and Canadian Marconi, off 3, the list finished without important change. The principal effect of lower trends in other markets was to curtail curb activity. Harrison's Orange Huts staged a good comeback. After sagging nearly 2 points it sold back to previous quotations at the close. Announcement has been made that the company intends to establish 200 new huts in the Chicago district and to place the new Heart of Orange fountain in 800 stores.

EXPECT TO LIST TWO ADDITIONAL CHICAGO STOCKS

Further enhancement of Chicago as the financial center of the middle west was shown yesterday with the announcement that two additional corporations are to seek capital for further expansion and will list their stock for trading on the local exchange.

The Elmer Richards company, 951 West 35th street, one of the only two concerns in the country selling clothing and jewelry by mail order on the partial payment plan, will offer an issue of 40,000 shares of convertible preferred stock through a syndicate composed of Howe, Snow & Co., and W. B. McMillan & Co. later this week.

The stock will carry cumulative dividends at the rate of $2 annually. Earnings for 1927 available for dividends totaled $170,564 and earnings for this year are estimated at $220,000. The company was founded in 1909 by Joseph Feuchwanger, who is now president. The number of customers is given at 160,000 with 20 to 30 per cent new each year.

The Bright Star Electric company, manufacturer of dry batteries for radio, household, and flashlight uses, has sold an issue of 20,000 units of "A" and "B" stocks to Harry H. Field & Co., who will offer them publicly in a day or two at $35 a unit. The company has its plant at Newark, N. J.

Chesapeake Seeks Control of Pere Marquette R. R.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Testimony in support of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad's application for authority to complete its purchase of control of the Pere Marquette system was placed today before the interstate commerce commission. The hearing then was adjourned until Wednesday, when the testimony will be completed. Under the proposal for the purchase, the Chesapeake and Ohio will pay $133.33 per share for 174,900 shares of Pere Marquette common stock now owned by the Nickel Plate railroad. It will raise funds for the purchase by issuing new stock of its own to its present stockholders at $100 per share.

CLAIMS HIS LINE HAS NO DESIGNS ON NEW HAVEN

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The Pennsylvania railroad has at no time contemplated or seriously considered obtaining control of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, said W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania, in a letter to John S. Lawrence, president of the New England council. Mr. Lawrence asked the large eastern railroads to state their policies toward the New England railroads.

The Pennsylvania railroad, President W. W. Atterbury stated, owned only 73,025 shares of New Haven common stock and had sold the 13,281 shares of new 7 per cent preferred acquired at the time of the New Haven's offering a few months ago.

"The Pennsylvania railroad," Mr. Atterbury said, "has at no time contemplated or seriously considered obtaining control of the New Haven system. The policy of the Pennsylvania railroad is to continue its present interest in the New Haven system and to participate pro rata in any financing of the New Haven road which its management may consider desirable.

Estimate New Airport Construction at $8,500,000

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—It is estimated that more than $8,500,000 will be spent in the next year in airport construction in the United States. Eleven cities and counties have passed bond issues ranging from $25,000 to $5,000,000 for the work. In the last year more than $21,000,000 was appropriated for airport facilities.

SAYS BANKS ARE NOW FINANCIAL DEPT. STORES

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Allas B. Cook, vice president of the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland, O., said in an address here this afternoon before the fourth mid-continent trust conference, that within memory "the bank has changed from a single purpose institution to a financial department store.

"Don't forget," he added, "that the ranks of that parade of bankers treading the old narrow path worn smooth by countless generations of predecessors are growing thinner every year. More and more our fraternity is blazing new trails in sparsely settled grounds opened by those hardy pioneers who dared to do the thing that was different."

Where working together is everything

It is the aim of the Bell System that anyone anywhere in the country can pick up a telephone and talk to anyone anywhere else clearly and without delay. That is the meaning of universal service. To provide it, the means of telephoning must be uniformly good. This company, for example, has full access to all the improvements and methods that are continually being made.

There are 5000 workers on the Bell staffs whose sole occupation is to develop constantly improving methods and equipment for the 350,000 employees of the Bell System to use in serving the public. The results of the efforts are evident, not only in the extension of telephone service across the Atlantic, but in the constantly improving local and long distance service at home.

The Bell System accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Funds for further construction and improvement of existing properties, for the retirement of short term indebtedness, for acquisition of additional properties, and for other corporate purposes will be provided through the early offering by a banking group, comprising Field, Glore & Co., Harris Trust and Savings bank, and International Acceptance Bank, Inc., of $3,000,000 20 year 6½ per cent mortgage gold bonds of Dortmund Municipal Utilities.

New financing aggregating $12,000,000 is being arranged by the Quebec Power company, which is controlled through stock ownership by the Shawinigan Water and Power company. The financing, in the form of $8,106,500 dollar bonds, bearing five per cent interest, will be offered in the United States by Aldred & Co. and Minsch, Monell & Co., Inc. Simultaneously an issue of £800,000 debenture stock will be offered in Canada, England, and France.

Financing for the Newport company, producer of dyestuffs, chemicals and naval stores, is announced in the form of an offering of 130,000 shares of class "A" convertible stock by Dillon, Read & Co., and A. G. Becker & Co., Scholle Bros., Shields & Co., Inc. The shares are priced at $50 and accrued dividends, which is cumulative at the rate of $3 annually.

A real estate finance company is represented in yesterday's offerings in the $5,000,000 Realty Associates Securities corporation guaranteed sinking fund 6 per cent bonds, which are being offered by Halsey, Stuart & Co. and the Prudence Co., Inc., at 100 and interest. The bonds mature Oct. 1, 1943.

A new issue of $2,500,000 Commonwealth Utilities corporation 6 per cent convertible debentures, series A, is being offered today by the Chicago Trust company and the Liberty Central Trust company of St. Louis. The debentures mature Nov. 1, 1938, and are offered at 99 and interest, yielding over 6 per cent.

New financing aggregating $2,600,000 is placed on the market today for Metropolitan Chain Properties, Ltd., wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Chain Stores, Inc. The financing consists of $2,600,000 Metropolitan Chain Properties, Ltd., first mortgage convertible sinking fund 6 per cent bonds, convertible into common stock of Metropolitan Chain Stores, Inc. The bonds, maturing Nov. 15, 1948, are priced at 105 and accrued interest, and are offered by George H. Burr & Co. and Shields & Co., Inc.

Permission to issue new stock to a value of $498,000 was sought from the interstate commerce commission by the St. Paul Bridge and Terminal company, operating in Minnesota. Of the funds derived from the issue $400,000 will be used to pay a maturing bond issue.

New financing is being arranged for Lockheed Aircraft corporation to increase its present authorized common stock from 25,000 to 150,000 shares. Present stockholders are offered additional shares of no par value common stock at $6 a share for each share held as of record Dec. 15, 1928. Proceeds from the financing will be used to retire the preferred stock outstanding and all indebtedness of the company, for construction of an assembly plant near Chicago, and additional plant facilities at Burbank, Cal. Working capital will also be increased.

New investment financing was quiet during November compared with the roaring market, although the total of new bond and note offerings made during the month was the largest of any month since June. New bond issues last month totaled $526,184,000, according to a compilation of Lawrence Stern & Co. This compares with $691,753,500 in November last year and $426,516,000 in October of 1928. For the eleven months of 1928 the total was $6,034,044,000 against $7,641,161,000 a year ago.

The International Nickel Company

TO THE HOLDERS OF CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT FOR PREFERRED AND COMMON STOCK OF THE INTERNATIONAL NICKEL COMPANY:

The Committee under the Deposit Agreement dated October 30, 1928, has declared operative the Plan for exchange of preferred and common stock of The International Nickel Company, of New Jersey, for preferred and common stock of The International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited.

At the close of business on Monday, December 3, 1928, over 80% of each class of stock of The International Nickel Company had been deposited under the Plan.

Immediate steps are being taken to effect the necessary corporate adjustments and to apply for the listing, on the New York, Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges, of the preferred and common stock of The International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited. It is expected that these steps can be consummated by about December 20, 1928, and that thereafter temporary certificates for the preferred and common stock of The International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited, will be available for issue against surrender of Certificates of Deposit. The Committee will give subsequent notice confirming the exact date when such delivery can be made.

The Committee has authorized the Depositaries to continue to accept deposits of stock of The International Nickel Company, of New Jersey, insofar as the Committee deems feasible and subject to the right of the Committee to terminate the opportunity for deposit at any time. It may not be practicable to accept deposits under the Plan beyond December 14, 1928.

The regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents per share on the common stock of The International Nickel Company, of New Jersey, has been declared, payable December 31, 1928, to holders of record December 13, 1928. The Committee has made arrangements so that the amount of this dividend will be paid on the same date, namely December 31, 1928, to holders of record as of the close of business December 13, 1928, of Certificates of Deposit for common stock.

Top prices in all branches of the live stock trade yesterday equaled the highest point in two weeks in face of the largest combined receipts of the season. A total of 114,000 head of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep was unloaded on the market, against 69,673 head the previous Monday.

Hog receipts at 53,000 were largest for Monday since June 9, but failed to weaken the strong position of the market. After the 12,000 directs had been deducted from the supply, offerings were only moderate for Monday and cleared quickly at strong prices, occasional sales showing 5@10c advance.

Local Interests Buy Freely.

Outsiders bought 7,500, against only 1,385 a week ago, when there was little price difference in Chicago and far eastern markets. All local interests bought freely and only 6,000 were left at the close, with 48,000 estimated for today. Extreme top held at $9.00, equaling the highest since November 20. General average moved up 5c at $8.85, better quality helping to boost average prices.

Prime steers sold upwards to $17.50 again yesterday, equaling the highest since Nov. 15. Cattle averaging 1,253 @1,305 lbs reached the price, bulk of steers of beef merit selling at $11.50@15.25, against $10.75@15.00 the previous Monday. Yearlings averaging 933 lbs sold at $17.25.

All but top-notchers moved slowly and finished 25c under the close of last week, an advance estimate of 12,000 for today adding to the weakness in medium quality cattle. Butcher stock broke fully 25c in a dull trade. Calves were steady, considering quality. Stockers and feeders were unchanged.

Lambs Bring $14.25.

Despite the fact that sheep receipts yesterday were largest in over six weeks, fat lambs sold upward to $14.25, equaling the highest last week. Bulk of the supply, however, cleared at 15@25c lower prices, most light and handy weights bringing $13.65@14.00.

Aged sheep remained unchanged, while yearlings sold weak to 25c lower. Country buyers scrambled for the few feeder lambs available at the highest prices since September, best light reaching $13.75.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 48,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against 7,862 cattle, 30,247 hogs and 6,810 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 12,275 cattle, 52,884 hogs and 16,120 sheep a year ago.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Chicago and North Western in November handled 164,631 cars of revenue freight, against 157,034 cars in November, 1927.

The Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific in November handled 150,362 cars of revenue freight, against 178,058 in October and 151,274 in November, 1927.

Missouri Pacific November loadings were 142,164 cars, against 135,330 last year.

The Missouri, Kansas, and Texas road handled 50,980 revenue cars in November, against 50,089 last year.

The Wabash handled 79,557 freight cars in November, against 69,840 in the same month year ago.

New appointments in the Chicago territory of the Frisco lines are announced by Frank J. Shea, freight and pasenger agent. James Hanlon has been appointed traveling freight and passenger agent. Hary L. Morrison, former commercial agent, has been made assistant general agent. M. D. Riggs, formerly district passenger agents, now is assistant general agent. Three appointments are in line with the Frisco's policy to combine the handling of both freight and passenger business.

November loadings of Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy were 162,941 cars, compared with 160,013 cars in corresponding month of 1927.

The St. Paul handled 169,376 revenue freight cars in November, against 167,566 same month a year ago.

Heavy Trading in Tin on New York Metal Exchange

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Contracts representing 645 tons of tin, worth about $765,000, changed hands today in initial trading on the National Metal Exchange. The day's business was regarded as unusually heavy for the season and was larger than had been done in years on the old New York Metal Exchange, which the new institution replaces. A pig of tin, auctioned for charity shortly after the opening, brought $4,000 after it had been donated to the exchange and reauctioned. The pig is to be placed in a case in the exchange lounge as a permanent souvenir of the opening.

GOOD YEAR SEEN BY STOREY, SANTA FE R. R. PRESIDENT

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, prophesied today an increase in earnings during the coming year.

"In view of the present outlook I think Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe's traffic and revenues in the early months of 1929 will show a gain over the same months of this year," Mr. Storey said. "As for the outlook for the balance of this year, November loadings are running a little below last year because of bad weather in our territory, and I can hardly venture a guess as to whether we will make up the gap in net railway operating income between this year and last, which gap the good October results cut to something over $1,600,000.

"We have no plans at present for further financing. Our rail orders are all placed, and we will order about 4,300 freight cars, but very few locomotives."

CORN IS STRONG FROM START; NO LIFE IN WHEAT

March and May Oats at New High on Crop.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat traders apparently feel that prospective farm relief legislation by congress will have little effect on values in this country, and while there was fair buying on the strength in corn the close was within a fraction of the bottom with net losses of ⅛ to ¾c. Selling by houses with northwestern connections more than offset local buying. December finished at $1.16⅜ and May at $1.23⅜. There was talk that congress would be asked to consider the proposition to place a prohibitive tax on foreign sales of futures in American markets.

Corn showed strength from the start, and closed ½@⅝c higher with December, 85¼ to 85⅜c, and May, 91¼c. A large trade was on in changing over from the December into the May at 5⅞ to 6c difference. March and May oats sold at a new high on the crop with the finish at the top with net gains of ½@¾c, December being 47⅜c; March, 48c, and May, 48⅜c. Rye was ⅜c lower with December, $1.00½ to 1.00⅝, and May, $1.08⅜.

Visible Supply Increases.

Latest official figures on the world's wheat crop suggests a total of 3,592,000,000 bu for 42 countries which in 1927 produced 96 per cent of the aggregate crop, and compares with the final returns of 3,419,000,000 bu last year. And a 1923-27 average of 3,296,000,000 bu. As the greater part of the increase over the 5 year average is in the four leading exporting countries a majority of traders are inclined to the belief that it will take a material change in conditions to bring about a higher level of values.

Domestic stocks of wheat continue to pile up, gaining 2,168,000 bu during the past week, and the total visible is now 136,777,000 bu, the largest on record, and is 45,741,000 bu in excess of last year. A private cable from Argentina suggested an exportable surplus of 185,000,000 to 203,000,000 bu, or slightly in excess of the private figures given out on Saturday, and compare with 188,000,000 bu actually cleared so far this season. Buenos Aires closed unchanged with December at $1.07¼, while Rosario was ⅞c lower with December, $1.05⅝. Winnipeg was unchanged to ⅛c higher for the day, although export demand there and at the seaboard was limited. Liverpool finished ¼@⅞d higher.

Changing Orders in Corn.

Local operators and commission houses were busy in changing over short December corn into the May and furnished a good part of the days business. Local sentiment, however, was more friendly to the buying side of the deferred deliveries, due to limited country offerings to arrive and unfavorable weather, and offerings of May were readily taken. Selling was by commission houses on resting orders and by holders of offers. The visible supply increased 1,394,000 bu for the week, and the total is now 6,419,000 bu against 19,216,000 bu last year. Bartlett Frazier in a long summary of the world's corn situation estimated that importing countries would have to buy 95,000,000 bu more corn between now and next April from the United States in addition to the 35,000,000 bu or more already taken.

Cash and commission houses were active on the buying side of oats and carried prices up sharply. Selling was on resting orders and by locals. The visible was reduced 1,168,000 bu during the past week, and is 13,295,000 bu against 23,252,000 bu last year. Rye was firm in sympathy with wheat. Deliveries of 245,000 bu were quickly taken.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The raw sugar market was steady and unchanged today at 3.96c for spots duty paid, with a sale reported of 23,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment. After showing early declines of 2@4 points, raw futures rallied on covering by December shorts and buying of the later deliveries by houses with trade and Cuban connections, with final prices 3 points higher to 2 points lower. Approximate sales, 46,300 tons.

LARD MARKET UNSETTLED

Action of the lard market was irregular with a light trade while on Saturday there was one of the largest markets in years with tierced lard at one time selling for December at less than the loose lard which is most unusual. Pressure on December was fair sized early and prices dropped 20c only to meet support and closed on a rally with net losses of 7½c. January lost 15c, while March was off 12½c, and May 15c. December deliveries were 2,250,000 lbs.

In bellies there were deliveries of 650,000 lbs with prices unchanged to 5c lower, while ribs were slow sale and unchanged to 10c lower. Cash trade was fair for the season.

Liverpool lard was 3 to 6d higher. Exports for the week were 11,729,000 lbs, against 8,180,000 lbs last year. Of bacon they were 4,837,000 lbs, against 8,292,000 lbs last year.

Hog supplies exceeded estimates here and in the west with runs larger than a week and a year ago. Prices follow:

·WORLD'S·GRAIN·MARKET·NEWS·

A Board of Trade membership sold late yesterday at $42,000 and one earlier in the day at $38,500. In the closing days of last week one sold at $40,000. The higher one was held in the name of Charles S. Castle, president of the National Bank of the Republic, bought when Mr. Castle was with the Standard Trust and Savings bank. The merger of the two banks gave them two memberships on the Board of Trade, one held by John A. Lynch, president of the board. Under the rules of the Board of Trade, a bank needs only one membership for handling Board of Trade business.

There is a feeling in the wheat trade that the market should do better, and a number of local interests are active buyers on every break. The increase in the visible supply of 2,168,000 bushels was about as expected. Those who watch the northwestern and foreign situation say they can see nothing on which to base buying for an advance, and cling to the idea that eventually prices must go lower unless there is a radical change in the general character of the news.

A survey of the situation covering Europe's importing interest, in an effort to get at the export situation in corn, Bartlett Frazier's house estimates European requirements of foreign corn for the present season at 171,000,000 bu. Of this Argentine is counted upon to supply 43,000,000 bu of old corn, leaving 128,000,000 bu to be drawn from America. Of the amount required from America, about 34,000,000 bu, in the opinion of the foreign importers, has already been purchased from the United States. As against this estimate of what Argentine can supply, one of the best posted grain houses at Buenos Aires estimates that she can ship only 30,000,000 bu more of old corn, of which one-half has been sold to Europe, leaving but 15,000,000 bu available for further purchase. A summary of the situation suggests that Europe is dependent on America for an additional 95,000,000 bu of corn, purchases and shipments of which will be largely required before April next.

A glance at the prices of Canadian wheat and the prices at Liverpool is sufficient to demonstrate that this country will eventually have to seek an outlet for the large surplus supply of wheat that has been piling up of late, according to a close observer. Producers are large owners of futures, and with a large surplus which some time must find a foreign market it is becoming more and more evident that this country will have an abnormally large carry-over at the end of the season if our prices continue to remain out of line with export parity.

"The potential demand for corn appears about as great as that of last season," says the department of agriculture. "There are fewer hogs and more cattle on feed and relative prices favor feeding of both cattle and hogs. A fourth more feeder cattle were shipped into corn belt during July-October this year than last." Caution is sounded by the bureau that it will be to the advantage of corn growers not to crowd terminal storage space too hard, in view of need for market stability. The crop this year was about 120,000,000 bu more than last year, but carry-over of 1927 corn was practically exhausted by last month, so that there is not a great deal more corn on hand now than a year ago.

Farmers in western Indiana and eastern Illinois are beginning to shell corn and will move it to market with a lowering of temperatures, is the view of a grain man who has been over that territory within the last few days.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—COTTON GOODS—Opened steady with a fair demand for sheetings, print clothes and fancy textiles for delivery early next year. Finished goods were quiet, save in lines offered for fall 1929 where some mill orders are being placed. Some lines of spring prints are being bought. Open weather caused a letup in the demand for winter clothing and apparel. Rayon is being used more largely for upholstery and other automobile purposes.

SHORTS BUY EGGS

Active covering of short sales in December storage eggs advanced prices from 31 to 31⅜c, with the close at 31⅜c, a net gain of ⅜c. Refrigerator firsts were 30⅜c. Total sales were 761 cars including both deliveries. The market was considered heavily oversold. Re-1,653,856 cases, against 1,478,318 cases last 1,653,856 cases against 1,478,318 cases last year in the four markets.

Butter futures were ⅛ to ¼c higher, reaching a new high level on present move, with December closing at 47c and January 46⅝c, the latter gaining ¼c. Sales were 93 cars and receipts 5,427 tubs.

Open interest in December butter at the close on Saturday was 777 cars and January 103 cars. December eggs 1,629 cars and February fresh 22 cars. Prices follow:

Realty Associates Securities Corporation

Guaranteed 15 Year Sinking Fund 6% Gold Bonds

Due October 1, 1943

Price 100 and Interest

A letter from Mr. Henry A. Mark, Vice-President of the Company, is summarized as follows:

The Company: Realty Associates Securities Corporation was organized in June, 1925, to finance certain real estate operations of Realty Associates and its subsidiaries. All of the Capital Stock of the Corporation has been purchased by Realty Associates for $3,000,000 in cash.

Security: These bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, constitute a direct obligation of Realty Associates Securities Corporation and, in addition, will be unconditionally guaranteed as to Principal, Interest and Sinking Fund, by endorsement, by Realty Associates.

The Corporation covenants to maintain assets in the form of cash, securities and/or mortgages, building loans, purchase obligations, etc., in an amount at least $1,000,000 in excess of these Bonds.

The Guarantor: Realty Associates, the Guarantor Company, incorporated in 1901, is a successful realty organization with assets, shown in its consolidated balance sheet of June 30, 1928, in excess of $75,000,000 and a net worth of over $22,500,000. The capital stocks of Realty Associates have a total indicated market value, based on current quotations, of over $37,000,000. Dividends on the outstanding stock of Realty Associates have been paid continuously since 1903.

Earnings: The average consolidated net earnings of Realty Associates and its wholly owned subsidiaries, The Prudence Company, Inc. and Realty Associates Securities Corporation, during the three years and six months ended June 30, 1928 were $3,459,976 as compared with annual interest charges on total funded debt of the Corporation of $882,000. These figures do not give effect to the employment of the funds introduced through this financing, nor do they include substantial sums, the present accumulated amount being $4,331,550, representing Realty Associates' share in the undistributed profits of certain affiliated syndicates.

Sinking Fund: An annual sinking fund is provided which is calculated to retire 38% of this issue before maturity.

Management: The directorate of Realty Associates and of Realty Associates Securities Corporation includes men who have been notably successful in building, real estate, insurance, banking, and allied lines.

A circular fully descriptive of the issue will be sent upon request

Is the financial structure of your business up-to-date?

THE modern trend in business is toward widespread, public ownership of concerns. Especially in large and successful businesses whose capital stock is all held by members of a family, the releasing of a part of the securities for public ownership is becoming more general. This procedure establishes a definite market value for the securities.

To concerns who contemplate a rearrangement of their financial structure, while continuing the same management, the complete underwriting and distributing facilities of Mitchell, Hutchins are available. The broad experience of Mitchell, Hutchins in financing of this type may be of assistance to you in working out the most profitable rearrangement for you. Consultation with our officers places you under no obligation.

SOON TO OPEN CHICAGO'S NEW STOCK EXCHANGE

Grain Men to Trade in Good Securities.

"Trading in securities on the Chicago Board of Trade will be inaugurated as soon as it is possible to make the necessary arrangements for the safe and satisfactory conduct of the business," said President Samuel P. Arnot, on his return from New York. Business will be conducted in accordance with the highest ethical standards.

"Securities of corporations which make application for listing and are approved will be listed irrespective of whether they are already listed on other exchanges. There will be no trading in securities except those listed on our exchange. Nothing but high grade securities will be listed."

Enough Business for All.

"Our committee held numerous conferences with President Simmons of the New York stock exchange and other officials of that association. They are all high grade men who desire to work for the best interests of all," said President Arnot. "There is business enough for all the exchanges as interest in securities is constantly growing."

Much Detail Work.

The stock committee of the board of trade has a vast amount of detail work to accomplish before stock trading can start, and there is said to be no intention on the part of the committee to inaugurate trading until conditions are entirely satisfactory.

Arthur W. Cutten, who was on the board of trade for a few minutes yesterday to vote on the new building proposition, said he favored trading in stocks on the Chicago board of trade.

Dunhill Board Offers Rights for 50,000 Shares

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Rights of stockholders to subscribe 50,000 additional shares of stock of Dunhill International were announced at a meeting today of the board of directors, which also adopted a stock dividend policy in addition to a continuation of the regular cash dividend. Stockholders of record on Jan. 5 are to receive rights to subscribe to the new stock at $50 a share in the ratio of four shares for every ten held. As the present stock is selling on the New York stock exchange at $95 a share, the value of the rights was figured at about $13 a share. This makes the distribution amount to about $1,625,000.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

UNITED LIGHT AND POWER.

[Including subsidiaries and consolidated earnings of American Light and Traction Co.]

For the twelve months ended Oct. 31 net income was $5,973,401 after depreciation, amortization, taxes and all other charges. Comparison for the preceding twelve months is not available. Gross for the period amounted to $89,114,136, against $82,960,362 in the previous twelve months.

PEERLESS MOTOR CAR.

What Is Your Chance for Success?

A new yardstick—a new, amazing picture of the gigantic successes in business and finance. Would you become a captain of industry? Then check yourself, your physical make-up, against the well-known leaders of to-day. Ability, capacity, intelligence, thrift,—these are all needed. Yet there are still other predominant traits present in every outstanding success. How old must you be? How tall? How much must you weigh? How many brothers or sisters? Study the analysis of 40 successful business executives; read the conclusions reached after an investigation among 2,497 business successes. Compare these findings with the measurements of your friends, associates—and YOURSELF.

"The Higher They Rise,
The Harder They Fall"

The stock market apparently intrigues many thousands of people who never thought about it before. Sensational markets follow sensational markets. It is at a time like the present that B. C. Forbes' opinion should weigh rather heavily with business men.

THE SELLING "ROBOT"
Makes Millions for Owners

To-day you can buy soft drinks, tobacco, sandwiches and many other commodities from vending machines, placed far away from stores, or central trade locations. The great advance of these mechanical salesmen—and their acceptance by the public—promises one of the most interesting phases of future distribution of merchandise. What has been done? And what are the plans for the future?

S. W. STRAUS CO. WILL FINANCE 47 STORY BUILDING

Will Prepare Issue of of $5,500,000.

BY AL CHASE.

"No. 1 La Salle street," the $8,000,000 forty-seven story office building scheduled for the northeast corner of Madison and La Salle streets has been financed by S. W. Straus & Co., it was announced last night. This firm has agreed to underwrite a loan of $5,500,000. Louis J. Krensky, of A. M. Krensky & Bros., negotiated the loan with Straus & Co.

The new skyscraper was pictured and described in detail in the real estate section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE of Aug. 5, 1928. According to Straus & Co., the building will go ahead along the original designs of K. M. Vitzthum & Co. Wreckers will start tearing down the old Tacoma building, now on the site, on May 1, 1929. Completion is scheduled for a year later.

Stover Residence Sold.

Adelaide A. Stover, widow of Isaiah K. Stover, former head of the Stover company, sold to Harry S. Churchill, of Spencer, Trask & Co., the newly completed residence at 770 Hill street, Winnetka, for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $50,000. The residence, which is at the north entrance of the Indian Hill club, occupies a lot 260x150 feet.

Erick A. Larson has sold his eighteen apartment building at the southeast corner of Marshfield avenue and Juneway terrace to Margaret D. Kolf for an undisclosed consideration, through H. L. Levinson, of H. O. Stone & Co.

Buys Material Yard Site.

The Edward Hines Lumber company has sold a tract of land fronting 200 feet on the north side of Fullerton avenue, between the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific R. R. tracks and North Natoma avenue extended, with a depth of 1,320 feet north to Wrightwood avenue along the Milwaukee road right of way. The buyer was John N. Bos, of the Bos Sand & Gravel company, and the reported price was $50,000.

New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R.

S. W. H.—Very favorable results in October, coupled with good prospects for the balance of the year, were undoubtedly an important contributing factor in the establishing of New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad common stock on a regular dividend basis at the annual rate of $4.

Following payments of $1 each in April and October, the company has declared a quarterly dividend of $1, payable Jan. 2, next to stock of record Dec. 7, 1928.

October earnings were the largest for any month in the road's history.

Gross earnings, though higher for October than for that month last year, show a considerable falling off for the first ten months from that period last year.

This may be attributed to the fact that business in the New England territory served has suffered most of the year from depression at textile plants.

Net earnings, however, improved more than gross in October and for the ten months were materially higher as a result of lower transportation expenses, bringing earnings on the common stock to $5.46 a share.

These earnings compare with $4.52 a share earned on the common in the first ten months of last year and are more per share than the $5.50 a share earned in the entire year of 1927, after preferred dividends and guarantees.

The earnings for October alone this year amounted to $1.52 a share on the common stock.

Although still somewhat speculative, we believe that the road's demonstrated ability to improve its earnings under rather adverse conditions entitles the common stock to a fairly good rating.

Report on Time Service for Chicago Package Freight

Nine out of every ten package freight cars leaving Chicago during November arrived at their destination on time, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce. Of the 57,185 cars reported by the association's freight service organization, 51,430 were on schedule, 4,252, or approximately 7.44 per cent, were a day late, and only 1,503 were two days late. The showing for November is 1 per cent ahead of the mark set in October. The association also announces two new rush freight services. Effective immediately a car will leave Chicago daily over the I. C. and M. & O. lines arriving at Corinth, Miss., on the second morning after and another will take the same time to make the run to Okolona, Miss., via the C. & E. I. and M. & O. routes.

Lumber Orders Offset Seasonal Trade Decline

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Further indication that the seasonal decline in this year's demand for lumber will be gradual is given in reports for the week ended Nov. 24, in which a substantial net increase over the requirements for the previous week is apparent, the increase in softwood orders reported more than offsetting a slight decrease in the recorded demand for hardwoods. Reports from 819 softwood and hardwood mills to the National Lumber Manufacturing association for last week showed gains in orders and shipments and some decline in production, compared with the previous week's report from 33 more mills. The association reported for 235 identical mills, production as 202,706,000 feet, as compared with in average weekly operating capacity for three years of 242,650,000 feet. The Southern Pine association reported production for 150 mills as 71,174,765 feet, which was 10,520,053 feet under the three year average.

Also redeemable for the sinking fund on thirty days' notice on any interest date at 100 and accrued interest.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, American Trustee.　Direction der Disconto-Gesellschaft, German Trustee.

The Managing Directors of the three Companies summarize their letter to the Bankers as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The three Companies which are jointly and severally liable upon the Bonds are the Dortmunder Wasserwerks G.m.b.H. (Dortmund Water Works Company), the Dortmunder Aktiengesellschaft für Gasbeleuchtung (Dortmund Gas Company) and the Dortmunder Strassenbahnen G.m.b.H. (Dortmund Street Railways Company). These Companies own or operate properties which have been in operation since 1872, 1857 and 1881 respectively, and supply without competition water and gas service and street railway and bus transportation in the City of Dortmund, and also extend their services to the rich industrial regions immediately adjacent. Dortmund, one of the most important cities of the Rhine-Westphalian industrial area and the tenth largest city of Germany, is situated in the center of the Eastern portion of the Ruhr district. The population of the city, according to the last census, is about 463,370, and that of the nearby territory served is about 120,000.

Substantially all the shares of stock of the three Companies are owned by the City of Dortmund and the adjacent districts served. The Companies will covenant in the Indenture that no transfer of the shares now held by cities, counties or communities will be approved by the Companies, unless made to other cities, counties or communities which they are to serve directly.

The Companies are managed by a thoroughly efficient group of public utility engineers who have long been connected with these enterprises.

EARNINGS: Based on figures reported by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. for the three-year period ended December 31, 1927, average annual earnings available for interest, depreciation and income taxes amounted to $713,346, or over 3.6 times the annual interest charges on this loan. Such earnings for the year ended December 31, 1927 amounted to $869,932, or over 4.4 times such interest charges. The Companies report that for the six months ended June 30, 1928, such earnings amounted to $492,531, equivalent to an annual rate of more than 5 times the annual interest charges on this loan.

SECURITY: These Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be secured by a first joint and several mortgage expressed in the gold mark equivalent of the principal amount of the Bonds, on all the presently mortgageable properties of each of the Dortmund Municipal Utilities companies, subject only to the lien for Dawes Plan payments and minor easements. The Companies will covenant in the Indenture to extend the lien of the mortgage to all properties mortgageable under German law hereafter acquired by them.

The Companies are entitled to issue further obligations of equal rank secured by the mortgage, from time to time, up to an aggregate additional principal amount of $7,000,000 or its equivalent in Gold Marks at par of exchange, provided that at the time of issuing any such additional obligations the total amount of outstanding additional indebtedness so secured shall not exceed 60% of the sum of the excess over $5,000,000 of the then appraised value of the presently mortgaged properties plus the then appraised value of hereafter acquired mortgaged properties, and also that the consolidated net earnings, as defined in the Indenture, of the Gas Company and Water Works Company before depreciation and of the Street Railways Company after depreciation for a period of twelve consecutive months within the fifteen consecutive months immediately preceding shall be at least three times the annual interest charges on the Bonds and other obligations so secured then outstanding and on all the obligations then to be issued.

The Gas Company has outstanding Industrial Debentures issued under the Dawes Plan, the present aggregate principal amount of which is $159,762 and in respect of which the Company is subject to annual payments, estimated for 1928 to be $6,233. The Water Works Company and the Street Railways Company, however, are subject only to annual payments under the laws enacted to carry out the Dawes Plan, estimated for 1928 to be $3,712 and $7,852, respectively.

PROPERTIES: The plants and works of the three Companies comprise the fourth largest water distribution system of Germany, valuable real estate, 200 miles of gas mains, power sub-stations, passenger motor tramcars, motorbuses and 109 miles of standard gauge track.

Day & Zimmermann, Inc., Engineers, have given the properties a depreciated reproduction cost in excess of $11,400,000 as of April 15, 1928 and state that the properties of all three Companies are generally modern, well laid out, substantially built, well maintained and in good operating condition.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Proceeds from the sale of these Bonds will be used for further construction and improvement of existing properties, for retirement of short-term indebtedness, for acquisition of additional properties and for other corporate purposes.

(Conversions into United States dollars at the rate of 4.2 Gold Marks per dollar)

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. All legal matters will be passed upon by Messrs. Hornblower, Miller and Garrison, New York and Dr. Wilhelm Beutner, Berlin, for the Bankers. It is expected that delivery of interim receipts will be made on or about December 14, 1928.

Dividends free of present normal Federal income tax. Registrar: Central Union Trust Company of New York. Transfer Agent: The Seaboard National Bank of the City of New York.

Convertible at any time, at the option of the holder, into common stock of the company, at the rate of two shares of common stock for each share of Class A Convertible Stock, with certain stock purchase privileges in event of redemption

The company agrees to make application in due course to list this Class A Convertible Stock on the New York Stock Exchange

The following information has been summarized by Mr. A. A. Schlesinger, President of the Newport Company, from his letter dated December 3, 1928, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS

The Newport Company, organized in 1919, is engaged principally in the production of dyestuffs and chemicals, and of wood distillates by the steam distillation process. Dyestuffs and chemical plants of the company are located at Carrollville (near Milwaukee), Wisconsin, and at Passaic, New Jersey. Wood distillate plants now owned and operated by the company are located at Pensacola, Florida, and Bay Minette, Alabama. The company is shortly to increase its production of wood distillates by acquiring the entire business and assets of Acme Products Co., Inc., which owns a plant at De Quincy, Louisiana. The Newport Company has further increased its operations by the recent acquisition of the entire common stock of General Naval Stores Company, Inc., a selling company, through which in recent years the production of wood distillates of The Newport Company and of Acme Products Co. Inc. has been marketed.

Dyestuffs and chemicals produced by The Newport Company include a full line of colors of high quality, as well as solvents, detergents and dyeing assistants. Such products are used in the textile industry by manufacturers of woolen, cotton and silk goods, and in other industries including the manufacture of paper, leather, paint, varnish and ink. Products of the wood distillate plants, rosin, turpentine and pine oil, are used in many important industries, including the manufacture of linoleum, paint, varnish, paper, batteries, essential oils and printing ink. The company also produces heavy industrial chemicals.

The company, Acme Products Co., Inc. and General Naval Stores Company, Inc. have at present a total of about 1,400 employees. Combined sales in 1927 were in excess of $7,500,000.

CAPITALIZATION AND PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The Newport Company, upon completion of this financing, will have no funded debt. Its capitalization is to be as follows:

	To be Authorized	To be Issued
Class A Convertible Stock (par value $50 a share)	130,000 shares	130,000 shares
Common Stock (without par value)	1,000,000 shares*	251,250 shares

*Of the common stock authorized but not presently to be issued, 260,000 shares are to be reserved for conversion of Class A Convertible Stock, or for issuance against warrants for the purchase of common stock of the company as stated below; in addition, 13,750 shares of common stock are to be reserved for sale to officers and employees, under existing agreements, at a price equivalent to $8.33⅓ a share.

The proceeds from the sale of this Class A Convertible Stock and of 65,000 shares of common stock presently to be offered to stockholders at $20 a share (this offering having been underwritten) are to be used, together with other corporate funds, in connection with the retirement of all outstanding funded and bank indebtedness of the company, the redemption of the company's Prior Common Stock on April 15, 1929 (the full redemption price to be deposited from such proceeds), payment for the assets of Acme Products Co., Inc., and for other corporate purposes. The remaining 186,250 shares of common stock presently to be issued are to be exchanged for the outstanding 931,250 shares of common stock of the company, in the ratio of one share of new stock for each five shares of outstanding common stock.

EARNINGS

Consolidated earnings of The Newport Company and its subsidiary companies, combined with earnings of Acme Products Co., Inc. and General Naval Stores Company, Inc., before interest on funded and other indebtedness now retired or to be retired as a part of this financing, after depreciation, charges on purchase money obligations and Federal income taxes at 12%, for the period of three years ended December 31, 1927, certified as to The Newport Company and General Naval Stores Company, Inc. by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., and as to Acme Products Co., Inc. by Messrs. R. V. Whittaker & Co., together with combined earnings similarly computed for the full year 1928 (based on certified figures for the first nine months plus estimates for the last quarter by the respective managements), were as follows:

1926	1,288,474
1927	717,716
1928 (last quarter estimated)	820,000

Earnings as shown above for the 1925 and 1926 periods include $45,425 and $353,876, respectively, representing insurance of profits, received as the result of losses from fire at the company's wood distillate plants; in addition, the property losses were fully covered by insurance subsequently received.

Combined earnings for the full year 1928, on the basis shown above, amount to more than twice the annual dividend requirement of $390,000 on this Class A Convertible Stock.

ASSETS

The pro forma consolidated balance sheet of the company, as at September 30, 1928, adjusted to give effect as at that date to the acquisition of the entire common stock of General Naval Stores Company, Inc. and of the assets of Acme Products Co., Inc., to the retirement of indebtedness as above, to the recapitalization of The Newport Company and to other adjustments, as prepared by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., shows current assets of $5,138,513 and current liabilities of $729,746, or net current assets of $4,408,767. Net tangible assets, after deducting all liabilities and reserves, are shown as $10,109,691, or approximately 155% of the total par value of this Class A Convertible Stock.

STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS

In the event of redemption of the Class A Convertible Stock, stock purchase warrants will be delivered along with the redemption price as stated above, each such warrant entitling the holder thereof to subscribe, within a period of three years after such redemption, to common stock of the company at $25 a share, in the ratio of two shares of common stock for each share of Class A Convertible Stock so redeemed.

We offer this Class A Convertible Stock for delivery if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to approval of legal proceedings by counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about December 14, 1928, in the form of temporary certificates, or interim receipts of Dillon, Read & Co.

30 years Before the Civil War

Long before the Civil War, in the same memorable year that the source of the Mississippi River was discovered—1831—THE CANAL BANK of New Orleans was founded.

During the eventful years which followed, the Mississippi Valley developed into the richest area the world has known. Through all this amazing period of growth, New Orleans has ever been the light shining brightly at the outlet of this Valley.

For ninety-seven years, THE CANAL BANK of New Orleans has been one of the factors in the development of the national and foreign commerce of the Mississippi Valley.

GENERAL BOND LIST DEVELOPS PRICE LOSSES

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Bond prices were lower today under the influence of declining stock prices and tightening money rates. Some support was given utilities and first grade rails, but the general list showed losses running as large as 5 points and a number of prices sagged to the year's low levels, or below.

Coppers were among the heavier issues, Andes 7s selling down 5 points and Anaconda 7s 1½. Tennessee Copper 6s recovered some strength and closed unchanged after early weakness. Oils were mixed, but price changes in this group were chiefly fractional.

North American Edison 5½s, the Western Union issues and American Telephone and Telegraph 5½s were among the few utilities to seek higher levels. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s changed hands in volume at prices 2 points lower. Recently strong industrials to show net losses on the day included International Cement 5s, Kayser & Co. 5½s, which yielded more than 2 points, Loews 6s, United Drug 5s, Dodge Brothers 6s, Republic Iron & Steel 5½s and Wickwire-Spencer 7s.

Strong spots in the irregular railroad group were Northern Pacific 3s, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 6s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Southern Pacific refunding 4s, New York Central 4½s, and Western Maryland 4½s. The St. Paul sisues were rather heavily sold at fractionally lower prices, while Erie convertible 4s, Florida East Coast 5s, New York Central debenture 4s, Seaboard Air Line 5s and a few others sold off a point or more.

The foreign list was easier, with the Italian industrials leading the decline. Fears of extensive earthquake damage were seen in the heavy selling of Peruvian government issues, although losses were small.

Brass Company Directors Approve Merger Plan

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Directors of the Rome Brass and Copper company have approved a plan to merge with six other companies into the General Brass corporation. The companies included are the Taunton and New Bedford Copper company, Baltimore Sheet Mill of General Cable company, Rome Manufacturing company, Michigan Brass and Copper company, Dallas Brass and Copper company of Chicago, and Higgins Brass and Manufacturing company of Detroit.

Good bonds may be bought today at prices which yield a better income return than is obtainable from many stocks—quite the reverse of the usual condition.

Willoughby Tower Building

First Mortgage Leasehold 6% Serial Gold Bonds

THIS building of thirty-five floors, basement and subbasement, located on the southwest corner of Michigan Avenue and Madison Street, Chicago, is now approaching completion and is expected to be ready for occupancy on May 1, 1929.

A substantial proportion of floor space has already been leased at satisfactory rates and negotiations for a large additional amount are pending.

These bonds represent approximately 53% of the value of the security, independently appraised.

Net earnings are estimated by independent experts at over 2.57 times maximum bond interest charges.

The location, facing Grant Park at Madison, is one of the most desirable in the city.

Price, 1943 Maturity, to Yield 5.80%

The STRAUS CORNER
Michigan and Jackson

Peoples Gas Building

Just 78 Seconds Away—

Ever stop to think that the Peoples Gas Building is a veritable monument to successful public service?

The same may be said of the Straus Building—just a short block away—for the familiar Straus Tower symbolizes perfectly the thrift and sagacity of Chicago's investing public.

Time means money to the busy occupants of the Peoples Gas Building and its neighbors. Time is equally precious to the thousands who daily use those great arteries of transportation—the Chicago Elevated Lines and the Illinois Central Railroad.

Just a few seconds away on your daily jaunt stands this friendly, sympathetic, human bank, eager to save you unnecessary steps and to render conscientious service.

closed at 153¼, off 4⅝ points after sagging to 145; Anaconda wound up at 109½, off 1⅝, and Granby was off a point. Cerro de Pasco sold in large blocks and was off nearly 2 points at the close. The outside interest in coppers is large and these stocks proved very sensitive to selling.

U. S. Steel Inactive.

United States Steel was conspicuously inactive and sold off with the rest in the morning, but came back slightly. It showed a fractional loss at the finish. General Electric dipped 7 points, but recovered about half of its loss later.

Railroad stocks with the exception of Baltimore and Ohio were weak. Canadian Pacific led the break in this division, selling off some 8 points, but later recovering about half this amount. New York Central closed with a loss of 1½, New Haven was off a point, and Atchison a fraction.

The utilities were moderately lower. Public Service of New Jersey was off 1¼ and Consolidated Gas 2 points at the close. Considerable buying appeared in the motors in the afternoon, especially in Packard, which jumped back to 140⅝, up a fraction after being down to 135. General Motors closed at 211⅝, up 2⅛, after dropping to 207½.

Goodrich Rubber Takes Over Hightower Interests

Akron, O., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The Hightower and Fabric interests in Thomaston, Ga., will be taken over on Jan. 1 by the B. F. Goodrich company and operated as a part of the Goodrich plant system, T. G. Graham, vice president of the Goodrich company, announced today. This will make it possible for Goodrich to produce the greater part of its fabric for cord tires in its own plants, it was said. Officials said the amount to be invested there had not been decided.

LONGS UNLOAD COTTON

Liquidation by tired holders, combined with the weakness in stocks and the tightness in money in New York, also rumors of private crop estimates above 14,000,000 bales, brought increased offerings of cotton and lower prices. It is said that estimates from private interests were 14,210,000 bales against 14,355,000 bales a month ago. And there was also one for 15,130,000 bales and added to the weakness was a report that Wall Street was selling cotton. Weather conditions were generally clear with freezing temperatures over Oklahoma and northwest Texas. There is little left there unpicked.

At the close futures in Chicago were 15 to 27 points lower and in other markets 17 to 22 points lower. Spot declined 20 points, with New York 20.40c, New Orleans 19.35c, Galveston 19.80c and Houston 19.55c. Liverpool closed 8 to 10 points lower with spot sales 6,000 bales. Prices follow:

BOARD OF TRADE TRANSFERS TITLE TO LOOP LOT

By a vote of 1,107 in favor, with only 8 votes against, the Board of Trade members yesterday decided to turn over the title to the property at La Salle and Jackson streets, one of the most valuable pieces in the loop, to the Board of Trade Safe Deposit company. The latter was organized under the laws of Delaware to own and operate a safe deposit business. It will erect and own the new building, to cost around $12,000,000.

Purchase of the property will be made for $10,500,000, of which $10,000 is to be paid in cash and the remaining $10,490,000 at the end of twenty-five years after delivery of the deed to the safe deposit company, to be secured by a note of that company.

The lease back to the Board of Trade is to be for a period of seventy-five years with all space needed for its operation at a rental of $525,000 a year, plus such amount each year as may be necessary in addition to the net revenue from the building after the payment of taxes and all other operating expenses to meet the installments of interest and sinking fund.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Inactive and irregular, with relative steadiness in December the feature. The spot month closed two points higher, while other months were unchanged to 4 points lower. Further short coverings in the absence of tenders lifted December, while the other months sold off on scattered liquidation in sympathy with the decline in lard and cotton and the disappointingly small increase in the Chicago lard stocks. Sales, 9,200 barrels. Prime crude, 8.50c; prime summer yellow spot, 10.00c; December closed 10.12c; January, 10.20c; March, 10.29c; May, 10.55c; July, 10.68c.

The U. S. Department of Commerce in "The Atlas of Wholesale Grocery Territories"

points to this as St. Louis' primary wholesale grocery market

And it has been endorsed by other trades too, as closely approximating their layout of wholesale distribution – –

STATE lines do not define markets . . . As pointed out by the United States Department of Commerce in its Atlas of Wholesale Grocery Territories . . . "many of the major distribution points of today are actually on state boundaries serving advantageously portions of two or more states."

This is true of St. Louis . . . capital and metropolis of the compact and concentrated market known as The 49th State.

The trade influence of St. Louis spreads out from the metropolis 150 miles in every direction—through the greater portion of Missouri and Southern Illinois, and into Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas.

To guide manufacturers and distributors of products sold in grocery stores, the Department of Commerce has delineated the major markets of the nation to show those trading areas which, by reason of transportation facilities, geographical conditions and human habit, are the most easily and economically worked by sales forces.

The Department of Commerce defines the primary wholesale grocery market of St. Louis shown in the map above.

It is not mere coincidence that this area does coincide so closely with The 49th State, for this is the natural trading area of St. Louis.

This rich, concentrated market is covered by one daily newspaper . . . only one. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is the only daily newspaper which even claims to cover it.

Daily, The Globe-Democrat is read by 63.4% of all the families in metropolitan St. Louis. And daily it goes out into The 49th State where, in 800 towns, it reaches 20% or more families.

If you are marketing a food product in the St. Louis territory, Globe-Democrat coverage and sales influence can help your organization to build up distribution and increase your sales, at low cost.

If you have not yet entered this market . . . do so. The people are here. And retail outlets are here. The wholesale outlets are here . . . and the sales machinery can be started without lost motion by taking advantage of the complete marketing information gathered by The Globe-Democrat. No advertiser could obtain this valuable information in the field without tremendous expense and loss of time. To those who are sincerely interested, The Globe-Democrat offers this information without charge.

Not only in the grocery line, but in every field of selling, The Globe-Democrat is the big factor for business development in the St. Louis market.

What the "Atlas" Means to Business

"The utility of this information in planning a scientific system of distribution through wholesalers is appreciated when it is realized that the wholesale centers designated are the principal car-lot receiving points for basic commodities. They are the capital cities of the 'commercial United States of America.' The natural features which influenced the transportation routes to these commercial capitals have centered them in their territories. Generally speaking, each consuming point in a given territory may be reached more economically through the commercial capital to which it is assigned than from any other major receiving point. Therein lies the value of the 'Atlas' as a basis for a scientific marketing program."—From "Domestic Commerce," bulletin issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, November 5, 1928.

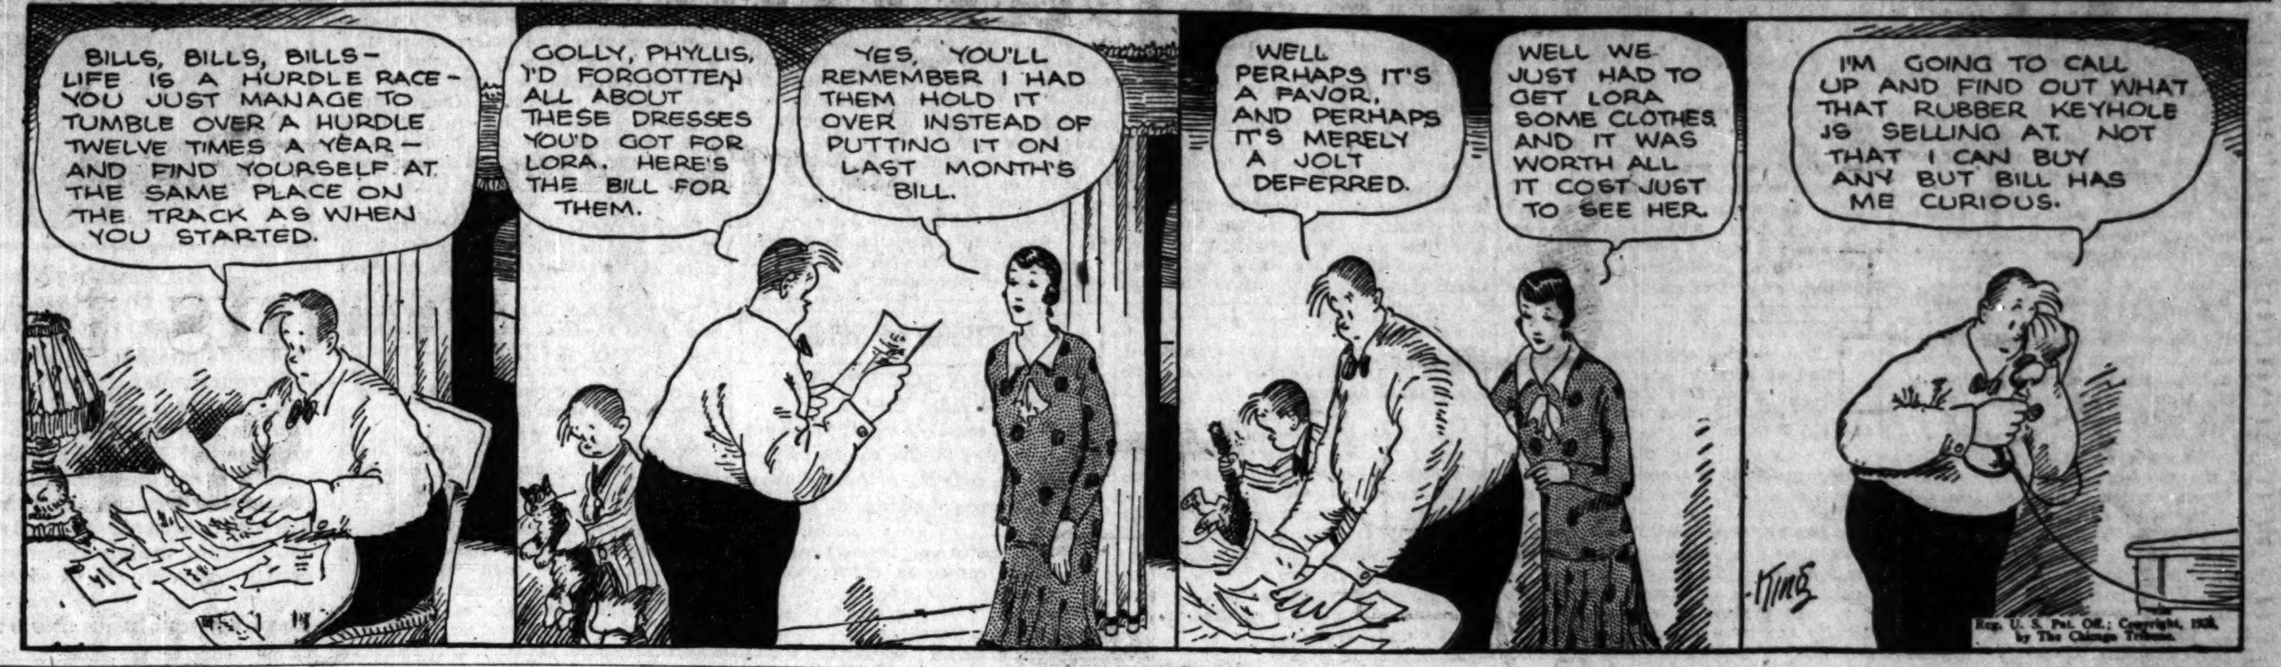
GASOLINE ALLEY—THE MELANCHOLY DAY



The Young Pretenders

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.

Lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Donaldson broods over the fact that his father, with whom he'd quarreled just before the smash, has never come into his room to visit him. He decides he must be dead; and his mother and the servants keeping the truth from him. His aunt, Lady Eleanor Wise, a great gossip, comes to call, and tells Hugo that his friend, Paul Mostyn, is in prison for stealing; that he married a girl of whom his family disapproved; and that Bunny Molyneux had expected to marry Paul and is heartbroken.

Bunny comes to see Hugo and tells him she believes Paul has been the victim of blackmailers and she is shocked that his family, because of his marriage, failed to stand back of him. The girl assures Hugo she was never engaged to Paul, but would like to help him, because of their lifelong friendship. Hugo gives her his red roadster, which he calls Miss Trotsky.

Paul's wife, living in disguise under the name of Mrs. Hallett, is forced to earn her living. When Hugo asks for some one to read to him every day, his nurse, Tright, introduces Mrs. Hallett, and Hugo takes her on as a reader. She is pleased to have this opportunity to study these friends of Paul's who she believes have proved to be his enemies, and is much surprised to discover that Hugo is loyalty itself to his friend, and only his accident has prevented his coming to Paul's assistance. Tright cautions her never to mention the boy's father to him, as the sight of Sir Richard so agitated Hugo while he was delirious that the doctors have advised his keeping away.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.

TESSIE TELLS A TALE.

Tessie Anstruther returned from her father's house at Brade to her mother's in London, found Hugo's liqueur set among other presents, and came to thank him in person. Tessie was six feet high and amazingly like her brother Bill, the father of Hugo II. She had the same square cut, ugly face which, attractive in Bill, became merely detrimental to the girl, who had been early condemned as an ugly duckling and had not enough feminine guile in her composition to turn her plainness into attraction. She and Bill were great friends and his departure for India had left her solitary, for her other brother, George, was a society man, and Tessie hated society with the terror of the shy woman who can never adorn it.

As Tessie, dressed in manly tweeds, came striding into Hugo's room, it struck that newly made critic of life that her marriage to his cousin Roland was appropriate in a topsy turvy fashion, for if Tessie ought to have been a man, the old ass had most certainly missed fire by not having been born a girl.

"I'm jolly glad you are coming into our family," he said, seeking for the only sincere method of congratulation he could find.

"You've come into mine, too," said Tessie. "Godfather to my nephew, aren't you? And I ought to hate you, for if it had been a girl I was to have had the honor and glory."

"Never you mind," said Hugo, "think what a much better goddaughter you'll get now they've had a bit of practice. You know, I got the surprise of my life. It was decent of Bill and Alison."

"You always were a funny kid, Hugo," Tessie said. "It was bound to be either you or Paul. George was never in the running. Bill and I always thought him too superior for words."

Last week mother insisted that I should go down to Brade and ask father to give me away.

"O, I say, I hope I haven't pinched the little beggar from Paul," exclaimed Hugo.

"Good thing as it turned out, but you needn't worry. I had a letter from Bill and he said they ruled Paul out long ago as too careless and too popular. Just as likely to mislay a godson as not, was how Bill put it, but he said you were a solitary sort of youngster yourself and you'd know what the little chap would feel like when they had to ship him off to school. Besides, I don't see why I shouldn't tell you when I've known you pretty well since you were born; we always agreed you were the best of the bunch," said Tessie with offhand melancholy.

"That's a big 'un," accused Hugo, grateful but indignant. It was nice of old Tessie to come along with a tale like that to cheer a battered wreck, but she always had been kind hearted. "Why Paul was, everybody knew. And that reminds me; he didn't do it, so don't you believe them, Tessie."

"Didn't he?" asked Tessie. "I'm hanged if I know. I haven't seen a great deal of Paul since Bill and Alison were married, but I always liked him and it wouldn't make any difference to me whatever he did. The elders are all making a song about it and saying as usual that our generation hasn't any morals. Perhaps it hasn't, if they mean doing what your parents want you to do, whatever the consequences. I haven't much time for parents, myself."

"Haven't you?" asked Hugo, surprised.

"No." Tessie shook her head. "I suppose yours are all right, but look at my own case. Mother is pleased with me for the first time in her life because I am going to marry Roland and will soon be off her hands. She never liked having a plain daughter. Well, perhaps you can't blame her for that, but she didn't care for Bill either. George was all right because he wasn't clumsy and could behave prettily when she had visitors; but even George used to feel as we did, that holiday times were a bore to mother and she tolerated us with difficulty. And when we went to stay with father at Brade, we were just visitors and felt awkward and ashamed. We always supposed one of them had done something awful, and that everybody knew it but us. And we used to talk over what it could be and which was the sinner.

"Last week mother insisted I should go down to Brade and ask father to give me away. I did, and one night at dinner I said 'I wish you'd tell me something, father, now it can't matter about my knowing. What did you and mother quarrel about?' "He laughed," declared Tessie glumly, "and said he had completely forgotten, it was so long ago. They were always quarreling and one day mother took offense more violently than usual and marched off to town, taking us children with her. He'd always given her a generous income and paid for our education and started the boys in the world and given me a dress allowance since I left school and he didn't feel he had anything to reproach himself with.

"Later on I asked if he would give me away. He said, 'You shall have your choice. I'll give you away or I'll give you £500.' He was testing me and it got my back up. I didn't care by that time whether he gave me away or what he thought of me and I always had cared about going to Roland empty handed, so I said I'd take the five hundred."

"Have you told George about your father and that you haven't a family skeleton, after all?" Hugo asked.

"No, he wouldn't care," said Tessie. "George is an opportunist. If he had a family skeleton he'd only hang it up in the hall and use it as a new kind of dinner gong. He and mother are arranging the wedding between them. They like that sort of thing."

She was as detached about the wedding as though it belonged to somebody else. Hugo, remembering the sparkle and excitement of Alison before her marriage to Bill, felt that Tessie was being cheated out of her fun, and he was indignant.

"Why do you let them, Tessie? It's your wedding."

"Yes, I know, but what does it matter? I've grown to think that nothing matters very much."

"Look here, old thing," said Hugo, "I don't want to butt in, but aren't you afraid you might fall in love with some other fellow after you're married to Roland?"

"I don't believe in love. We're brought up to think of it as a kind of epidemic always about and we are bound to catch it, but what a lie! If you are a woman and ugly, you soon learn better than to have romantic notions. You needn't be afraid. I know you others have always thought Roland rather an ass, but he's generous and he has a number of good qualities and he has always been a friend of mine. I shan't let him down. That's the one thing I'm really certain of. As for love, what's the good of it, for it's nearly always a one sided arrangement? Look what it has done to Bunny Molyneux, for instance."

"Bunny?" shouted Hugo. "It hasn't—she isn't. I say, Tessie, that is a thundering lie, whoever said it. Bunny's all right. I see quite a lot of her and she's as jolly as a sand boy. She's not in love."

"Well, I was told Paul's affair had made her quite funny in the head," explained Tessie. "It was your Aunt Eleanor who said it. Mrs. Mostyn had told her Bunny came there and made a frightful scene, and every one thought Paul was going to marry her."

"What business have people to think?" said Hugo furiously, and quite forgetting he had thought so himself. "Bunny had a scene with Mrs. Mostyn over her treatment of Paul and his wife. You take it from me, she was a friend of Paul's and naturally hates them for treating him like a thief. Nothing else. Why, you should see her cutting about in her little red car and you'd know she wasn't in love with anybody. Do you mean to tell me a chap can't be friendly with a girl he has known all his life without people suspecting she's in love with him? In these days?"

But at this point the door opened, and Lady Donaldson came to carry Tessie away to luncheon.

Emil Jannings Does Wonders for This Film

Good Morning!

"Sins of the Fathers" isn't as soul-wrenching and eye-drenching as "The Way of All Flesh" and "The Patriot," but it's a heap better—has a better story, I mean—than "The Street of Sin" and provides Mr. Jannings with another striking portrait for his gallery of characterizations.

This time he is a waiter who becomes a café owner who becomes a bootlegger who becomes a convict who becomes a waiter, and the story pictures with intelligence, sympathy, and considerable drama, Wilhelm Spengler's journeyings from start to—the land of beginning again.

As is his way in the films, Mr. Jannings falls for a blonde she devil. His wife goes to heaven, and then he and the children are at the mercies of a heartless and mercenary creature who, from that time on has her way with him. It is all very sad. REALLY, it is sad. I don't mean to be facetious.

It isn't the fault of the great actor that the plump blockhead he impersonates hasn't any strenuous pull on your emotions. His misfortunes fill you with regret—but leave your eyes dry. At least I didn't cry and that's usually the best thing I do at a Jannings' picture.

But—don't get any mistaken ideas! —Emil Jannings is the master, as always.

The film has been splendidly staged, directed, and photographed, and the supporting cast is excellent. Ruth Chatterton in a rôle different from any she has ever played before, does some zipping work as the blonde Greta. She's a sort of composite of Phillys Haver and Olga Baclanova. All other rôles are feelingly handled.

It's a cinch you'll like "Sins of the Fathers" and, who knows—you MAY cry!

But the Scenario Gives True Love Victory

"STOLEN LOVE."

THE CAST.

Joan Hastings	Marceline Day
Bill	Rex Lease
Curtis Barstow	Owen Moore
Ruth	Helen Lynch
Aunt Evie	Blanche Frederici
Other Aunt	Joy Winthrop

A good title for this film would be "The Interferers," because from start to finish somebody or other is continually interfering in the sweet romance that is trying its best to end up in a wedding between the hero and heroine. FIRST, a couple of maiden aunts interfere. Then a pair of policemen get in their heavy work. Then the hero's mother spills some ashes—and so on. But at last, love has the laugh on all of them.

"Stolen Love" is light weight but interesting, and nicely played and directed. Miss Day is a bit too saccharine, as is her custom, but she's pretty. Rex Lease is nice and manly as the ambitious young inventor who adores her. Owen Moore as a sleek city wolf is rather pepless but without a doubt sleek city wolves get tired sometimes and, as a tired city wolf I should say he is immense.

This is quite a satisfactory picture to sandwich in between shopping forays. Sort of a pleasant, soothing little picture.

See you tomorrow.

Christmas gifts of all kinds will be on sale, and a turkey dinner served Friday evening, Dec. 7. Mrs. G. Louis Lehle is president of the guild and chairman of arrangements.

Electrical Workers Join Good Fellows to Help Poor Kids

BY THOMAS WREN.

Good Fellow! Here's a news development that should pep up our campaign to recruit Good Fellows to battle the enemies of poor kids at Christmas time.

Chicago electrical workers, members of local No. 9, made application to supply approximately 100 poor families with a real Merry Christmas this year. The average poor family generally has about five children. At this ratio the electrical workers will brighten the lives of 500 poor children at Christmas time.

"It's a bit early yet and we expect to hear from other members of the union," said Irwin Knott, the electrical workers' business agent, who is one of the Good Fellow crusaders of last year's campaign.

"The Good Fellow distribution of Christmas happiness is most worthy, because it is anonymous and does a most effective job of making poor children happy and bright. We can beat our last year's record if the members of Local No. 9 send in their Good Fellow coupons immediately."

And this is the report of one poor family that Good Fellows can make happy on the advent of Christmas:

"Mary and Peter clung to their aunt in the small dark room, weeping bitterly. Ida, 7; Sam, 5, and Ben, 3, had been committed to an orphanage, and Baby Julia taken to a foster home. Their father, broken by his hopeless struggle to support a family of eight on the $22 he received as an unskilled laborer, had tried to commit suicide and had been taken to an insane asylum. In a few months their mother died of pneumonia. Now their Aunt Bella said she believes she can take care of the little group of children."

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Myrtle Stearn, 2635 Blaine place, was awarded $5.

The Question.

What type of question do you prefer to have the Inquiring Reporter ask?

The Answers.

Mrs. E. M. Alexander, 2312 North Harding avenue, comptometer operator—Anything that is of human interest, and especially questions that are of a cheerful nature, whose answers reflect bright and smiling countenances. We have enough tragedies.

E. J. Reschke, 787 Park boulevard, trade school proprietor—As a rule, questions and answers that are both practical and educational. I have noticed that the questions and answers frequently bring out suggestions that are valuable. All I can suggest is more good questions.

Mrs. Betty Nicholson, 9314 Stony Island avenue, housewife—I have been reading them every morning—are you supposed to be Mr. McCutcheon's funny man with a long coat and black hat? The questions I prefer are those that are interesting and educational, regardless of subject.

Jerald Moriarty, Urbana, Ill., student—I am mostly interested in subjects pertaining to sports, and you seldom have anything in that column about sports, except on Sundays. My next choice is something containing either wit or wisdom, or else something of human interest.

Mrs. Zella Rose, 7120 Yates avenue, housewife—I like any subject that is interesting, but especially subjects that are most discussed in our own homes. I read the Inquiring Reporter column this morning and I was thinking that if I had been asked that question I couldn't easily have answered it.

Airplane Ball Big Success, Aiding Children

Proceeds May Be $40,000; Scene Brilliant.

The Illinois Children's Home and Aid society was $30,000 richer for a surety, as the result of the Aeroplane ball at the 131st Infantry armory last night.

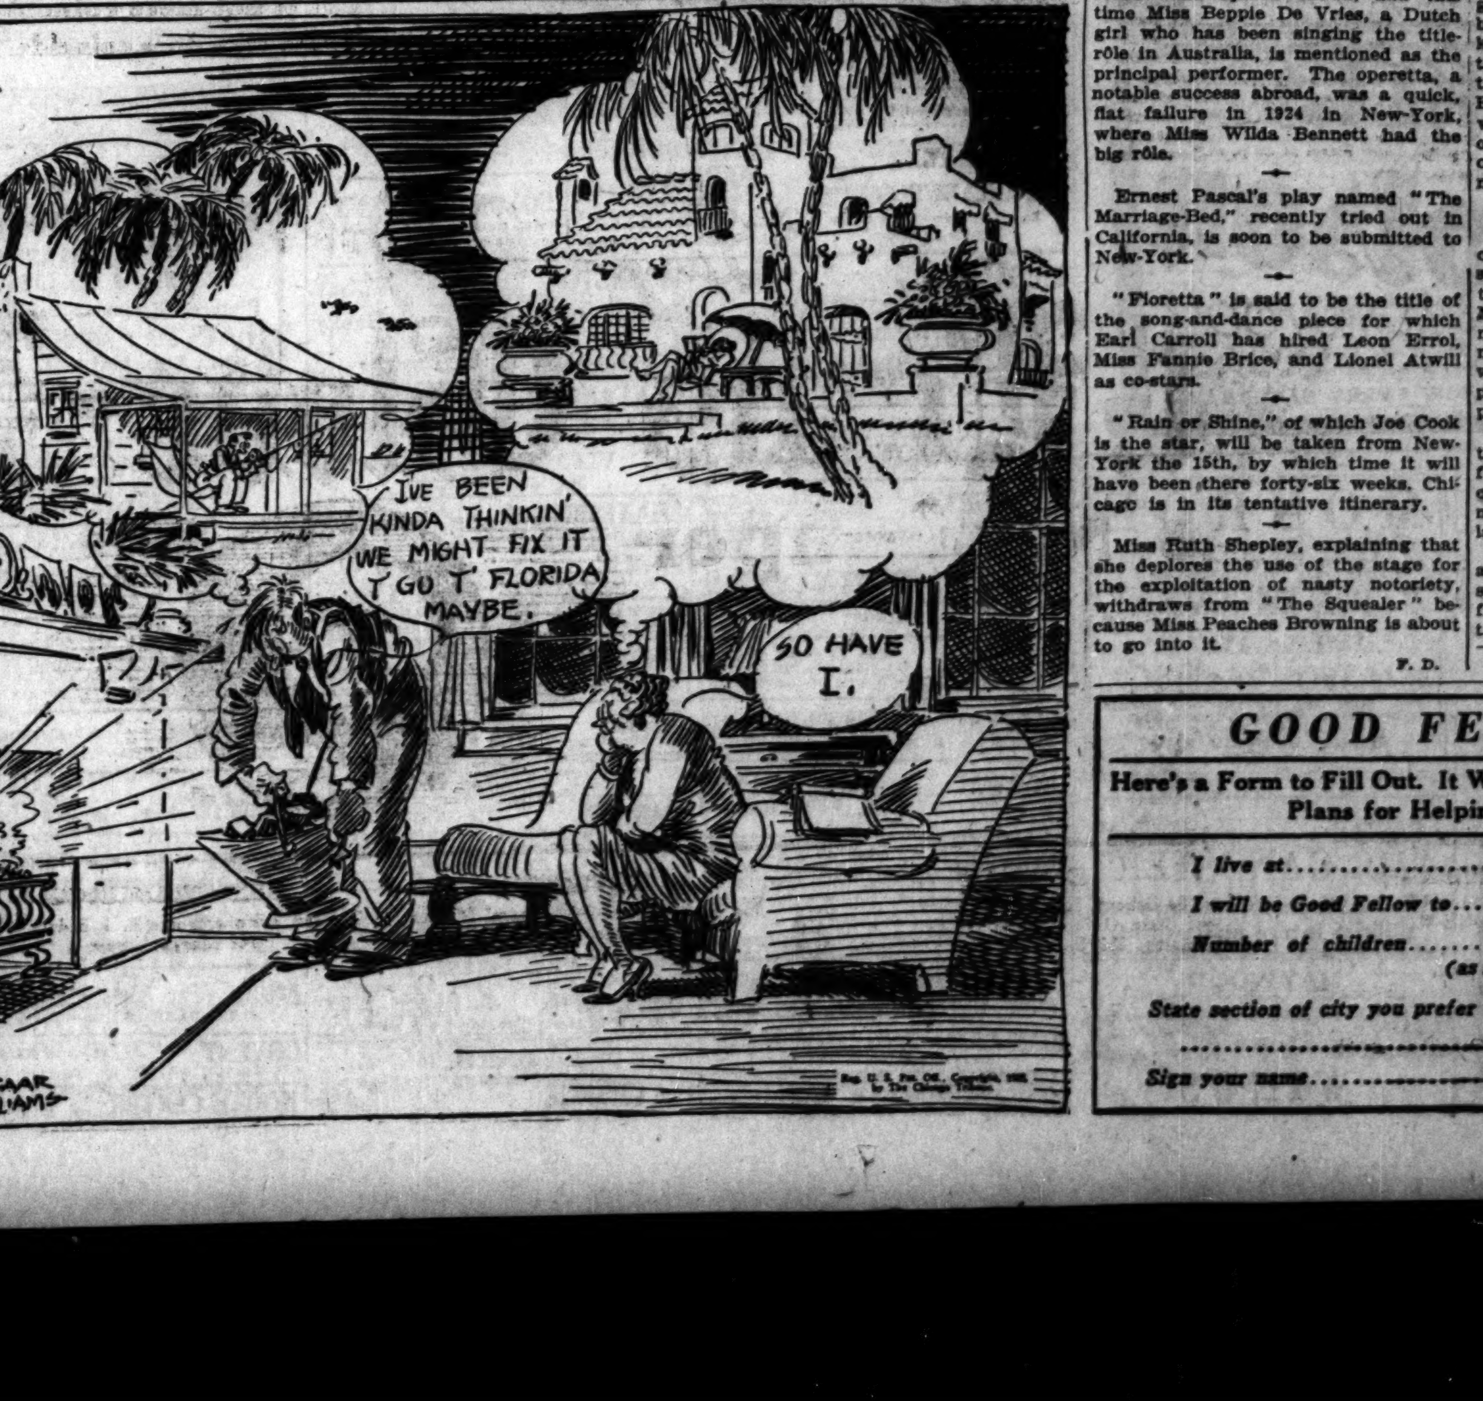
The final proceeds of that charity affair to which all Chicago society turned its hand may even approximate $40,000. A few of the sources of revenue in conjunction with the ball were the boxes, sold at $100 apiece, some supper tables sold at the same figure, other supper tables at $50 apiece, tickets at $5, souvenir programs included with the Airway Guide and official program of the International Aeronautical exposition at the Coliseum at $1, and cigarets and flowers at whatever price the men would pay.

The committees and workers included practically all of the élite, many of whom arrived early to view the big planes on display in the Coliseum before proceeding down a draughty passage to the Armory which was hung with patriotic bunting for the ball proper.

A corps of "aeroplane ushers" captained by William Mitchell Blair and all wearing red ribbons marked with aeroplanes escorted those curious about the monsters of the air about, and a floor committee, headed by Prince Michael Cantacuzene and John A. Stevenson, indicated by blue arm bands embellished with yellow planes, officiated in the armory. A committee of debutantes and the younger society women wearing tiny gilt planes on gold ribbons or at their shoulders, dispensed programs, white carnations, cigarets from wire baskets tied with gold ribbon, and collected their proceeds in red satin bags also marked with an aeroplane design.

The executive committee in charge included Mrs. Waller Borden, Mrs. Leeds Mitchell, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Charles King Corsant, and Mrs. E. R. Fifield, reputed to be the most capable women in town in the matter of securing funds. Arthur Meeker, Eames MacVeagh, and Howard Gillette composed the receiving committee, and Mrs. Chadwick, wearing a rose velvet wrap trimmed with chinchilla over a black tulle gown polka-dotted with gold, was flying around, doing her duties in charge of the entertainment given by the professional stars somewhat after midnight.

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE



THEATER

MISS HELEN HAYES' engagement in "Coquette" in the Selwyn will start Christmas night, and not, as heretofore announced, the 24th. . . . And mention of Miss Hayes is a reminder that the play in which she first took serious attention from the reviewers, "Dear Brutus," will be revived tonight in the Goodman Memorial, where Miss Katherine Krug will have the rôle acted ten years ago by the former. . . . While a third sentence that may be regarded as apposite has to do with suggesting that, if you've seen Miss Hayes in anything, you'll take a large laugh out of her being kidded by Miss Paula Trueman in "Southern Belles," the first skit in the bully program of the Grand-Street Follies.

Among the Chicago names made measurably celebrated in the text of "The Front Page" is Duffy Cornell: the owner is and for some years has been a desk-man for Mr. Hearst on the Herald and Examiner. But Mr. Cornell, it seems, doesn't care for the celebrity; and he has accordingly beseeched Mr. Hecht and Mr. MacArthur, the authors, to do something. They have done it: they are now addressing the unseen character heretofore called Duffy Cornell by another name; and Mr. Cornell, who might have been a second Mrs. Feitelbaum, is by the change returned to what he regards as the equivalent of private life.

Wednesday afternoon is dropped until the 27th from the schedule of "The Front Page"; and Sunday night is dropped from that of "Blossom-Time."

Guy Lombardo and his band, who may be described as Canada's gift to the listeners-in, are to headline next week in the Palace.

Mr. Belasco and William Hurlbut are nearing the end of their work on a play for Miss Beth Merrill. The scene of action is Virginia City, and the time the gold-rush days of the 'Seventies.

Added to the long list of admitted failures in the season is W. Somerset Maugham's "The Sacred Flame," of which Burns Mantle had something to say last Sunday in THE TRIBUNE. It will be revived in New-York Saturday night.

Miss Peggy Joyce is to be rushed into New-York to take up space in one of the empty theaters: and the title of the play in which she has been practicing in Pittsburgh and other places is changed from "So This Is Love!" to "The Lady of the Orchids." With her in it are Kenneth Hunter, here early in the year with Miss Barrymore in "The Constant Wife," and Hugh Sinclair, here last season in "Murray Hill" and "A Man with Red Hair."

The annual talk about reviving Leo Fall's operetta of "Madame Pompadour" is to be heard these days of scarce and sparse shows; and this time Miss Beppie De Vries, a Dutch girl who has been singing the title-rôle in Australia, is mentioned as the principal performer. The operetta, a notable success abroad, was a quick, flat failure in 1924 in New-York, where Miss Wilda Bennett had the big rôle.

Ernest Pascal's play named "The Marriage-Bed," recently tried out in California, is soon to be submitted to New-York.

"Floretta" is said to be the title of the song-and-dance piece for which Earl Carroll has hired Leon Errol, Miss Fannie Brice, and Lionel Atwill as co-stars.

"Rain or Shine," of which Joe Cook is the star, will be taken from New-York the 15th, by which time it will have been there forty-six weeks. Chicago is in its tentative itinerary.

Miss Ruth Shepley, explaining that she deplores the use of the stage for the exploitation of nasty notoriety, withdraws from "The Squealer" because Miss Peaches Browning is about to go into it.

Belgium Holds Place in Sun by Its Nerve

People Going Strong After Harsh Centuries.

BY ANNE SOMERS HOUSE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Dec. 3.—A bald headed gentleman, called Caius Julius Caesar, in describing Gaul as divided into three parts, named its three tribes Belgians, Aquitanians, and Gauls, or Celts, and said, "of whom the Belgians are the bravest."

If it had not been for that remark there might be no kingdom of the "Belgians" today.

Belgian children are taught about him. They are taught to claim as a native Belgian the Emperor Charles V. of the holy Roman empire, born in Ghent in 1500. The Belgians have as heroes Counts Egmont and Horn, both Protestants, who became martyrs by order of the duke of Alva in June, 1568, after they were condemned by the inquisition.

In the matter of art the Belgians point among others to the famous painter, Peter Paul Rubens, who did a portrait of stout Maria de Medicis, queen of France. He was a proud citizen of Antwerp.

Getting down to modern history, there is King Leopold II., who gave the Congo to Belgium.

King Leopold's nation kept the Congo region, as neither Bismarck nor France were willing to let England have it. By the 1890's, Belgium was secure in the Congo river region. Leopold was well known in the gayer circle of Paris, but in the 1900's, Emile Vandervelde sprung the scandals concerning atrocities against the Congo natives. Those scandals echoed around the world and there were protest meetings held in the United States. Leopold attained an old age, more famous abroad for his gayety than his business foresight.

The outside world knew little of his successor, King Albert, until in August of 1914, Belgium's 90,000 met 600,000 of Europe's choicest soldiers and kept the German armies busy in Belgium till Gen. Sir John French had sent his first British army across the channel and until the first North African troops had been moved from the Mediterranean to the French front.

Liége, Belgium's eastern fortress, commanded by Gen. Leman, resisted an avalanche of German army corps and 42 centimeter guns for more than two weeks.

After the fall of Liége and Antwerp, his two strongest fortresses, King Albert retreated to Ypres and entrenched his army with its back to the Yser river. Few moves in the war were of greater strategic importance. King Albert's army in the flooded Yser region kept the Germans from "rolling up" the entire channel coast and breaking the connection between France and England. The Belgian general Jacques, whom the king later made a "baron of Dixmuden," was the most popular officer in the Yser army. He fraternized with his men.

Of civilian Belgium, Cardinal Mercier and Mayor Adolphe Max of Brussels were among the war heroes. On the sorrowful day of Aug. 20, 1914, Mayor Max explained to the first German entering Brussels, "I am the mayor of Brussels, and I desire to wire to his majesty the German emperor, to ask him not to have his troops pass through the Belgian capital."

This was not granted, and when, thirty-five days later, Mayor Max refused to pay an outrageous fine with city funds, he was deported to a German fortress. He returned four years later.

Like many Belgians, Gabrielle Petit, a beautiful 22 year old girl in Brussels, helped Belgian soldiers escape from their occupied country to join the allied armies. She could have

Finger of Scorn Is No Longer Pointed at Unmarried Women

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Doesn't it strike you as unfair in our days of equality that the term bachelor carries no such stigma as old maid or spinster? It is time old maid and spinster were put out of use, and people in your position can help start a movement in that direction? Respectable and capable unmarried women certainly deserve some more dignified reference than the usual terms applied to them. AGNES."

It would be one of those movements, if started, that would lead to nothing unless it would be more suffering for a sensitive unmarried woman. But why raise the issue? Who raises it, anyway, nowadays? And would one sensitive to the appellation be less sensitive were she called by any other name?

More to the point, why be sensitive at all? It's a wholly unnecessary rôle to adopt these days with the great wide open spaces of the occupational world calling for capable, respectable and high-minded women. In that world, certainly, there is little distinction between married and single women. There is no line drawn marking off the wedded from the unwedded.

In an earlier day when few fields of labor were open to women and of necessity the one unmarried sister remained on in an inferior capacity about the house there was reason to feel a stigma attached to the term old maid. But it was more a state of mind that earned the term than the actual unmarried condition. Reduced in mind at least to a sense of impotence, the unmarried woman felt her position keenly. But that's ancient history.

Her position, economically and socially, is entirely changed. Often she is the envy of the married woman. She has her own money to spend and does it as she wishes. She is barred from nothing. In fact, there's just no such thing as a stigma attached to her. As I view it, a movement to dignify the term spinster would be a superfluous gesture. She's dignified it herself by the invaluable position she has created for herself.

There are few women of the age currently known as spinsterhood but in addition to carrying on some worthwhile work in the world are also contributing to the upbringing and education of young relatives.

Old-maidishness and spinsterishness are things apart from years today. They're mannerisms, crabbed, thwarted states of mind and no other name could dignify them.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Why So Many Plates?

Why so many plates? asked a young woman who eats abroad or away from home a great deal. We were answering a letter asking when to remove the service plates. I laughed at her query and said that I would like a service plate under most of the bits of salad plates used. Before I could tell why she said that she was always getting salad dressing spattered on the front of her dress and remarked that she then had to send the dress to the cleaners because she could not get this out. People do not go around with spots on their dresses as they once did, and yet almost everywhere salads are served on much too small plates, inviting awkward results of several sorts.

After this discussion I remembered that I had not answered her inquiry, "Why so many plates?" It is conventional, but there is real reason for the service plate. It protects the table and also the fingers of the eater. A service plate under the too small salad plate might protect our clothes. The service plate so has a real and common sense reason which has mostly been lost sight of, perhaps because beautiful plates are a real ornament to the table.

In theory the soup, and the plate it is in, should be so hot that the eater cannot touch it with his fingers, and the table would be marred unless it was set into the cold service plate. In eating with a spoon, as one must do in eating soup, it is perfectly natural to touch the plate with the other hand, though it may not be the best manners, yet we do not know about that. There are different interpretations. One cannot touch the hot soup plate, so the service plate is a great comfort if we happen to feel it necessary to anchor the whole cover by holding on. Human instinct requires a lot of subduing.

But how absurd it is to put a plate of tepid soup into a service plate! If we are to use a service plate let us make it utterly justifiable. But then there are so many other unjustifiable things that perhaps we should only plead for hot soup, in a hot plate, on dietetic grounds.

We are also against the fashionable candles on that ground, and not wholly because we are "fussy" and hate to have the light in our eyes and hate worse to eat in a half light. They smell and are soon ugly and are wholly an anachronism.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Coolidge were hosts today to Princes Gustaf Adolph and Sigvard, sons of the crown prince of Sweden, at luncheon following their call upon the President this morning. They came to this country for the wedding Saturday of their cousin, Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden and Miss Estelle Manville at Pleasantville, N. Y. Others in the company at luncheon were the bride and bridegroom, Count and Countess Bernadotte, who came to Washington yesterday; Count and Countess Carl Bernadotte, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom; the Swedish Minister and Mme. Bostrom.

Senator and Mrs. Vandenburg of Grand Rapids, Mich., have taken a suite at the Willard for the season.

The Secretary to the Vice President and Mrs. E. Hess Bartley and their sons, Edward and Richard, arrived a few days ago from Evanston, Ill., and are at their apartment at the Ambassador for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vierbuchen of Chicago and Michigan City, Ind., accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. George Birkhof of Chicago, are at the Mayflower for several weeks. They came last week from Atlantic City where Mr. Vierbuchen was taken seriously ill. They expect to return to Chicago in a fortnight, as Mr. Vierbuchen is now recuperating.

Mission Problems Put to Congregationalists' Session

At the Palmer House last evening was held the 46th annual meeting of the Chicago Congregational Missionary and Extension society. More than fifteen hundred were at the banquet. President F. E. Reeve presided. Prof. Arthur E. Holt of the Chicago Theological seminary spoke on the problems in living and church work created by modern cities. An address on "The Unity of a Free Church," by Dr. Albert W. Palmer, of the First Congregational church, Oak Park. Dr. Ernest Graham Guthrie, general director, spoke on the "Signs of a New Day." The principal address was made by William E. Sweet, former governor of Colorado, an active Congregational layman on "Why the Church?"

MARKS BROS.

An Entertainment Guarantee

Marks Bros. want you to know that "The Home Towners" is getting the greatest reception ever accorded a picture at the Granada and the Marbro.

It is guaranteed to bring you the loudest and longest laugh of your life. It is a roaring riot of joy that has the entire North and West Side buzzing with enthusiastic comment.

We can only keep the picture for one week—if you miss it you are passing up the "knock-out" all-talking picture of the year. The house record for attendance at both the Granada and the Marbro was broken Saturday and Sunday, and we ask you to please come early and avoid long waits.

MAE TINEE HEADS THE LIST OF NOVEMBER'S BEST PHOTOPLAYS WITH "THE HOME TOWNERS"—SHE WRITES:

"It is a triumph of both acting and sound. I couldn't find a slip-up in either . . . rarely in one film do you find as many fine players as this one offers you on its platter . . . the dialogue has been lifted bodily from the play . . . and it is such good dialogue."

A COMPLETE EXTRA STAGE AND SCREEN SHOW WILL BE GIVEN EACH DAY THIS WEEK AT BOTH THEATERS.

Society Blends With Architecture in the Ball-Wentworth Bldg.

BY THALIA

The smart new coöperative apartment house at the corner of Astor and Banks streets that John Wentworth and Dr. Otho Fisher Ball have had built to house themselves and several other families, is approaching a state of livability.

In fact, it has one set of occupants, the Frederick A. Stocks, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Wolfe. The Wirt Mortons of 1315 Astor street are moving in in a week or so, and the rest of the tenants expect to be installed by some time in January.

The I. Newton Perrys have the top 2 floors of the 12 story building, and have added an extra floor for their smart duplex, and the Balls have the apartment beneath them. Mrs. Ball has just returned from a long stay in England with her son-in-law and daughter, the Quintin Gilbeys, whom she left happily installed with their new baby in the house at 35 Hyde Park square that they purchased last summer. She spent a few weeks at Hot Springs on her return to this country, and on her arrival here was delighted at the appearance of the new apartment. The Balls will spend their last Christmas in their house at 1315 Ritchie court, and then will move into the new place, the furnishings of which will be augmented by several pieces that Mrs. Ball brought from England. The Gilbeys, by the way, are betaking themselves to Switzerland after Christmas for the winter sports, and then on to southern France for a stay.

The wedding of Miss Portia Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Bartlett, and Arthur Farwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Farwell of 1301 Ritchie court, which was postponed since last summer due to the illness of Mr. Farwell, will take place at 8:30 this evening at the Bartlett apartment at 3400 Sheridan road. Miss Elizabeth Curtis of Clinton, Ia., will be the bride's only attendant, and John V. Farwell III. will act as best man for the groom. The Rev. James G. K. McClure will officiate at the ceremony, which will be attended by only a few relatives and intimate friends.

The annual Christmas sale of the Women's exchange will be held today at the Blackstone hotel.

Miss Dorothy Hudson will give an illustrated lecture on embroidery on costumes and accessories today before a meeting of the Needlework and Textile guild of the Art institute at the residence of Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Childs have come in from Lake Forest to be at 999 Lake Shore drive for the winter, but will spend the Christmas and New Year's season in the country.

Miss Katherine Daniels, daughter of Mrs. Picard Whiting, will arrive on Dec. 16 from Smith college. She is to have a debut tea on Dec. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morse Elliott of Cambridge, Mass., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Saturday. Mrs. Elliott was Miss Janet Pauling before her marriage, and is the daughter of the Edward G. Paulings of 1248 Astor street. Mrs. Elliott's mother and her sister, Mrs. Thorne Donnelley, are visiting the Elliotts. The baby is to be named Helen, which is also Mrs. Donnelley's name.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hersey Jr. of 38 East Elm street announce the birth of a daughter, Jeanette Burnet Hersey, on Nov. 6, at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Hersey was Miss Beatrice Burnet before her marriage last winter. The baby is named for Mrs. Hersey's mother, Mrs. J. Sidney Burnet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eastman Dryden of 425 Aldine avenue announce the birth of a daughter on Nov. 26 at the Grant hospital. Mrs. Dryden was Miss Dorothy Heissler before her marriage, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Heissler.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bowe of 1120 Lake Shore drive have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn of Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Bowe's parents.

Mrs. Frank R. Fuller has closed her Winnetka residence for the time being and is in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren McCracken have moved in from Barrington and are at the Lake Shore Drive hotel for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Elting of Winnetka have just returned from the east, where they visited their sons, Victor and John Elting, who are in school.

The Charles Edward Browns of 2450 Lakeview avenue returned on Saturday from a week's stay at the Ritz in New York City.

Will your child have
a strong, well-knit framework?

This warning is being broadcast to mothers by physicians everywhere. "Do you know there is danger that your baby will not have the finely-shaped head you want him to have, the full chest, straight legs, and sound, uncrowded teeth that will not decay easily?

"He must have special protection against the danger of soft, porous bones and poor teeth. Even the breast-fed baby must have it."

Nature provides two plentiful sources of this protective factor, Vitamin D. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil!

Direct sunshine would keep your baby safe, if he could get enough of it on his bare body. But this is not possible on account of clothing, clouds, fog and smoke. Even ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

The use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—then, is urged as the surest protection.

The country's leading specialists advise the use of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer it because they know they can depend on its rich vitamin content.

Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is very rich in Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and also in Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infections.

When you choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, you are using a vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. Be sure to insist on Squibb's. At all reliable drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

Dairy Farmers Lose Money on Chicago Sales, They Declare

Dairy farmers who supply the Chicago market with milk get less for their commodity than it costs them to produce it, according to testimony given yesterday before the fact finding committee of the Chicago Milk Marketing association in session at the Morrison hotel.

The farmers are contending that they must have a better price for their product. Chicago interests are opposed to raising the price of milk, and so the trend of much of the testimony of yesterday was that costs of distribution by Chicago milk companies must be reduced.

Joseph Wein of Crown Point, who said he had one of the finest herds in northern Indiana, gave his actual experience in meeting costs of dairy farming. He quoted the following costs of producing 400 pounds of milk per day:

Interest on herd investment [20 cows]	$ .50
Feed	4.40
Interest on equipment	.50
Taxes	.28
Insurance	.09
Tuberculin testing	.03
Veterinary services and natural losses	.50
Depreciation	.41
Labor—10 hours at 45c	4.50
Total for 400 lbs	$11.21
Cost per 100 lbs	2.80

The present market price for raw milk gives the farmer $2.50 a hundredweight, a net loss of 30 cents per hundred pounds. This means, Wein pointed out, that the farmer gets only $4.20 for his labor and no profit whatever.

John A. Carroll, Hyde Park banker, owner of a farm at Palos Park, testified that Chicago citizens paid plenty for their milk, but that it was evident to him that the producers were not given a sufficient share of that sale price. Some method must be found, he said, to adjust the profits more equitably. "The milk distributors, who have ignored this meeting, must be brought to arbitration of this problem," Mr. Carroll said.

Many of the farmers present at the session made brief comments, and they declared they should receive from $3.00 to $3.50 a hundred pounds for their milk.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Ward was proud of being dressed in his best clothes and was exceedingly careful of them if he was going out with the family. One day he appeared at the next door neighbor's dressed in his best, his trousers having just been pressed.

"Here is a chair, Wardie," the neighbor said. "Don't stand or you will be very tired before you get home again." But Ward continued to stand.

"Why don't you come and sit down?" she continued, but Ward, looking down at his freshly pressed trousers, shyly answered, "I'm afraid I'll break the new cracks in my pants."

SOCIETY AT THE OPERA

Due to the presence of a large number of fashionable opera goers, the golden circle at the Auditorium appeared more brilliant than usual at last night's performance of "La Boheme." Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift had as their guests Count and Countess Bolognesi, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Healy. Mrs. D. Mark Cummings' party included Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLennan, and Russell Tyson.

With Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Giorgio Polacco, and Charles Hackett. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke had as their guests at dinner and at the opera the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Darlington of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Kingman Douglas, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Haskell's party included Mr. and Mrs. John Payne Kellogg, Mrs. Harry Shearson, and Roger Ballard. Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. McGann were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. Farwell Winston. With Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Noyes and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hollis.

The Martin A. Ryersons' guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swift and Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Post. With Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schweppe Jr., of Los Angeles, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, and Mrs. Robert Hall McCormick. Miss Cornelia Lunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, and Mrs. A. Lovegardner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robinson.

Mrs. Chauncey Keep's party included Mrs. Henry A. Blair, Miss Anita Blair, Mrs. James Hutchins, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner. With Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Smith were Mr. and Mrs. John F. L. Curtis and Lloyd Taylor. Lucius Teter and Henry Hilton were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Avery Brundage, Mrs. Marquis Eaton, and Mrs. Burton Smith.

Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth had as her guest Mrs. Charles Adsit, Mrs. Samuel G. Jewett, and Mrs. Thomas Taylor. With the William O. Goodmans were Mrs. A. Fletcher Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley and Frederick Colburn. With Miss Helen and Miss Dorothy Rend were Mrs. Bernard Rogers, Thomas P. Wheelock and Mortimer Price.

Mrs. W. P. Conger was hostess in Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick's box to a party including Mrs. William Hubbard, Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, Mrs. Wilbur Goodspeed, and Mrs. John H. Hamline. Mrs. Erich Gerstenberg and her daughter, Miss Alice Gerstenberg, were with Mrs. Caroline Kohl.

Lectures for the Blind Start Today with "Fair"

The Blind Service association announces a free lecture course for the blind, which will open tonight with a talk on "The World's Fair of 1933," by Col. Lee Alexander Stone at the Industrial Home for the Blind at 1800 Marshall boulevard. These lectures will continue throughout the winter on the first Tuesday of every month.

Belgium Holds Place in Sun by Courage Through the Centuries

saved her life by naming her accomplices, but she would not, and was shot.

The Vandervelde who had been a thorn to the gay Leopold was a great help to King Albert and a staunch friend. In post-war Belgium, Vandervelde has kept that rôle, while King Albert has been nicknamed the "Socialist king."

The man who is known as Belgium's "perfect parliamentarian" is Paul Hymans, boss of the Liberal party, war time ambassador in London, three times minister of foreign affairs, and first president of the league of nations assembly.

M. Henri Jaspar, premier of Belgium, is one of the most powerful politicians in the kingdom. As a Catholic, he heads the Belgian Conservative party which, with few exceptions, has been a government party.

While some Belgians condemned Jaspar's "Ruhr adventure," his party followed him whole-heartedly when the premier occupied the Ruhr valley in coöperation with the French premier, Poincare. All parties agreed, on the other hand, that M. Jaspar was the right man for preventing worst moral and financial catastrophes in 1926 when the Belgian franc dropped disastrously. At that time Premier Jaspar picked his collaborators from all three parties, added to them a noted financial expert, M. Francqui, and brought about stabilization of the franc.

Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, who fell or jumped while flying across the channel last July in one of his private airplanes, was the wealthiest and most spectacular financial wizard of Belgium.

The European electricity trust, of which Capt. Loewenstein dreamed, is being ushered into life by a German-American in Brussels, Mr. Daniel N. Heineman, American by birth, German by education, backed by Germany's electricity combine, A. E. G. (Allgemeine Elektrizitaets Gesellschaft) and by American financiers such as Otto H. Kahn of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York. The new trust is reaching out for Belgian, Swiss, and French electric enterprises and buying up the electricity stocks in Spain and South America which Loewenstein left. Mr. Heineman and his associates are said to have $11,000,000 recently.

Emile Francqui, Belgium's greatest financier and the country's "father of stabilization," makes rain and sunshine in the Belgian Congo. There his Societe Generale de Belgique, recently combined with the Belgian "Banque d'Outremer," is recognizedly the boss. He is a survivor of the Belgian enterprises of the 1890's. He found copper deposits. By outwitting some British explorers then he planted the Belgian flag on what is called the third copper field in the world. The Katanga district produces $40,000,000 worth of copper every year, half of which goes to the United States.

Georges Marquet, international hotel magnate and owner of Belgium's de luxe car manufacture, is a self-made man. He started out penniless, as manager of a gambling hall in the Belgian town of Namur. With money streaming into his pockets from the gambling "casinos," first of Namur and then of Ostend, Marquet started a chain of hotels, the most luxurious in western Europe. From hotels he turned to Pullman cars and came to practically control the International Company des Wagons Lits.

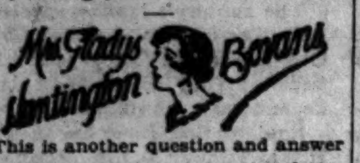
Mother Lifts Her Voice Against the Custom of Spanking

Those readers who wish to be sure to have carols sung in their home this Christmas may be glad to know of a small collection with melody for the voice which can be sent through this department on receipt of 12 cents. Please address Gladys Huntington Bevans, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.



This is another question and answer day. I am sure the question letter will prove much more interesting than the answer:

"My Dear Mrs. Bevans: I am writing to you for advice. Our Parent-Teachers association, at the next meeting, is to have an informal discussion of the question, "To Spank or Not to Spank."

"The first speaker believes in spanking to gain his objective, which is as follows: A desire for peace at home—that is, that the children do not use his tools or touch his books after one warning. And secondly, he insists on unquestioning obedience. That is, he doesn't want his children to shame him in the homes of his friends by refusing to obey, when he asks [or tells them] not to annoy by teasing, or handling ornaments, or by general misbehavior.

"I have the answer to that which is, 'I believe that you could gain your object by training.' I sincerely believe that is true and will try to prove my point by saying that interesting books should be provided, also usable tools, for the children.

"Next, that his motive for desiring obedience is selfish—that is, not for the ultimate good of the child, but for his personal satisfaction, so that his friends will admire his system of discipline, or at least the results of the system.

"Then I'll try to prove that a parent who demands his 'pound of flesh' in obedience to a lot of whimsical commands is not teaching the child self-mastery. [And truly, Mrs. Bevans, I hate an adult who loves to show a child 'who is boss.']

"And as to the conduct away from home, it seems to me that when a child does make these scenes he is poorly trained in his home conduct. And if it is not brave or chivalrous for a husband to beat his wife as a punishment for a mistake, is it a fine thing to whip a baby or child who still has everything to learn?

"I have whipped my daughter, and I confess I am both ashamed and sorry. The things I whipped her for she quit when she wanted to, and the things I studied out and was sensible over, she also quit.

"I have never taken part in this kind of a thing and would like to have you tell me if my argument will be in line with your teaching."

My answer is:

Your arguments are perfectly in line with my ideas, and I think are most logically thought out. They get at the basic reason for obedience without spanking, which is, that the benefit of any course of action must have for its first consideration the good of the child.

It is very true that the people who require unquestioning obedience and use corporal punishment are usually thinking of themselves first. Especially is this true when a child does not act satisfactorily before people. If he does such things then it is nothing new, but is instead a reflection or continuation of his home training. Then how unfair to blame him because he causes his parents chagrin.

I can scarcely think of an additional argument to suggest—unless you would like to make the point that it is a matter of common observation that the much spanked children are never the "good" ones. Parents even complain of it themselves to me. "I spank my child, but it does no good," I often read in my letters.

Chicago Crowds Fill Stores, Sales Records Setting New Marks

The Christmas shopping rush is on. Down lanes hung in scarlet and green, with gay tinsel and brilliant lights, which but a few days ago were the commonplace aisles of shops and department stores, the gay throngs wend their way. It is a happy, holiday crowd; a spending crowd.

"Christmas shopping is a fever," the manager of one loop department store said yesterday, "and it never really spreads until after Thanksgiving." The fact that Thanksgiving came so late this year is the reason the Christmas shopping rush failed to get under way until nearly Dec. 1, he said.

The books of at least two large department stores show record breaking sales made last Friday and Saturday, while the manager of another said purchases made in his store last Saturday alone amounted to more than those made last year on the first three days of December.

General sentiment among store managers is that the early Christmas shopper, who does his buying before Thanksgiving, is a rare bird. "There are a few serious minded individuals who act on our advice to shop early, but the average person really enjoys the last minute scramble," said the manager of one State street store.

Throngs gather early in the morning and continue until late in the afternoon. Store facilities already seem taxed to the utmost. Additional floorwalkers are stationed at aisle intersections to guide bewildered shoppers, while others limit the number of persons crowding into elevators.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Henry M. Blackmer is returning from Europe tomorrow on the Ile de France and will be at the Barclay. Mr. and Mrs. Balfour S. Craib, who have been at French Lick Springs, Ind., for several weeks, returned today to the Savoy-Plaza.

All-Illinois Society of Fine Arts Opens Good Painting Show

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts opened its third annual exhibition of paintings by members Sunday in the Stevens hotel. It is a very moderate exhibition. There is nothing to which exception could be taken, if one discounts the harrowing effect "The Man with a Mallet," by Ivan Le Lorraine Albright, exerts on those of weak nerves. His creation in gray bulk looms threateningly in an atmosphere of general calm.

A few paintings stand out. Stark Davis has an extremely effective "Pheasant," a kingly bird against a silver background. Ben Silbert shows two paintings, one a street and the other a portrait. They are treated alike and in both cases the result of his cool blocked masses gains his canvas great distinction.

Lucy Hartrath has two stunning landscapes, the "October in the Hills" is possibly the more picturesque. Pauline Palmer has a delicious portrait of a little girl with her doll, "In the Window."

Gerald A. Frank shows a stunning panel of flowers, "Floral," and Anna Lynch has a superb canvas in her "Gaity." Nellie A. Knopf has two striking paintings and Irma Rene Koen has a delicate harbor scene in "The Peaceful Harbor." While on the subject of water, look at Charles E. Hallberg's tranquil and beautiful lake scene, "Summer Evenings," and the group of vivid water colors by Frederic Dalrymple.

Among the other artists who help the success of the exhibit are Ralph Fisher Skelton, Edna Gognild, Kate A. Townsend, Ethel Spears, Harry L. Timmins, Alice Mae Jackson, William H. Eppens, Richard Chase, Charles H. Kellner, Harold H. Betts, Roy H. Collins, Charles P. Killgore and Signe Palmblad.

The exhibition will continue to Dec. 15.

"Paris Bound" Will Help Infant Welfare Society

The Kenwood Social Service club, which contributes to the support of the Providence station of the Infant Welfare society, is giving its annual theater benefit this evening, a performance of "Paris Bound," at the Harris theater. Mrs. Harold K. Gibson is president of the club. A special feature of the benefit this year is the souvenir program for which members have obtained advertising in which they appear as models for wearing apparel, in automobiles, and buying groceries and other commodities. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bollenbacher are taking their guests to the Tavern for dinner before the performance, and others giving dinner parties include Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kimbrough, Mrs. Harold Wellesley Jones, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, and Mrs. Bernard Newman.

EZRA MEEKER, 97, DIES IN SEATTLE; FAMED PIONEER

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 3.—(AP)—That picturesque and kindly pioneer, Ezra Meeker, who had the heart of a youth despite his 97 years, laid aside his burden here today for his final rest. He died at a Seattle hotel after an illness of several months.

The northwest was home to Meeker. He brought his wife and seven weeks old child west over the old Oregon trail in 1852 when he was 21. He planned to make a second automobile trip over the trail but was forced to enter a Detroit hospital as a result of his first illness.

Four children, 15 grandchildren, and 20 great-grandchildren survive Meeker. He was born at Huntsville, O., Dec. 29, 1830.

WILLIAM CLARK ESTEE, 73 years old, for 50 years an Aurora banker, twelve years as president of the Merchants National bank, died yesterday. He was born June 6, 1855, at Leroy, N. Y.

Hold Funeral Services Tomorrow for H. A. Haugan

Funeral services for Henry A. Haugan, chairman of the board of the State Bank of Chicago, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Wellington Avenue Congregational church, 617 Wellington avenue. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery. Mr. Haugan died on Friday on a Santa Fé train while en route with Mrs. Haugan to California. They were to have met their son, Henry Jr., who had returned from South America. The body will arrive in Chicago this morning and will be taken to the funeral home at 1253 North Clark street, where it will lie in state from tonight until 1 p. m. tomorrow.

CHILE BATTLES TO HALT DISEASE IN QUAKE ZONES

Bury and Burn Bodies Without Identification.

BY JOHN LIVINGSTONE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 3.—The city of Talca, most of which was laid in ruins Friday night by the earthquake which shook up all of Chile, today suffered further when a driving rain hampered relief workers trying to aid the sick and injured. The entire population is camping in the streets. The total dead throughout Chile is now estimated at 226.

Parliament today sanctioned the government act in granting $240,000 in cash to distribute among the homeless in Talca, $3,600,000 for reconstruction, and $120,000 for repairs to government buildings. The national treasury will finance the scheme.

Medical authorities have taken measures to prevent hygienic conditions from growing worse. Bodies of the dead are being burned without identification in an effort to prevent diseases among the survivors. The chief of the health service, Torres Bulnes, has obtained permission to bury the bodies of seventy-two dead without further identification.

Fear Typhoid Epidemic.

It is feared an epidemic of typhoid may develop on account of the shortage of water. School examinations will be suspended in the whole province.

Eye witnesses who have just returned from Talca say the principal street was one long mass of ruins. Buildings on both sides of the street were converted into a mass of débris, filling a great part of the central thoroughfare. All the churches were destroyed. The cathedral, situated in the principal plaza, shows wide fissures in the side walls, while the roof toppled, filling the interior.

The cemetery is a tragic sight. Pieces of the dead are intermingled with marble slabs and tiles, and pillars were smashed by the force of the shock. No one is allowed to enter the cemetery. This measure was taken after ghouls, during the first panic, tried to rob the dead.

Army Headquarters Destroyed.

The army headquarters, nearby, where regiments of artillery are billeted, was destroyed. Soldiers have organized gangs, who go through the streets maintaining order and safeguarding the population.

Meantime, occasional tremors keep the population awake and on their guard, fearful of another quake.

The American owned Chile Telephone company has started a relief fund with $12,000.

Coolidge Extends Condolences.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—President Coolidge and the American Red Cross extended condolences to Chile today for the havoc wrought by the destructive earthquakes. While the President's expression was sent to President Ibanez of Chile, the Red Cross addressed its cablegram to the Chilean Red Cross, with an offer of assistance to those suffering.

Girl, in Cell, Blames Youths for Robbery Idea

It was the fickleness of her Chicago sweetheart which impelled Dorothy Bakker, 19 years old, to take $2,100 from her employer, Mrs. Nellie Bauer, a modiste of 11330 Lowe avenue, the girl explained yesterday in Jefferson Market prison, New York, where she is held for extradition. "He loved me, but he left me for my best girl friend," said Dorothy. "Mrs. Bauer's little daughter showed me where the money was hidden. The next day I took it and started for New York to forget my troubles."

$50,000 Gems Stolen from Auto, Salesman Reports

Lawson L. Jaffe, salesman for S. Wechter & Co., wholesale jewelers at 159 North State street, told the Rogers Park police yesterday that thieves had broken the window of his sedan, parked in front of his home at 7519 Parkhurst avenue, reached inside, and taken a grip containing set and unset stones worth $50,000. The jewels were insured, Jaffe said. The salesman is 24 years old and has been with the firm two years.

Rosa Ponselle's Voice on Air Thrills Elmer

Good Programs Abundant in Ether Waves.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

First among last evening's great programs was Rosa Ponselle, the Metropolitan Opera company's soprano, as guest soloist on the New York 8:30 to 9:30 orchestral concert through W-G-N. And if you missed hearing this singer, I am sorry. She flashed on the scene with the high unaccompanied introductory notes of "Peace, O My Lord" from Verdi's "The Force of Destiny," which number took on the fervor of great grand opera such as we rarely hear nowadays.

In the Queen of Heaven aria from "Norma" [Bellini], she was assisted by a chorus from the Metropolitan Opera company, in addition to the orchestra accompaniment, and this sympathetic music became even more lovely. Her group of three miscellaneous songs displayed the greatness of this artist outside the field of opera—in the Swiss Echo, as was the case in her arias, she made the vowel vocalizes not technical vocalizes but tones of musical expression. Her closing number was the Habanera from "Carmen," also with chorus, and this was sung more acceptibly than a Spaniard might sing it—not overly dramatic, but beautifully musical.

Eugene Goossens, English modernistic composer, was the guest orchestral director, but, strange to say, not one of Mr. Goossens' compositions was played. The three orchestral numbers directed by Mr. Goossens were characterized by speed, and brilliance.

Next in importance, the Paulist choir of Chicago, Eugene F. O'Malley directing, WLS, 9:30 to 10:15. Motets, hymns, and sacred numbers of varied types and periods, comprised this program, and in the singing one felt the seriousness of purpose and the carefulness of the choir's training.

The choral program of madrigals and part songs from New York through WMAQ, 7:30 to 8, was a choice broadcast of the evening. This concert, though lighter than that of the Paulist choir, was decidedly attractive.

The evening's outstanding instrumental display was the playing of "Hungarian Fantasy" [Gooshman] by Olda Jirousek, cellist, during the joint recital with Herbert Johnson, pianist, W-G-N, 9:30 to 10.

Forest Park Will Have $500,000 Lighting System

Forest Park is to have a $500,000 lighting system in operation by July 1, 1929. A contract for the installation has just been let and work is to begin at once. The Forest Park Chamber of commerce is authority for the statement that the main business streets will be more brilliantly lighted than any thoroughfare in Chicago except State street.

LOOK FOR GRAFT LEAK IN SEWERS AT JERSEY CITY

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Testifying before the Case legislative investigating committee here today, Paul W. Paulsen, general manager of the Hammond Construction company, builder of a part of the Jersey City sewage system, declared he paid $15,827 to a man who advised him that Thomas J. Brogan, corporation counsel of Jersey City, should receive something for obtaining a reduction in the price of sewer pipe. Paulsen said he also gave $2,500 to the Democratic campaign fund.

The Case investigation committee was appointed by the New Jersey legislature to sift charges of wholesale graft and political chicanery under the administration of Frank Hague, Democratic boss of New Jersey and mayor of Jersey City.

Paulsen was one of the principal witnesses for the state in the trial of former Borough President Connolly of Queens and Frederick Seely, former Queens engineer, in connection with sewer construction in Queens.

The sewer system authorized by the Hague administration was designed to protect Jersey City's water supply from pollution from the sewage of Boonton and Dover. This sewer has never been used.

Mr. Paulsen said he had tried to get competitive pipe prices, but had discovered that he could buy from only one company.

KNAAK 'SUSPECT' IN ASYLUM DAY GIRL WAS BURNED

Ezra MacVeagh, alias James Kelley, who is being held at San Antonio, Tex., as an army deserter, was in the insane asylum at Elgin on the night of Oct. 29, when Miss Elfrieda Knaak was found fatally burned in the police station of Lake Bluff. The records of the Elgin asylum show that MacVeagh was committed there under the name of James MacVeagh on Oct. 27, and escaped Nov. 9.

Recommendation that MacVeagh be returned to Lake Forest for questioning has been made by Chief Lester Tiffany of the Lake Forest police to State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county. Chief Tiffany, who is in San Antonio, telegraphed yesterday that be believed MacVeagh may be implicated in the slugging of Edna Kelley, 26 year old Lake Forest school teacher. The slugging took place the night of Nov. 10 after MacVeagh had escaped from Elgin. MacVeagh has insisted that he was implicated in the burning of Miss Knaak.

HARRIMAN ENDS BUSINESS DEALS WITH RUSSIANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—William Averill Harriman, who was one of the first Americans to resume commercial relations with Russia after the bolshevik revolution, believing that the soviets meant to do business squarely with the outside world, announced today:

"I have entirely abandoned my Russian business." He refused to give details of his disappointment in Russia and said he believed his withdrawal was 'eloquent enough.'" Regarding upper Silesia, both on the German and Polish side, he said:

"I am entirely satisfied with my holdings there, although the price of zinc is at a low ebb, at the moment. There is no truth in the report that I plan to extend my zinc interests to central Europe. I am negotiating the possible purchase of steel foundries, but that business is still unsettled."

FLOORWALKER . 7

A happy hour of dance music accompanies the Radio Floorwalker as he skips from shop to shop and from counter to counter observing bits of shopping wisdom as he goes. Between the numbers of racy dance music he passes his gems of advice to shoppers on to you. Listen! It's worth your time. 7 o'clock.

BARDEN . . 10:25

He's a big man. He's big in more than one respect. One of the foremost of radio tenors looks like one of the foremost contenders for the heavyweight crown. But listen: sweetness, fullness, and a charming range are his, in addition to an indescribable something that belongs only to Frank Barden. He sings at 10:25.

The Messiah, 9:30 a. m.

The Marshall Field & Co. Choral Society will present a great performance of the second half of Handel's "Messiah." This, the most famous of oratorios, begins at 9:30 a. m.

FOR KIDS . . . .

Yes, for real kids. A regular circus right on the air. No tents, maybe, or trapeze performers, but all the fun and excitement in the Air Castle and in Uncle Quin's Punch and Judy Show. 5:30 and 6 o'clock.

Details of Today's W-G-N Program

HELP FAMILY WHERE MOTHER TRIED TO DIE

On Friday a story in THE TRIBUNE told of the sad plight of the family of John Paweizik, 1133 Cherry street. While thousands of Chicagoans were enjoying their turkey dinners Paweizik and his eight children were making a frugal meal of meat and potatoes go as far as it would. Mrs. Mary Paweizik, mother of the children, was in a hospital. She had tried to drown herself on Wednesday because of her poverty, but had been rescued.

The hearts of a number of readers were touched. No contributions had been asked, but Myrtle Fisk, 8101 Dante avenue, and several of her friends forwarded $11.25 with a request that it be given to the family. G. M. Busse of Algoma, Wis., sent $1 and Alfred W. Penner, 208 North Wells street, a check for $5.

Yesterday all the contributions—a total of $19.25—were turned over to Mrs. Paweizik. Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the West Chicago avenue station said he would find a job for her oldest son, that he may add to the father's $22 a week in support of the family. The Good Fellows will take care of them on Christmas and Mrs. Paweizik has promised not to try again to kill herself.

Was it new last Christmas?

If your radio set was a Christmas present last year, and is still on its first tubes, then it needs a brand new set of RCA Radiotrons. Change all the tubes. Old ones left in are a drag on the new ones.

Eyebrows Lend Character to the Countenance

by Antoinette Donnelly

A correspondent asks about the advisability of having her very pale eyebrows dyed.

Very light or white eyebrows are rarely becoming. One sees on a face with either of this type of eyebrow the real importance of eyebrows. There's a certain unfinished look to the face when they are colorless.

But about having them dyed—I wouldn't advise it unless I intrusted them to a skilled practitioner, for the reason that the line is fine and unless the shade is in perfect harmony with eyes and hair it gives the most peculiar look. Not long ago I observed the effect of eyebrows dyed at the same time the hair was treated. The color in each was identical, but the effect was of very black eyebrows and very dark hair. With the surrounding skin surface, naturally the dyed color of the eyebrows was thrown up sharper. Only by having the brows trimmed down to a fine line was the almost sinister look dissipated and then the woman was most unhappy until time dulled the shade.

So, when you're treating eyebrows you have to consider other things than merely that slender growth of hair. The expression of the face may be noticeably changed. But, of course, one can improve colorless outlines, and the eyebrow pencil for the amateur brow has the attraction of more or hand is recommended. The dyed eyeless permanency, which the pencil has not. But it isn't much of a trick to call the pencil into daily service.

A light hand and a deft touch are required even with the eyebrow pencil: also an understanding of the color to use. One cannot advise, without seeing a person, either a black or a brown pencil. With a good eye, though, and perhaps a kind friend, one can determine for herself the shade best suited to her coloring.

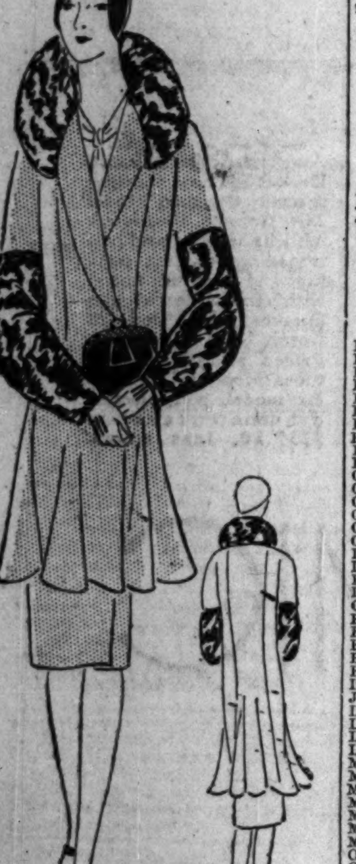
BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

M. C. S.: YOU MUST FIRST CORrect the oily condition of your skin. In many cases oily skin is associated with digestive disturbances. Rich and greasy foods, sugars and starches should be eaten sparingly. Eat plenty of green vegteables and fruits and drink from six to eight glasses of water daily. Send a stamped addressed envelop for futher suggestions.

The Jacket Ensemble Steps Out to Luncheon



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Verily doth the shorn lamb temper the wind to the goddesses—of Fashion. Yet, in the midst of this vogue for shaved lamb and all its fraternity of flat and curly pelts, one is never permitted to overlook the sustained popularity of fox. Of course, Reynard has changed his political beliefs. He no longer appears in the blonde tones so popular last season—there are a few exceptions to this statement—but has gone in for extreme patriotism of apparel. What does one mean by this? Merely that fox in the red and soft blue tones is of permanent interest to the ultra fashionable.

With the red fox trimming so effective on wraps of black, navy blue and hunter's green, we are sufficiently familiar. A more novel note is struck, consequently, by the fox in that other patriotic color of soft blue. Here is a fur in the very vanguard of fashion and whether as an adjunct to the coat of black or navy blue, it is equally significant of an advanced fashion preference.

Passing from the choice of fur to another province, one must comment upon the popularity of the jacket ensemble completed by blouse of silk or crêpe. Long jackets are dining at every fashionable resort. Some of these are belted and some show the moulded bodice with flaring section below. In either case they depend on some original manipulation of fur for their final cachet.

An example of this is encountered in today's stunning imported jacket ensemble. Made of black broadcloth, it is collared and cuffed—and O, such cuffs!—with black caracul. A white satin tuckin blouse with scarf collar, pumps of black suede, hat of black felt with inset of white hatters' blush, and black antelope pouch bag complete the picture.

A A A
A MONEY MAKING OPPORTUNITY FOR TEN MEN.

Our sales campaign, which embraces a program for the next five years, is in full swing.

Real estate buyers of today, more than ever, want to see what they are getting for their money. Demonstration counts with them more than anything else.

Krenn & Dato Salesmen sell through demonstration. You can make more money through this method of selling than in any other way. Consider the following facts:

1. Four types of transportation facilities within 2½ blks. from property.
2. Sewer, water, sidewalks, gas, electricity, paving, trees, and shrubs, included in the purchase price, now being installed.
3. Terms of sale for this type of property unusually low: 20% down, 1% per month.
4. To the salesmen we offer advertising, an excellent remuneration plan, and an organization spirit, the strongest in the City of Chicago.

Your investigation is welcome. Apply Room 201, 1009 N. State-st.

TWO GOOD REASONS FOR Your Attending Tonight's Discussion.

1. A Chance to Learn valuable pointers that can make your selling job easier and add greatly to your earnings this month and throughout the coming year.

MR. W. E. BILHEIMER,

The Man Who Has Shown 30,000 People the way to bigger incomes will cover in his talk tonight on "The Greatest Sale in the World," all phases of selling. As consulting sales manager for some of the largest and most prominent companies, he is well qualified to discuss salesmanship in practically every field of selling. For several years he was President of the world's largest salesmanship club with a membership of 3,600 men and women. Regardless of what you are selling, you will want to hear him. He can give you facts that will apply to your particular business and which will show immediate results.

2. A Chance to Earn.

After his talk on salesmanship, Mr. Bilheimer will explain the money-making possibilities of a certain sales opportunity which is attracting wide attention among Chicago sales people. Be sure to hear him this evening.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

The best suggestion we can make to any property owner who desires a second mortgage is to shop around at half a dozen or more places to be convinced that the rates charged by the Chicago Morris Plan Bank as agent are not only the bedrock rates, but they are at least 25% lower. You may observe that there are some very low rates quoted but attached to the rate are certain rather rigid requirements, and if you cannot meet these requirements the rate goes up.

The rates charged by the Chicago Morris Plan Bank as agent are flat; that is to say 6% interest and a commission which figures out at:

65 per $1,000 for 2 years.
90 per $1,000 for 3 years.

Almost One-Third

Loans $10 to $300

This old established organization by reason of large volume, efficient management and ample capital is now making a substantial reduction in the cost of loans up to $300 by lowering the interest rate from the legal maximum of 3½ per cent a month on unpaid principal balances to 2½ per cent.

FOR EXAMPLE ON LOANS
Payable in 20 Equal Monthly Payments.
You Save as Follows:
$ 50 Loan—You Save $ 5.25
100 Loan—You Save 10.50
200 Loan—You Save 21.00
300 Loan—You Save 31.50
THE SAME PROPORTIONATE SAVING ON OTHER AMOUNTS.

Loans may be paid in full at any time and you will only be charged for the actual time you keep the money. You get the full amount in cash—no deductions of any kind. If it is not convenient to call personally, phone the offices nearest you, and we will send a representative to your home.

NO INDORSERS—NO PUBLICITY.
QUICK SERVICE.

The Twenty Payment Plan

$100—$200—$300.

We will lend you $10 to $300 on your furniture, piano, radio, automobile, etc. You keep possession of your property and repay the loan in easy monthly payments.

FOR EXAMPLE:
$ 50. MONTHLY PAYMENT $ 2.50
$100. MONTHLY PAYMENT $ 5.00
$200. MONTHLY PAYMENT $10.00
$300. MONTHLY PAYMENT $15.00
OTHER AMOUNTS IN SAME PROPORTION.
WITH INTEREST PAYABLE MONTHLY.

Pay faster if you desire. You are charged interest only for actual time you keep the money. Of course, the faster you pay the less it costs. You get the full amount of loan in cash. Pay off at any time.

No endorsers required. No fees, no red tape. No inquiries made of your friends, relatives or employer. Quick, courteous service guaranteed; costs nothing to investigate. A friendly human organization established over forty-one years.
